Like doth quit like, and Measure still for Measure.
Ib. [411]
- 27 They say best men are moulded out of faults,
And, for the most, become much more the better
For being a little bad Ib. [440]
- 28 In sooth I know not why I am so sad:
It wearies me, you say it wearies you;
But how I caught it, found it, or came by it,
What stuff 'tis made of, whereof it is born,
I am to learn The Merchant of Venice, I. i. 1
- 29 There, where your argosies with portly sail,—
Like signiors and rich burghers on the flood,
Or, as it were, the pageants of the sea,—
Do overpeer the petty traffickers. Ib. 9
- 30 Nature hath fram'd strange fellows in her time:
Some that will evermore peep through their eyes
And laugh like parrots at a bagpiper:
And other of such vinegar aspect
That they'll not show their teeth in way of smile,
Though Nestor swear the jest be laughable. Ib. 51
- 31 I hold the world but as the world, Gratiano;
A stage where every man must play a part,
And mine a sad one. Ib. 77
- 32 Why should a man, whose blood is warm within,
Sit like his grandsire cut in alabaster? Ib. 83
- 33 There are a sort of men whose visages
Do cream and mantle like a standing pond. Ib. 88
- 34 As who should say, 'I am Sir Oracle,
And when I ope my lips let no dog bark!
O, my Antonio, I do know of these,
That therefore only are reputed wise,
For saying nothing. Ib. 93
- 35 Fish not, with this melancholy bait,
For this fool gudgeon, this opinion. Ib. 101
- 36 Silence is only commendable
In a neat's tongue dried and a maid not vendible.
Ib. 111

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 Gratiano speaks an infinite deal of nothing, more than any man in all Venice. His reasons are as two grains of wheat, hid in two bushels of chaff: you shall seek all day ere you find them; and, when you have them, they are not worth the search.
The Merchant of Venice, I. i. 114
- 2 My purse, my person, my extremest means
Lie all unlock'd to your occasions. Ib. [139]
- 3 Sometimes from her eyes
I did receive fair speechless messages. Ib. [164]
- 4 By my troth, Nerissa, my little body is awarey of this great world. Ib. ii. 1
- 5 They are as sick that surfeit with too much, as they that starve with nothing. Ib. [5]
- 6 Superfluity comes sooner by white hairs, but competency lives longer. Ib. [9]
- 7 If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do, chapels had been churches, and poor men's cottages princes' palaces. Ib. [13]
- 8 It is a good divine that follows his own instructions; I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done, than be one of the twenty to follow mine own teaching. Ib. [15]
- 9 He doth nothing but talk of his horse. Ib. [43]
- 10 God made him, and therefore let him pass for a man. Ib. [59]
- 11 If I should marry him, I should marry twenty husbands. Ib. [66]
- 12 I think he bought his doublet in Italy, his round hose in France, his bonnet in Germany, and his behaviour everywhere. Ib. [78]
- 13 I will do anything, Nerissa, ere I will be married to a sponge. Ib. [105]
- 14 I dote on his very absence. Ib. [118]
- 15 Ships are but boards, sailors but men; there be land-rats and water-rats, land-thieves and water-thieves. Ib. iii. [22]
- 16 I will buy with you, sell with you, talk with you, walk with you, and so following; but I will not eat with you, drink with you, nor pray with you. What news on the Rialto? Ib. [36]
- 17 How like a fawning publican he looks!
I hate him for he is a Christian;
But more for that in low simplicity
He lends out money gratis, and brings down
The rate of usance here with us in Venice.
If I can catch him once upon the hip,
I will feed fat the ancient grudge I bear him.
He hates our sacred nation, and he rails,
Even there where merchants most do congregate,
On me, my bargains, and my well-won thrift.
Ib. [42]
- 18 The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose. Ib. [99]
- 19 A goodly apple rotten at the heart.
O, what a goodly outside falsehood hath! Ib. [102]
- 20 Signior Antonio, many a time and oft
In the Rialto you have rated me. Ib. [107]
- 21 For sufferance is the badge of all our tribe. Ib. [111]
- 22 'Hath a dog money? Is it possible
A cur can lend three thousand ducats?' or Shall I bend low, and in a bondman's key,
With bated breath, and whispering humbleness,
Say this:—
'Fair sir, you spet on me on Wednesday last;
You spurn'd me such a day; another time
You call'd me dog; and for these courtesies
I'll lend you thus much moneys?'
The Merchant of Venice, I. iii. [122]
- 23 For when did friendship take
A breed for barren metal of his friend? Ib. [134]
- 24 O father Abram! what these Christians are,
Whose own hard dealing teaches them suspect
The thoughts of others! Ib. [161]
- 25 I like not fair terms and a villain's mind. Ib. [180]
- 26 Mislike me not for my complexion,
The shadow'd livery of the burnished sun.
Ib. ii. i. 1
- 27 An honest man's son,—or rather an honest woman's son;—for, indeed, my father did something smack, something grow to, he had a kind of taste;—well, my conscience says, 'Launcelot, budge not.' 'Budge,' says the fiend. 'Budge not,' says my conscience. 'Conscience,' say I, 'you counsel well;' 'fiend,' say I, 'you counsel well.' Ib. ii. [16]
- 28 O heavens! this is my true-begotten father. Ib. [36]
- 29 An honest exceeding poor man. Ib. [54]
- 30 The very staff of my age, my very prop. Ib. [71]
- 31 It is a wise father that knows his own child. Ib. [83]
- 32 Truth will come to light; murder cannot be hid long. Ib. [86]
- 33 Lord worshipped might he be! What a beard hast thou got! Ib. [101]
- 34 There is some ill a-brewing towards my rest,
For I did dream of money-bags to-night. Ib. v. 17
- 35 Then it was not for nothing that my nose fell a-bleeding on Black Monday. Ib. [24]
- 36 And the vile squealing of the wry-neck'd fife. Ib. [30]
- 37 But love is blind, and lovers cannot see
The pretty follies that themselves commit. Ib. vi. 36
- 38 What! must I hold a candle to my shames? Ib. 41
- 39 Men that hazard all
Do it in hope of fair advantages:
A golden mind stoops not to shows of dross.
Ib. vii. 18
- 40 Pause there, Morocco. Ib. 24
- 41 Young in limbs, in judgment old. Ib. 71
- 42 My daughter! O my ducats! O my daughter!
Fled with a Christian! O my Christian ducats!
Ib. viii. 15
- 43 The fool multitude, that choose by show. Ib. ix. 26
- 44 Like the martlet,
Builds in the weather on the outward wall,
Even in the force and road of casualty.
I will not choose what many men desire,
Because I will not jump with common spirits
And rank me with the barbarous multitude. Ib. 28

- 1 Let none presume
To wear an undeserved dignity
Of that estates, degrees, and offices
Were not deriv'd corruptly, and that clear honour
Were purchased by the merit of the wearer!
The Merchant of Venice, II i 39
- 2 The portrait of a blinking idiot
Ib 54
- 3 The fire seven times tried this Seven times tried that judgment is
That did never choose amiss
Some there be that shadows kiss,
Such have but a shadow's bliss
Ib 63
- 4 Thus hath the candle sing'd the moth
O, these deliberate fools!
Ib 79
- 5 The ancient saying is no heresy
'Hanging and wiving goes by destiny'
Ib 82
- 6 The Goodwins, I think they call the place, a very dangerous flat and fatal where the carcasses of many a tall ship lie buried as they say, if my gossip Report be an honest woman of her word
Ib III i [4]
- 7 Let him look to his bond
Ib [51, 52, 54]
- 8 Hath not a Jew eyes? hath not a Jew hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions? fed with the same food, hurt with the same weapons, subject to the same diseases, healed by the same means, warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer, as a Christian is? If you prick us, do we not bleed? if you tickle us, do we not laugh?
if you poison us, do we not die? and if you wrong us, shall we not revenge?
Ib [63]
- 9 The villany you teach me I will execute, and it shall go hard but I will better the instruction
Ib [76]
- 10 Thou stick'st a dagger in me
Ib [118]
- 11 TUBAL
One of them showed me a ring that he had of your daughter for a monkey
SHYLOCK
I would not have given it for a wilderness of monkeys
Ib [126]
- 12 He makes a swan like end
Fading in music
Ib II 44
- 13 Tell me where is fancy bred,
Or in the heart or in the head?
How begot how nourished?
Reply
It is engender'd in the eyes,
With gazing fed, and fancy dies
In the cradle where it lies
Let us all ring fancy's knell
I'll begin it,—Ding, dong, bell
Ib 63
- 14 So may the outward shows be least themselves
The world is still deceived with ornament
In law, what plea so tainted and corrupt
But being season'd with a gracious voice,
Obscures the show of evil? In religion,
What damned error, but some sober brow
Will bless it and approve it with a text,
Hiding the grossness with fair ornament?
Ib 73
- 15 Ornament is but the guiled shore
To a most dangerous sea, the berutious scarf
Veiling an Indian beauty, in a word
The seeming truth which cunning times put on
To entrap the wisest
The Merchant of Venice, III ii 97
- 16 Thou pale and common drudge
'Tween man and man
Ib 103
- 17 Rash embrac'd despair,
And shuddering fear, and green-eyed jealousy
Ib 109
- 18 What demi-god
Hath come so near creation?
Ib 113
- 19 An unlesson'd girl, unschooled, unpractis'd,
Happy in this, she is not yet so old
But she may learn, happier than this,
She is not bred so dull but she can learn
Ib 160

Ib [163]
- 33 FORTIA
Then must the Jew be merciful
SHYLOCK
On what compulsion must I? tell me that.
FORTIA
The quality of mercy is not strain'd,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath: it is twice bless'd,
It bleaseth him that gives and him that takes
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown,
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings,
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute to God himself,
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice: Therefore, Jew,
Though justice be thy plea, consider this,
That in the course of justice none of us
Should see salvation: we do pray for mercy,
And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
The deeds of mercy.
Ib [182]

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 My deeds upon my head! I crave the law.
The Merchant of Venice, iv. i. [206]
- 2 Wrest once the law to your authority:
 To do a great right, do a little wrong. Ib. [215]
- 3 'Twill be recorded for a precedent,
 And many an error by the same example
 Will rush into the state. Ib. [220]
- 4 A Daniel come to judgment! yea, a Daniel!
 O wise young judge, how I do honour thee!
Ib. [223]
- 5 An oath, an oath, I have an oath in heaven:
 Shall I lay perjury upon my soul?
 No, not for Venice. Ib. [228]
- 6 I charge you by the law,
 Whereof you are a well-deserving pillar,
 Proceed to judgment. Ib. [238]
- 7 Is it so nominated in the bond?
Ib. [260]
- 8 'Tis not in the bond. Ib. [263]
- 9 For herein Fortune shows herself more kind
 Than is her custom: it is still her use
 To let the wretched man outlive his wealth,
 To view with hollow eye and wrinkled brow
 An age of poverty. Ib. [268]
- 10 The court awards it, and the law doth give it.
Ib. [301]
- 11 Thyself shalt see the act;
 For, as thou urgest justice, be assur'd
 Thou shalt have justice, more than thou desir'st.
Ib. [315]
- 12 A second Daniel, a Daniel, Jew!
 Now, infidel, I have thee on the hip. Ib. [334]
- 13 I thank thee, Jew, for teaching me that word.
Ib. [342]
- 14 You take my house when you do take the prop
 That doth sustain my house; you take my life
 When you do take the means whereby I live. Ib. [376]
- 15 He is well paid that is well satisfied. Ib. [416]
- 16 You taught me first to beg, and now methinks
 You teach me how a beggar should be answer'd.
Ib. [440]
- 17 LORENZO:
 In such a night
 Troilus methinks mounted the Trojan walls,
 And sigh'd his soul toward the Grecian tents,
 Where Cressid lay that night.
 JESSICA:
 In such a night
 Did Thisbe fearfully o'ertrip the dew,
 And saw the lion's shadow ere himself,
 And ran dismay'd away.
 LORENZO:
 In such a night
 Stood Dido with a willow in her hand
 Upon the wild sea-banks, and waft her love
 To come again to Carthage.
 JESSICA:
 In such a night
 Medea gather'd the enchanted herbs
 That did renew old Æson. Ib. v. i. 3
- 18 How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this bank!
 Here will we sit, and let the sounds of music
 Creep in our ears: soft stillness and the night
 Become the touches of sweet harmony.
 Sit, Jessica: look, how the floor of heaven
- Is thick inlaid with patines of bright gold:
 There's not the smallest orb which thou behold'st
 But in his motion like an angel sings,
 Still quiring to the young-eyed cherubins;
 Such harmony is in immortal souls;
 But, whilst this muddy vesture of decay
 Doth grossly close it in, we cannot hear it.
The Merchant of Venice, v. i. 54
- 19 I am never merry when I hear sweet music. Ib. 69
- 20 Therefore the poet
 Did feign that Orpheus drew trees, stones, and floods;
 Since nought so stockish, hard, and full of rage,
 But music for the time doth change his nature.
 The man that hath no music in himself,
 Nor is not mov'd with concord of sweet sounds,
 Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils;
 The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
 And his affections dark as Erebus:
 Let no such man be trusted. Ib. 79
- 21 PORTIA:
 How far that little candle throws his beams!
 So shines a good deed in a naughty world.
 NERISSA:
 When the moon shone, we did not see the candle.
 PORTIA:
 So doth the greater glory dim the less:
 A substitute shines brightly as a king
 Until a king be by, and then his state
 Empties itself, as doth an inland brook
 Into the main of waters. Ib. 90
- 22 The crow doth sing as sweetly as the lark
 When neither is attended, and I think
 The nightingale, if she should sing by day,
 When every goose is cackling, would be thought
 No better a musician than the wren.
 How many things by season season'd are
 To their right praise and true perfection!
 Peace, ho! the moon sleeps with Endymion,
 And would not be awak'd! Ib. 102

- 30 I had rather than forty shillings I had my Book of Songs and Sonnets here. Ib. [205]
- 31 I will make an end of my dinner; there's pippins and seese to come. Ib. ii. [12]
- 32 'Convey,' the wise it call. 'Steal!' foh! a fico for the phrase! Ib. iii. [30]
- 33 Here will be an old abusing of God's patience, and the king's English. Ib. iv. [5]
- 34 We burn daylight. Ib. ii. i. [54]
- 35 There's the humour of it. Ib. [139]
- 36 Faith, thou hast some crotchets in thy head now.
Ib. [158]
- 37 Why, then the world's mine oyster,
 Which I with sword will open. Ib. ii. 2

Than that which withering on the virgin thorn
Grows, lives, and dies, in single blessedness
Ib 76
- 18 Ay me! for aught that ever I could read,
Could ever hear by tale or history,
The course of true love never did run smooth
Ib 132
- 19 O hell! to choose love by another's eye
Ib 140
- 20 If there were a sympathy in choice,
War, death, or sickness did lay siege to it,
Making it momentary as a sound,
Swift as a shadow, short as any dream,
Brief as the lightning in the collied night,
That, in a splen, unfolds both heaven and earth,
And ere a man hath power to say, 'Behold!'
The jaws of darkness do devour it up
So quick bright things come to confusion
Ib 141
- 21 Your tongue's sweet air
More tuneable than lark to shepherd's ear,
When wheat is green, when hawthorn buds appear
Ib 183

And hang a pearl in every cowslip's ear.
Ib 14
- 36 The middle summer's spring
Ib 82
- 37 Therefore the moon, the governess of floods,
Pale in her anger, washes all the air,
That rheumatic diseases do abound
And thorough this distemperature we see
The seasons alter hoary-headed frosts
I all in the fresh lap of the crimson rose.
Ib 103
- 38 Since once I sat upon a promontory,
And heard a mermaid on a dolphin's back
Uttering such dulcet and harmonious breath,
That the rude sea grew civil at her song,
And certain stars shot madly from their spheres,
To hear the sea-maid's music
Ib 149
- 39 But I might see young Cupid's fiery shaft
Quench'd in the chaste beams of the wat'ry moon,
And the imperial votaress passed on,
In maiden meditation, fancy-free
Yet mark'd I where the bolt of Cupid fell
It fell upon a little western flower,
Before milk-white, now purple with love's wound,
And maidens call it, Love-in-idleness
Ib 161

Ib 175
- 41 I know a bank whereon the wild thyme blows,
Where oxlips and the nodding violet grows,
Quite over-canopied with luscious woodbine,
With sweet musk-roses, and with eglantine
There sleeps Titania some time of the night,
Lull'd in these flowers with dances and delight,
And there the snake throws her enamell'd skin,
Weed wide enough to wrap a fairy in
Ib 249
- 42 Some to kill cankers in the musk-rose buds,
Some war with rere mice for their leathern wings,
To make my small elves coats

- 2 This green plot shall be our stage, this hawthornbrake our tiring-house. Ib. III. i. [3]
- 3 God shield us!—a lion among ladies, is a most dreadful thing; for there is not a more fearful wild-fowl than your lion living. Ib. [32]
- 4 What hempen home-spuns have we swaggering here,
So near the cradle of the fairy queen? Ib. [82]
- 5 Bless thee, Bottom! bless thee! thou art translated.
Ib. [124]
- 6 The throstle with his note so true,
The wren with little quill. Ib. [133]
- 7 As wild geese that the creeping fowler eye,
Or russet-pated choughs, many in sort,
Rising and cawing at the gun's report,
Sever themselves, and madly sweep the sky.
Ib. II. 20
- 8 Lord, what fools these mortals be! Ib. 115
- 9 So we grew together,
Like to a double cherry, seeming parted,
But yet an union in partition,
Two lovely berries moulded on one stem. Ib. 208

- 18 My Oberon! what visions have I seen!
Methought I was enamour'd of an ass. Ib. [82]
- 19 Then, my queen, in silence sad,
Trip we after the night's shade;
We the globe can compass soon,
Swifter than the wandering moon. Ib. [101]
- 20 HIPPOLYTA:
I was with Hercules and Cadmus once,
When in a wood of Crete they bay'd the bear
With hounds of Sparta: never did I hear . . .
So musical a discord, such sweet thunder.
THESEUS:
My hounds are bred out of the Spartan kind,
So flew'd, so sanded; and their heads are hung
With ears that sweep away the morning dew;
Crook-knee'd, and dew-lapp'd like Thessalian bulls;
Slow in pursuit, but match'd in mouth like bells.
Ib. [118]
- 21 Saint Valentine is past:
Begin these wood-birds but to couple now?
A Midsummer Night's Dream, IV. i. [145]
- 22 I have had a dream, past the wit of man to say what dream it was. Ib. [211]
- 23 The eye of man hath not heard, the ear of man hath not seen, man's hand is not able to taste, his tongue to conceive, nor his heart to report, what my dream was. Ib. [218]
- 24 The lunatic, the lover, and the poet,
Are of imagination all compact:
One sees more devils than vast hell can hold,
That is, the madman; the lover, all as frantic,
Sees Helen's beauty in a brow of Egypt:
The poet's eye, in a fine frenzy rolling,
Doth glance from heaven to earth, from earth to heaven;
And, as imagination bodies forth
The forms of things unknown, the poet's pen
Turns them to shapes, and gives to airy nothing
A local habitation and a name.
Such tricks hath strong imagination,
That, if it would but apprehend some joy,
It comprehends some bringer of that joy;
Or in the night, imagining some fear,
How easy is a bush suppos'd a bear! Ib. V. i. 7
- 25 What revels are in hand? Is there no play,
To ease the anguish of a torturing hour? Ib. 36
- 26 Very tragical mirth. Ib. [57]
- 27 For never anything can be amiss,
When simpleness and duty tender it. Ib. [82]
- 28 That is the true beginning of our end.
Consider then we come but in despite.
We do not come as minding to content you,
Our true intent is. All for your delight,
We are not here. Ib. [111]
- 29 Whereat, with blade, with bloody blameful blade,
He bravely broach'd his boiling bloody breast. Ib. [148]
- 30 The best in this kind are but shadows, and the worst are no worse, if imagination amend them. Ib. [215]
- 31 A very gentle beast, and of a good conscience. Ib. [233]
- 32 Well roared, Lion. Ib. [272]
- 33 This passion, and the death of a dear friend, would go near to make a man look sad. Ib. [295]
- 34 The iron tongue of midnight hath told twelve;
Lovers, to bed; 'tis almost fairy time. Ib. [372]
- 35 Now the hungry lion roars,
And the wolf howls the moon;
Whilst the heavy ploughman snores,
All with weary task fordone. Ib. II. 1
- 36 Not a mouse
Shall disturb this hallow'd house:
I am sent with broom before,
To sweep the dust behind the door. Ib. 17
- 37 A victory is twice itself when the achiever brings home full numbers.
Much Ado About Nothing, I. i. [8]
- 38 He hath indeed better bettered expectation than you must expect of me to tell you how. Ib. [15]
- 39 He is a very valiant trencher-man. Ib. [52]

- 1 I see, lady, the gentleman is not in your books
Much Ado About Nothing, I i [79]
- 2 BEATRICE
I wonder that you will still be talking, Signior
Benedick nobody marks you
BENEDICK
What! my dear Lady Disdain, are you yet living?
Ib [121]
- 3 Shall I never see a bachelor of three-score again?
Ib [209]
- 4 BENEDICK
I will live a bachelor.
DON PEDRO
I shall see thee, ere I die, look pale with love.
BENEDICK
With anger, with sickness, or with hunger, my lord, not with love
Ib [256]
- 5 In time the savage bull doth bear the yoke
Ib [271]
- 6 Benedick the married man
Ib [278]
- 7 What need the bridge much broader than the flood?
Ib [326]
- 8 Would it not grieve a woman to be over-mastered with a piece of valiant dust? to make an account of her life to a clod of wayward marl? Ib II i [64]
- 9 Wooing, wedding, and repenting, is as a Scotch jig,
a measure, and a cinque-pace
Ib [77]
- 10 I have a good eye, uncle I can see a church by daylight
Ib [86]
- 11 Speak low, if you speak love
Ib [104]
- 12 Friendship is constant in all other things
Save in the office and affairs of love
Ib [184]
- 13 She speaks poniards, and every word stabs if her breath were as terrible as her terminations, there were no living near her, she would infect to the north star
Ib [257]
- 14 Silence is the perfectest herald of joy I were but little happy, if I could say how much
Ib [319]
- 15 Speak, cousin, or, if you cannot, stop his mouth with a kiss
Ib [322]
- 16 There was a star danced, and under that was I born
Ib [351]
- 17 Lie ten nights awake, carving the fashion of a new doublet
Ib III [18]
- 18 Note this before my notes,
There's not a note of mine that's worth the noting
Ib [57]
- 19 Is it not strange that sheep's guts should hale souls out of men's bodies?
Ib [62]
- 20 Sigh no more, ladies, sigh no more,
Men were deceivers ever,
One foot in sea, and one on shore,
To one thing constant never
Then sigh no more,
But let them go,
And be you blithe and bonny,
Converting all your sounds of woe
Into Hey nonny, nonny
Sing no more ditties, sing no mo
Of dumps so dull and heavy,
The fraud of men was ever so,
Since summer first was leavy.
Ib [65]
- 21 Sits the wind in that corner? Much Ado, II iii [108]
- 22 Doth not the appetite alter? A man loves the meat in his youth that he cannot endure in his age
Ib [258]
- 23 Paper bullets of the brain
Ib [261]
- 24 The world must be peopled When I said I would die a bachelor, I did not think I should live till I were married
Ib [262]
- 25 Disdain and scorn ride sparkling in her eyes
Ib III i 51
- 26 One doth not know
How much an ill word may empoison liking
Ib 85
- 27 Contempt, farewell! and maiden pride, adieu!
No glory lives behind the back of such
And, Benedick, love on, I will requite thee,
Taming my wild heart to thy loving hand
Ib 109
- 28 He hath a heart as sound as a bell, and his tongue is the clapper, for what his heart thinks his tongue speaks
Ib II [12]
- 29 BENEDICK
I have the toothache
- DON PEDRO
What! sigh for the toothache?
Ib [21]
- 30 Well, every one can master a grief but he that has it.
Ib [28]
- 31 A' brushes his hat a mornings, what should that bode?
Ib [41]
- 32 The barber's man hath been seen with him, and the old ornament of his cheek hath already stuffed tennis-balls
Ib [45]
- 33 Are you good men and true?
Ib III i
- 34 To be a well-favoured man is the gift of fortune, but to write and read comes by nature.
Ib [14]
- 35 Well, for your favour, sir, why, give God thanks and make no boast of it, and for your writing and reading, let that appear when there is no need of such vanity You are thought here to be the most senseless and fit man for the constable of the watch
Ib [19]
- 36 You shall comprehend all vagrom men
Ib [25]
- 37 SECOND WATCH
How, if a' will not stand?
DOGBERRY
Why, then, take no note of him, but let him go, and presently call the rest of the watch together, and thank God you are rid of a knave
Ib [28]
- 38 For the watch to babble and to talk is most tolerable and not to be endured.
Ib [36]
- 39 If they make you not then the better answer, you may say they are not the men you took them for
Ib [49]
- 40 The most peaceable way for you, if you do take a thief, is, to let him show himself what he is and steal out of your company
Ib [61]
- 41 I know that Deformed
Ib [132]
- 42 I thank God, I am as honest as any man living, that is an old man and no honestest than I
Ib v [15]
- 43 Comparisons are odorous
Ib [18]

- 1 If I were as tedious as a king, I could find in my heart to bestow it all of your worship.
Much Ado About Nothing, III. v. [23]
- 2 A good old man, sir; he will be talking: as they say,
'when the age is in, the wit is out.' Ib. [36]
- 3 Well, God's a good man. Ib. [39]
- 4 O! what men dare do! what men may do! what men daily do, not knowing what they do! Ib. IV. i. [19]
- 5 For it so falls out
That what we have we prize not to the worth
Whiles we enjoy it, but being lack'd and lost,
Why, then we rack the value, then we find
The virtue that possession would not show us
Whiles it was ours. Ib. [219]
- 6 The idea of her life shall sweetly creep
Into his study of imagination,
And every lovely organ of her life
Shall come apparell'd in more precious habit,
More moving-delicate, and full of life
Into the eye and prospect of his soul. Ib. [226]
- 7 Write down that they hope they serve God: and write God first; for God defend but God should go before such villains! Masters, it is proved already that you are little better than false knaves, and it will go near to be thought so shortly. Ib. II. [21]
- 8 Yea, marry, that's the efast way. Ib. [39]
- 9 Flat burglary as ever was committed. Ib. [54]
- 10 O that he were here to write me down an ass! but, masters, remember that I am an ass; though it be not written down, yet forget not that I am an ass.
Ib. [80]
- 11 A fellow that hath had losses; and one that hath two gowns, and everything handsome about him. Ib. [90]
- 12 Patch grief with proverbs. Ib. V. i. 17
- 13 For there was never yet philosopher
That could endure the toothache patiently. Ib. 35
- 14 In a false quarrel there is no true valour. Ib. [121]
- 15 What though care killed a cat, thou hast mettle enough in thee to kill care. Ib. [135]
- 16 No, I was not born under a riming planet.
Ib. II. [40]
- 17 The trumpet of his own virtues. Ib. [91]
- 18 Done to death by slanderous tongues. Ib. III. 3
- 19 The wolves have prey'd; and look, the gentle day,
Before the wheels of Phæbus, round about Dapples the drowsy east with spots of grey. Ib. 25
- 20 Horribly stuff'd with epithets of war.
Othello, I. i. 14
- 21 A fellow almost damn'd in a fair wife. Ib. 21
- 22 The bookish theoric. Ib. 24
- 23 This counter-caster. Ib. 31
- 24 'Tis the curse of the service,
Preferment goes by letter and affection,
Not by the old gradation, where each second Stood heir to the first. Ib. 35
- 25 I follow him to serve my turn upon him;
We cannot all be masters, nor all masters
Cannot be truly follow'd. Ib. 42
- 26 Wears out his time, much like his master's ass,
For nought but provender, and when he's old,
cashier'd;
Whip me such honest knaves. Othello, I. i. 47
- 27 In following him, I follow but myself. Ib. 58
- 28 But I will wear my heart upon my sleeve
For daws to peck at: I am not what I am. Ib. 64
- 29 An old black ram
Is tugging your white ewe. Ib. 88
- 30 'Zounds! sir, you are one of those that will not serve God if the devil bid you. Ib. 108
- 31 Your daughter and the Moor are now making the beast with two backs. Ib. [117]
- 32 The gross clasps of a lascivious Moor. Ib. [127]
- 33 An extravagant and wheeling stranger
Of here and every where. Ib. [137]
- 34 I do hate him as I do hell-pains. Ib. [155]
- 35 I must show out a flag and sign of love,
Which is indeed but sign. Ib. [157]
- 36 Though in the trade of war I have slain men,
Yet do I hold it very stuff o' the conscience
To do no contriv'd murder: I lack iniquity Sometimes to do me service. Ib. II. 1
- 37 I fetch my life and being
From men of royal siege. Ib. 21
- 38 I would not my unhoused free condition
Put into circumscription and confine
For the sea's worth. Ib. 26
- 39 My parts, my title, and my perfect soul
Shall manifest me rightly. Ib. 31
- 40 Keep up your bright swords, for the dew will rust them. Ib. 59
- 41 The wealthy curled darlings of our nation. Ib. 68
- 42 The sooty bosom
Of such a thing as thou. Ib. 70
- 43 My particular grief
Is of so flood-gate and o'erbearing nature
That it engulfs and swallows other sorrows
And it is still itself. Ib. III. 55
- 44 The bloody book of law
You shall yourself read in the bitter letter
After your own sense. Ib. 67
- 45 Most potent, grave, and reverend signiors,
My very noble and approv'd good masters,
That I have ta'en away this old man's daughter,
It is most true; true, I have married her:
The very head and front of my offending
Hath this extent, no more. Rude am I in my speech,
And little bless'd with the soft phrase of peace;
For since these arms of mine had seven years' pith,
Till now some nine moons wasted, they have us'd
Their dearest action in the tented field;
And little of this great world can I speak,
More than pertains to feats of broil and battle;
And therefore little shall I grace my cause
In speaking for myself. Yet, by your gracious patience,
I will a round unvarnish'd tale deliver
Of my whole course of love; what drugs, what charms,
What conjuration, and what mighty magic,
For such proceeding I am charg'd withal,
I won his daughter. Ib. 76

- 1 A maiden never bold;
Of spirit so still and quiet, that her motion
Blush'd at herself Othello, I. iii 94
- 2 Her father lov'd me, oft invited me,
Still question'd me the story of my life
From year to year, the battles, sieges, fortunes
That I have pass'd
I ran it through, even from my boyish days
To the very moment that he bade me tell it,
Wherein I spake of most disastrous chances,
Of moving accidents by flood and field
Of hair-breadth 'scapes i' the imminent deadly breach,
Of being taken by the insolent foe
And sold to slavery, of my redemption thence
And portance in my travel's history,
Wherein of antres vast and deserts idle,
Rough quarries, rocks and hills whose heads touch
heaven,
It was my hunt to speak, such was the process,
And of the Cannibals that each other eat,
The Anthropophagi, and men whose heads
Do grow beneath their shoulders This to hear
Would Desdemona seriously incline Ib. 128
- 3 And often did beguile her of her tears,
When I did speak of some distressful stroke
That my youth suffer'd My story being done,
She gave me for my pains a world of sighs
She swore, in faith, 'twas strange, 'twas passing strange,
'Twas pitiful, 'twas wondrous pitiful
She wish'd she had not heard it, yet she wish'd
That heaven had made her such a man, she thank'd me,
And bade me, if I had a friend that lov'd her,
I should but teach him how to tell my story,
And that would woo her Upon this hint I spake
She lov'd me for the dangers I had pass'd,
And I lov'd her that she did pity them
'This only is the witchcraft I have us'd' Ib 156
- 4 I do perceive here a divided duty. Ib 181
- 5 To mourn a mischief that is past and gone
Is the next way to draw new mischief on Ib 204
- 6 The robb'd that smiles steals something from the thief Ib 208
- 7 But words are words, I never yet did hear
That the bruise'd heart was pierced through the ear Ib 218
- 8 The tyrant custom, most grave senators,
Hath made the sluty and steel couch of war
My thrice driven bed of down Ib [230]
- 9 My heart's subdu'd
Even to the very quality of my lord Ib [252]
- 10 I saw Othello's visage in his mind Ib [254]
- 11 A moth of peace Ib [258]
- 12 DRABANTIO
She has deceiv'd her father, and may thee
OTHELLO
My life upon her faith! Ib [295]
- 13 I will incontinently drown myself Ib [307]
- 14 It is silliness to live when to live is torment, and then have we a prescription to die when death is our physician Ib [310]
- 15 Virtue! a fig! 'tis in ourselves that we are thus, or thus.
Our bodies are our gardens, to the which our wills are gardeners Othello, I. iii [323]
- 16 Put money in thy purse Ib [343]
- 17 The food that to him now is as luscious as locusts, shall be to him shortly as bitter as coloquintida. Ib [354]
- 18 There are many events in the womb of time which will be delivered Ib [377]
- 19 Thus do I ever make my fool my purse. Ib [379]
- 20 He holds me well;
The better shall my purpose work on him Ib [396]
- 21 Framed to make women false Ib [404]
- 22 The Moor is of a free and open nature,
That thinks men honest that but seem to be so Ib [405]
- 23 I have 't, it is engender'd, hell and night
Must bring this monstrous birth to the world's light. Ib [409]
- 24 Our great captain's captain Ib II. i 74
- 25 You are pictures out of doors,
Bells in your parlours, wild cats in your kitchens,
Saints in your injuries, devils being offended, Players in your housewifery, and housewives in your beds Ib 109
- 26 Do not put me to 't,
For I am nothing if not critical Ib 118
- 27 I am not merry, but I do beguile
The thing I am by seeming otherwise Ib 122
- 28 IAGO
She never yet was foolish that was fair,
I or even her folly help'd her to an heir.
DESDEMONA
These are old fond paradoxes to make fools laugh i'
the alehouse Ib 136
- 29 IAGO
She that was ever fair and never proud,
Had tongue at will and yet was never loud,
Never lack'd gold and yet went never gay,
Fled from her wish and yet said 'Now I may,'
She that being anger'd, her revenge being nigh,
Bade her wrong stay and her displeasure fly,
She that in wisdom never was so frail
To change the cod's head for the salmon's tail,
She that could think and ne'er disclose her mind,
See suitors following and not look behind,
She was a wight, if ever such wight were,—
DESDEMONA
To do what?
IAGO
To suckle fools and chronicle small beer.
DESDEMONA
O most lame and impotent conclusion! Ib 148
- 30 With as little a web as this will I ensnare as great a fly
as Cassio Ib [169]
- 31 OTHELLO
If it were now to die,
'Twere now to be most happy, for I fear
My soul hath her content so absolute
That not another comfort like to this Succeeds in unknown fate

DESDEMONA:

- The heavens forbid
But that our loves and comforts should increase
Even as our days do grow! Othello, II. i. [192]
- 1 A slipper and subtle knave, a finder-out of occasions.
Ib. [247]
- 2 A pestilent complete knave! and the woman hath found him already. Ib. [253]
- 3 This poor trash of Venice. Ib. [315]
- 4 Make the Moor thank me, love me, and reward me
For making him egregiously an ass. Ib. [320]
- 5 Let's teach ourselves that honourable stop,
Not to outsport discretion. Ib. iii. 2
- 6 She is sport for Jove. Ib. [17]
- 7 I have very poor and unhappy brains for drinking:
I could well wish courtesy would invent some other custom of entertainment. Ib. [34]
- 8 My boat sails freely, both with wind and stream.
Ib. [66]
- 9 And let me the canakin clink:
A soldier's a man;
A life's but a span;
Why then let a soldier drink. Ib. [73]
- 10 England, where indeed they are most potent in potting. Ib. [79]
- 11 King Stephen was a worthy peer,
His breeches cost him but a crown;
He held them sixpence all too dear,
With that he call'd the tailor lown. Ib. [93]
- 12 'Tis pride that pulls the country down. Ib. [99]
- 13 Well, God's above all; and there be souls must be saved, and there be souls must not be saved.
Ib. [106]
- 14 The lieutenant is to be saved before the ancient.
Ib. [115]
- 15 He is a soldier fit to stand by Cæsar
And give direction. Ib. [128]
- 16 Silence that dreadful bell! it frights the isle
From her propriety. Ib. [177]
- 17 But men are men; the best sometimes forget. Ib. [243]
- 18 Thy honesty and love doth mince this matter.
Ib. [249]
- 19 Cassio, I love thee;
But never more be officer of mine. Ib. [250]
- 20 Reputation, reputation, reputation! O! I have lost my reputation. I have lost the immortal part of myself, and what remains is bestial. My reputation, Iago, my reputation! Ib. [264]
- 21 O thou invisible spirit of wine! if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee devil! Ib. [285]
- 22 O God! that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains; that we should,
with joy, pleasure, revel, and applause, transform ourselves into beasts. Ib. [293]
- 23 CASSIO:
Every inordinate cup is unblessed, and the ingredient is a devil.
- IAGO:
Come, come; good wine is a good familiar creature if it be well used; exclaim no more against it.
Ib. [312]

- 24 How poor are they that have not patience!
What wound did ever heal but by degrees?
Othello, II. iii. [379]
- 25 O! thereby hangs a tail. Ib. III. i. [8]
- 26 Talk him out of patience. Ib. III. 23
- 27 Excellent wretch! Perdition catch my soul
But I do love thee! and when I love thee not,
Chaos is come again. Ib. 90
- 28 By heaven, he echoes me,
As if there were some monster in his thought
Too hideous to be shown. Ib. 106
- 29 Men should be what they seem;
Or those that be not, would they might seem none!
Ib. 126
- 30 Good name in man and woman, dear my lord,
Is the immediate jewel of their souls;
Who steals my purse steals trash; 'tis something,
nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name
Robs me of that which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed. Ib. 155
- 31 O! beware, my lord, of jealousy;
It is the green-ey'd monster which doth mock
The meat it feeds on. Ib. 165
- 32 But, O! what damned minutes tells he o'er
Who dotes, yet doubts; suspects, yet soundly loves!
Ib. 169
- 33 Poor and content is rich, and rich enough. Ib. 172
- 34 Think'st thou I'd make a life of jealousy,
To follow still the changes of the moon
With fresh suspicions? No; to be once in doubt
Is once to be resolved. Ib. 177
- 35 In Venice they do let heaven see the pranks
They dare not show their husbands; their best conscience
Is not to leave 't undone, but keep 't unknown.
Ib. 202
- 36 I humbly do beseech you of your pardon
For too much loving you. Ib. 212
- 37 This fellow's of exceeding honesty. Ib. 258
- 38 If I do prove her haggard,
Though that her jesses were my dear heart-strings,
I'd whistle her off and let her down the wind,
To prey at fortune. Ib. 260
- 39 For I am declin'd
Into the vale of years. Ib. 265
- 40 O curse of marriage!
That we can call these delicate creatures ours,
And not their appetites. I had rather be a toad,
And live upon the vapour of a dungeon,
Than keep a corner in the thing I love
For others' uses. Ib. 268
- 41 If she be false, O! then heaven mocks itself.
I'll not believe it. Ib. 278
- 42 Trifles light as air
Are to the jealous confirmations strong
As proofs of holy writ. Ib. 323
- 43 Not poppy, nor mandragora,
Nor all the drowsy syrups of the world,
Shall ever medicine thee to that sweet sleep
Which thou ow'dst yesterday. Ib. 331

- 1 Avunt! be gone! thou hast set me on the rack,
I swear 'tis better to be much abus'd
Than but to know 't a little Othello, III III 336
- 2 He that is robb'd, not wanting what is stol'n,
Let him not know 't and he's not robb'd at all Ib 343
- 3 I had been happy, if the general camp,
Pioners and all, had tasted her sweet body,
So I had nothing known O! now, for ever
Farewell the tranquil mind, farewell content!
Farewell the plumed troop and the big wars
That make ambition virtue! O, farewell!
I farewell the neighing steed and the shrill trump,
The spirit stirring drum, the ear piercing fife,
The royal banner, and all quality,
Pride, pomp, and circumstance of glorious war!
And, O you mortal engines, whose rude throats
The immortal Jove's dread clamours counterfeit, Farewell! Othello's occupation's gone! Ib 346
- 4 Be sure of it, give me the ocular proof Ib 361
- 5 Never pray more abandon all remorse,
On horror's head horrors accumulate Ib 370
- 6 O wretched fool!
That liv'st to make thin honesty a vice
O monstrous world! Take note, take note, O world!
To be direct and honest is not safe Ib 376
- 7 By the world,
I think my wife be honest and think she is not,
I think that thou art just and think thou art not Ib 384
- 8 There are a kind of men so loose of soul
That in their sleeps will mutter their affairs Ib 417
- 9 But this denoted a foregone conclusion Ib 429
- 10 Swell bosom, with thy fraught,
For 'tis of aspics' tongues! Ib 450
- 11 O! blood, blood, blood! Ib 452
- 12 Like to the Pontick sea
Whose icy current and compulsive course
Ne'er feels retiring ebb but keeps due on
To the Propontic and the Hellespont,
Even so my bloody thoughts, with violent pace,
Shall ne'er look back, ne'er ebb to humble love,
Till that a capable and wide revenge
Swallow them up Ib 454
- 13 For here's a young and sweating devil here,
That commonly rebels Ib IV 43
- 14 The hearts of old gave hands,
But our new heraldry is hands not hearts Ib 47
- 15 That handkerchief
Did an Egyptian to my mother give Ib 56
- 16 'Tis true, there's magic in the web of it,
A sibyl, that had number'd in the world
The sun to course two hundred compasses,
In her prophetic fury sew'd the work,
The worms were hallow'd that did breed the silk,
And it was dy'd in mummy which the skilful Conserv'd of maidens' hearts Ib 70
- 17 But jealous souls will not be answer'd so,
They are not ever jealous for the cause,
But jealous for they are jealous Ib 158
- 18 What! keep a week away? seven days and nights?
Light score eight hours? and lovers' absent hours,
More tedious than the dial eight score times?
O, weary reckoning! Othello, III IV 172
- 19 I do attend here on the general,
And think it no addition nor my wish
To have him see me woman'd Ib 191
- 20 O! it comes o'er my memory,
As doth the raven o'er the infected house,
Boding to all Ib IV 1 20
- 21 Many worthy and chaste dames even thus,
All guiltless, meet reproach Ib 47
- 22 To beguile many and be beguiled by one Ib 93
- 23 They laugh that win Ib [123]
- 24 I would have him nine years a killing Ib [186]
- 25 My heart is turned to stone, I strike it, and it hurts
my hand Ib [190]
- 26 O! the world hath not a sweeter creature, she might lie by an emperor's side and command him tasks Ib [192]
- 27 O, she will sing the savageness out of a bear Ib [195]
- 28 But yet the pity of it, Iago! O! Iago, the pity of it
Iago! Ib [205]
- 29 The justice of it pleases Ib [221]
- 30 O well painted passion! Ib [265]
- 31 Goats and monkeys! Ib [274]
- 32 Whose solid virtue
The shot of accident nor dart of chance Could neither graze nor pierce? Ib [277]
- 33 Your mystery, your mystery, nay, dispatch Ib II 29
- 34 Had it pleas'd heaven
To try me with affliction had he rain'd
All kinds of sores, and shames, on my bare head,
Steep'd me in poverty to the very lips
Given to captivity me and my utmost hopes
I should have found in some part of my soul
A drop of patience, but, alas! to make me
The fixed figure for the time of scorn
To point his slow and moving finger at,
Yet could I bear that too, well, very well
But there, where I have garner'd up my heart,
Where either I must live or bear no life,
The fountain from the which my current runs
Or else dries up, to be discarded thence!
Or keep it as a cistern for foul toads
To knot and gender in! Turn thy complexion there,
Patience, thou young and rose lipp'd cherubin,
Ay, there, look grim as hell! Ib 46
- 35 O thou weed!
Who art so lovely fair and smell'st so sweet
That the sense aches at thee, would thou hadst ne'er been born! Ib 66
- 36 Heaven stops the nose at it and the moon winks Ib 76
- 37 I took you for that cunning whore of Venice
That married with Othello You, mistress,
That have the office opposite to Saint Peter,
And I keep the gate of hell! Ib 88

- 1 I will be hang'd, if some eternal villain,
Some busy and insinuating rogue,
Some cogging cozening slave, to get some office,
Have not devis'd this slander. Othello, iv. ii. 130
- 2 O heaven! that such companions thou'dst unfold,
And put in every honest hand a whip
To lash the rascals naked through the world,
Even from the east to the west! Ib. 141
- 3 Unkindness may do much;
And his unkindness may defeat my life,
But never taint my love. Ib. 159
- 4 Why, now I see there's mettle in thee, and even from this instant do build on thee a better opinion than ever before. Ib. [207]
- 5 EMILIA:
I would you had never seen him.
DESDEMONA:
So would not I; my love doth so approve him.
Ib. iii. 18
- 6 The poor soul sat sighing by a sycamore tree,
Sing all a green willow;
Her hand on her bosom, her head on her knee,
Sing willow, willow, willow:
The fresh streams ran by her, and murmur'd her moans;
Sing willow, willow, willow:
Her salt tears fell from her, and soften'd the stones;—
Sing willow, willow, willow:
Sing all a green willow must be my garland. Ib. [41]
- 7 DESDEMONA:
Mine eyes do itch;
Doth that bode weeping?
EMILIA:
'Tis neither here nor there. Ib. [59]
- 8 Who would not make her husband a cuckold to make him a monarch? Ib. [76]
- 9 He hath a daily beauty in his life
That makes me ugly. Ib. v. i. 19
- 10 This is the night
That either makes me or fordoes me quite. Ib. 128
- 11 It is the cause, it is the cause, my soul;
Let me not name it to you, you chaste stars!
It is the cause. Yet I'll not shed her blood,
Nor scar that whiter skin of hers than snow,
And smooth as monumental alabaster.
Yet she must die, else she'll betray more men.
Put out the light, and then put out the light:
If I quench thee, thou flaming minister,
I can again thy former light restore,
Should I repent me; but once put out thy light,
Thou cunning'st pattern of excelling nature,
I know not where is that Promethean heat
That can thy light relume. When I have pluck'd the rose,
I cannot give it vital growth again,
It needs must wither: I'll smell it on the tree.
O balmy breath, that dost almost persuade Justice to break her sword! One more, one more.
Be thus when thou art dead, and I will kill thee,
And love thee after. One more, and this the last:
So sweet was ne'er so fatal. I must weep,
But they are cruel tears; this sorrow's heavenly,
It strikes where it doth love. Ib. ii. 1
- 12 If you bethink yourself of any crime
Unreconcil'd as yet to heaven and grace,
Solicit for it straight. Othello, v. ii. 26
- 13 Alas! why gnaw you so your nether lip?
Some bloody passion shakes your very frame;
These are portents, but yet, I hope, I hope
They do not point on me. Ib. 43
- 14 For to deny each article with oath
Cannot remove nor choke the strong conception
That I do groan withal. Ib. 54
- 15 Had all his hairs been lives, my great revenge
Had stomach for them all. Ib. 74
- 16 It is the very error of the moon;
She comes more near the earth than she was wont,
And makes men mad. Ib. 107
- 17 Not Cassio kill'd! then murder's out of tune,
And sweet revenge grows harsh. Ib. 113
- 18 A guiltless death I die. Ib. 120
- 19 Nobody; I myself; farewell. Ib. 122
- 20 OTHELLO:
She's like a liar gone to burning hell;
'Twas I that kill'd her.
EMILIA:
O! the more angel she,
And you the blacker devil. Ib. 127
- 21 Nay, had she been true,
If heaven would make me such another world
Of one entire and perfect chrysolite,
I'd not have sold her for it. Ib. 141
- 22 She was too fond of her most filthy bargain. Ib. 155
- 23 Thou hast not half the power to do me harm
As I have to be hurt. Ib. 160
- 24 You told a lie, an odious damned lie;
Upon my soul, a lie, a wicked lie. Ib. 178
- 25 Curse his better angel from his side,
And fall to reprobation. Ib. 206
- 26 With that recognizance and pledge of love. Ib. 212
- 27 Are there no stones in heaven
But what serve for the thunder? Ib. 232
- 28 Every puny whipster gets my sword. Ib. 242
- 29 I will play the swan,
And die in music. Ib. 245
- 30 Who can control his fate? Ib. 264
- 31 Here is my journey's end, here is my butt,
And very sea-mark of my utmost sail. Ib. 266
- 32 O ill-starr'd wench!
Pale as thy smock! when we shall meet at compt,
This look of thine will hurl my soul from heaven,
And fiends will snatch at it. Cold, cold, my girl!
Even like thy chastity.
O! cursed, cursed slave. Whip me, ye devils,
From the possession of this heavenly sight!
Blow me about in winds! roast me in sulphur!
Wash me in steep-down gulfs of liquid fire!
O Desdemona! Desdemona! dead! Ib. 271
- 33 I look down towards his feet; but that's a fable.
If that thou be'st a devil, I cannot kill thee. Ib. 285
- 34 An honourable murderer, if you will;
For nought did I in hate, but all in honour. Ib. 293

1 OTHELLO

Will you, I pray, demand that demi-devil
Why he hath thus ensnar'd my soul and body?

IAGO

Demand me nothing: what you know, you know
From this time forth I never will speak word

Othello, v. ii. 300

2 I have done the state some service, and they know 't,
No more of that: I pray you, in your letters,
When you shall these unlucky deeds relate,
Speak of me as I am, nothing extenuate
Nor set down aught in malice: then must you speak
Of one that lov'd not wisely but too well,
Of one not easily jealous, but, being wrought,
Perplex'd in the extreme, of one whose hand,
Like the base Indian, threw a pearl away
Richer than all his tribe, of one whose subdu'd eyes
Albeit unused to the melting mood
Drop tears as fast as the Arabian trees
Their medicinal gum: set you down this,
And say besides, that in Aleppo once,
Where a malignant and a turban'd Turk
Beat a Venetian and traduc'd the state
I took by the throat the circumcised dog,
And smote him thus

Ib 338

3 All that's spoke is marred

Ib 356

4 I kiss'd thee ere I kill'd thee.

Ib 357

Pericles, i. i. 12

6 Few love to hear the sins they love to act

Ib 92

7 O you gods!
Why do you make us love your goodly gifts,
And snatch them straight away?

8 Old John of Gaunt, time-honour'd Lancaster
King Richard II, i. i. 1

9 Let's purge this choler without letting blood

Ib 153

10 The purest treasure mortal times afford
Is spotless reputation; that away,
Men are but gilded loam or painted clay
A jewel in a ten-times barr'd up chest
Is a bold spirit in a loyal breast
Mine honour is my life, both grow in one,
Take honour from me, and my life is done

Ib 177

11 We were not born to sue, but to command

Ib 196

12 Stay, stay, the king hath thrown his warder down

Ib iii. 118

13 This must my comfort be,
That sun that warms you here shall shine on me

Ib 144

14 The language I have learn'd these forty years,
My native English, now I must forego,
And now my tongue's use is to me no more
Than an unstring'd viol or a harp

Ib 159

15 I am too old to fawn upon a nurse,
Too far in years to be a pupil now

Ib 170

16 How long a time lies in one little word!
Four lagging winters and four wanton springs
End in a word, such is the breath of kings

Ib 213

17 Things sweet to taste prove in digestion sour

Ib 236

18 Boast of nothing else
But that I was a journeyman to grief?

Ib 273

19 All places that the eye of heaven visits
Are to a wise man ports and happy havens.
Teach thy necessity to reason thus,
There is no virtue like necessity

King Richard II, i. iii. 275

20 O! who can hold a fire in his hand
By thinking on the frosty Caucasus?
Or cloy the hungry edge of appetite,
By bare imagination of a feast?
Or wallow naked in December snow
By thinking on fantastic summer's heat?
O, no! the apprehension of the good
Gives but the greater feeling to the worse.

Ib 294

21 Methinks I am a prophet new inspir'd,
And thus expiring do foretell of him
His rash fierce blaze of riot cannot last,
For violent fires soon burn out themselves,
Small showers last long, but sudden storms are short
He tires betimes that spurs too fast betimes

Ib ii. i. 31

22 This royal throne of kings, this scepter'd isle,
This earth of majesty, this seat of Mars,
This other Eden, demi-paradise,
This fortress built by Nature for herself
Against infection and the hand of war,
This happy breed of men, this little world,
This precious stone set in the silver sea,
Which serves it in the office of a wall,
Or as a moat defensive to a house,
Against the envy of less happier lands,
This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England,
This nurse, this teeming womb of royal kings,
Fear'd by their breed and famous by their birth,
Renowned for their deeds as far from home,
For Christian service and true chivalry,—
As is the sepulchre in stubborn Jewry,
Of the world's ransom, blessed Mary's Son
This land of such dear souls, this dear, dear land

Ib 40

23 England, bound in with the triumphant sea

Ib 61

And entertain a cheerful disposition

Ib ii. 3

27 Believe me, noble lord,
I am a stranger here in Gloucestershire
These high wild hills and rough uneven ways
Draw out our miles and make them wearisome

Ib iii. 2

28 I count myself in nothing else so happy
As in a soul remembering my good friends

Ib 46

29 Bloody with spurring, fiery-red with haste

34 I weep for joy
To stand upon my kingdom once again
Dear earth, I do salute thee with my hand
Though rebels wound thee with their horses' hoofs

Ib ii. 4

- 1 Not all the water in the rough rude sea
Can wash the balm from an anointed king;
The breath of worldly men cannot depose
The deputy elected by the Lord.
For every man that Bolingbroke hath press'd
To lift shrewd steel against our golden crown,
God for his Richard hath in heavenly pay
A glorious angel; then, if angels fight, Weak men must fall, for heaven still guards the right. King Richard II, III. ii. 54
- 2 O! call back yesterday, bid time return. Ib. 69
- 3 Is not the king's name twenty thousand names?
Arm, arm, my name! A puny subject strikes
At thy great glory. Ib. 85
- 4 The worst is death, and death will have his day. Ib. 103
- 5 Sweet love, I see, changing his property,
Turns to the sourest and most deadly hate. Ib. 135
- 6 Of comfort no man speak:
Let's talk of graves, of worms, and epitaphs;
Make dust our paper, and with rainy eyes
Write sorrow on the bosom of the earth.
Let's choose executors, and talk of wills. Ib. 144
- 7 For God's sake, let us sit upon the ground
And tell sad stories of the death of kings:
How some have been depos'd, some slain in war,
Some haunted by the ghosts they have depos'd,
Some poison'd by their wives, some sleeping kill'd;
All murder'd: for within the hollow crown
That rounds the mortal temples of a king
Keeps Death his court, and there the antick sits,
Scoffing his state and grinning at his pomp;
Allowing him a breath, a little scene,
To monarchize, be fear'd, and kill with looks,
Infusing him with self and vain conceit
As if this flesh which walls about our life
Were brass impregnable; and humour'd thus Comes at the last, and with a little pin
Bores through his castle wall, and farewell king!
Ib. 155
- 8 See, see, King Richard doth himself appear,
As doth the blushing discontented sun
From out the fiery portal of the east. Ib. iii. 62
- 9 O! that I were as great
As is my grief, or lesser than my name,
Or that I could forget what I have been,
Or not remember what I must be now. Ib. 136
- 10 What must the king do now? Must he submit?
The king shall do it: must he be depos'd?
The king shall be contented: must he lose
The name of king? o' God's name, let it go.
I'll give my jewels for a set of beads,
My gorgeous palace for a hermitage,
My gay apparel for an almsman's gown,
My figur'd goblets for a dish of wood,
My sceptre for a palmer's walking staff,
My subjects for a pair of carved saints,
And my large kingdom for a little grave,
A little little grave, an obscure grave;
Or I'll be buried in the king's highway,
Some way of common trade, where subjects' feet
May hourly trample on their sovereign's head;
For on my heart they tread now whilst I live;
And buried once, why not upon my head? Ib. 143
- 11 You make a leg. Ib. 175
- 12 Go, bind thou up yon dangling apriocks,
Which, like unruly children, make their sire
Stoop with oppression of their prodigal weight.
King Richard II, III. iv. 29
- 13 Old Adam's likeness, set to dress this garden. Ib. 73
- 14 Here did she fall a tear; here, in this place,
I'll set a bank of rue, sour herb of grace;
Rue, even for ruth, here shortly shall be seen,
In the remembrance of a weeping queen. Ib. 104
- 15 If I dare eat, or drink, or breathe, or live,
I dare meet Surrey in a wilderness,
And spit upon him, whilst I say he lies,
And lies, and lies. Ib. iv. i. 73
- 16 And there at Venice gave
His body to that pleasant country's earth,
And his pure soul unto his captain Christ,
Under whose colours he had fought so long. Ib. 97
- 17 Peace shall go sleep with Turks and infidels. Ib. 139
- 18 God save the king! Will no man say, amen?
Am I both priest and clerk? Well then, amen. Ib. 172
- 19 Give me the crown. Here, cousin, seize the crown;
Here cousin,
On this side my hand and on that side thine.
Now is this golden crown like a deep well
That owes two buckets filling one another;
The emptier ever dancing in the air,
The other down, unseen, and full of water:
That bucket down and full of tears am I,
Drinking my griefs, whilst you mount up on high. Ib. 181
- 20 You may my glories and my state depose,
But not my griefs; still am I king of those. Ib. 192
- 21 Now mark me how I will undo myself. Ib. 203
- 22 With mine own tears I wash away my balm,
With mine own hands I give away my crown. Ib. 207
- 23 God pardon all oaths that are broke to me!
God keep all vows unbroke are made to thee! Ib. 214
- 24 A mockery king of snow. Ib. 260
- 25 An if my word be sterling yet in England. Ib. 264
- 26 Julius Cæsar's ill-erected tower. Ib. v. i. 2
- 27 I am sworn brother, sweet,
To grim Necessity, and he and I
Will keep a league till death. Ib. 20
- 28 That were some love but little policy. Ib. 84
- 29 As in a theatre, the eyes of men,
After a well-grac'd actor leaves the stage,
Are idly bent on him that enters next,
Thinking his prattle to be tedious. Ib. ii. 23
- 30 Who are the violets now
That strew the green lap of the new come spring?
Ib. 46
- 31 Give me my boots I say. Ib. 77 and 87
- 32 He prays but faintly and would be denied. Ib. iii. 103
- 33 I have been studying how I may compare
This prison where I live unto the world. Ib. v. 1
- 34 How sour sweet music is,
When time is broke, and no proportion kept!
So is it in the music of men's lives. Ib. 42

- 1 Mount, mount, my soul! thy seat is up on high,
Whilst my gross flesh sinks downwards here to die
King Richard II, v v 112
- 2 Now is the winter of our discontent
Made glorious summer by this sun of York
King Richard III, i 1 1
- 3 Our stern alarms changed to merry meetings,
Our dreadful marches to delightful measures Ib 7
- 4 He capers nimbly in a lady's chamber
To the lascivious pleasing of a lute Ib 12

- 10 By silken, sly, insinuating Jacks Ib 111 53
- 11 Since every Jack became a gentleman
There's many a gentle person made a Jack Ib 72
- 12 And thus I clothe my naked villany
With odd old ends stol'n forth of holy writ,
And seem a saint when most I play the devil
Ib 336
- 13 O, I have pass'd a miserable night,
So full of ugly sights, of ghastly dreams,
That, as I am a Christian faithful man,
I would not spend another such a night,
Though 'twere to buy a world of happy days
So full of dismal terror was the time! Ib 14 2
- 14 Lord, Lord! methought what pain it was to drown
What dreadful noise of water in mine ears!
What sights of ugly death within mine eyes!
Methought I saw a thousand fearful wracks,
A thousand men that fishes gnaw'd upon,
Wedges of gold, great anchors, heaps of pearl,
Inestimable stones, unvalu'd jewels,
All scatter'd in the bottom of the sea
Some lay in dead men's skulls and in those holes
Where eyes did once inhabit there were crept
As twere in scorn of eyes, reflecting gems,
That woo'd the slumy bottom of the deep,
And mock'd the dead bones that lay scatter'd by

On the forefinger of an alderman,
Drawn with a team of little atomies
Athwart men's noses as they lie asleep:
Her waggon-spokes made of long spinners' legs;
The cover, of the wings of grasshoppers;
The traces, of the smallest spider's web;
The collars, of the moonshine's watery beams;
Her whip, of cricket's bone; the lash, of film;
Her waggoner, a small grey-coated gnat,
Not half so big as a round little worm
Prick'd from the lazy finger of a maid;
Her chariot is an empty hazel-nut,
Made by the joiner squirrel or old grub,
Time out o' mind the fairies' coach-makers.
And in this state she gallops night by night
Through lovers' brains, and then they dream of love;
O'er courtiers' knees, that dream on curtsies straight;
O'er lawyers' fingers, who straight dream on fees;
O'er ladies' lips, who straight on kisses dream;
Which oft the angry Mab with blisters plagues,
Because their breaths with sweetmeats tainted are.
Sometimes she gallops o'er a courtier's nose,
And then dreams he of smelling out a suit;
And sometimes comes she with a tithe-pig's tail,
Tickling a parson's nose as a' lies asleep,
Then dreams he of another benefice;
Sometimes she driveth o'er a soldier's neck,
And then dreams he of cutting foreign throats,
Of breaches, ambuscadoes, Spanish blades,
Of healths five fathom deep; and then anon
Drums in his ear, at which he starts and wakes;
And, being thus frighted, swears a prayer or two,
And sleeps again. This is that very Mab
That plats the manes of horses in the night;
And bakes the elf-locks in foul sluttish hairs,
Which once untangled much misfortune bodes;
This is the hag, when maids lie on their backs,
That presses them and learns them first to bear,
Making them women of good carriage. Ib. 53
- 8 For you and I are past our dancing days. Ib. v. [35]
- 9 O! she doth teach the torches to burn bright.
It seems she hangs upon the cheek of night
Like a rich jewel in an Ethiop's ear;
Beauty too rich for use, for earth too dear. Ib. [48]
- 10 We have a trifling foolish banquet towards. Ib. [126]
- 11 My only love sprung from my only hate!
Romeo and Juliet, 1. v. [142]
- 12 Young Adam Cupid, he that shot so trim
When King Cophetua lov'd the beggar-maid.
Ib. ii. i. 13
- 13 He jests at scars, that never felt a wound.
But, soft! what light through yonder window breaks?
It is the east, and Juliet is the sun. Ib. ii. 1
- 14 See! how she leans her cheek upon her hand:
O! that I were a glove upon that hand,
That I might touch that cheek. Ib. 23
- 15 O Romeo, Romeo! wherefore art thou Romeo?
Ib. 33
- 16 What's in a name? that which we call a rose
By any other name would smell as sweet. Ib. 43
- 17 For stony limits cannot hold love out. Ib. 67
- 18 Thou know'st the mask of night is on my face,
Else would a maiden blush bepaint my cheek.
Ib. 85
- 19 Fain would I dwell on form, fain, fain deny
What I have spoke: but farewell compliment! Ib. 88
- 20 At lovers' perjuries,
They say, Jove laughs. O gentle Romeo!
If thou dost love, pronounce it faithfully:
Or if thou think'st I am too quickly won,
I'll frown and be perverse and say thee nay,
So thou wilt woo; but else, not for the world.
In truth, fair Montague, I am too fond. Ib. 92
- 21 I'll prove more true
Than those that have more cunning to be strange.
Ib. 100
- 22 ROMEO:
Lady, by yonder blessed moon I swear
That tips with silver all these fruit-tree tops,—
JULIET:
O! swear not by the moon, the inconstant moon,
That monthly changes in her circled orb,
Lest that thy love prove likewise variable. Ib. 107
- 23 Do not swear at all;
Or, if thou wilt, swear by thy gracious self,
Which is the god of my idolatry. Ib. 112
- 24 It is too rash, too unadvis'd, too sudden;
Too like the lightning, which doth cease to be Ere one can say it lightens. Sweet, good-night!
This bud of love, by summer's ripening breath,
May prove a beauteous flower when next we meet.
Ib. 118
- 25 Love goes toward love, as schoolboys from their books;
But love from love, toward school with heavy looks.
Ib. 156
- 26 O! for a falconer's voice,
To lure this tassel-gentle back again.
Bondage is hoarse, and may not speak aloud,
Else would I tear the cave where Echo lies. Ib. 158
- 27 It is my soul that calls upon my name:
How silver-sweet sound lovers' tongues by night,
Like softest music to attending ears! Ib. 164
- 28 'Tis almost morning; I would have thee gone;
And yet no further than a wanton's bird,
Who lets it hop a little from her hand,
Like a poor prisoner in his twisted gyves,
And with a silk thread plucks it back again,
So loving-jealous of his liberty. Ib. 176

- 1 JULIET
Yet I should kill thee with much cherishing
Good night, good night! parting is such sweet sorrow
That I shall say good night till it be morrow
ROMEO
Sleep dwell upon thine eyes, peace in thy breast!
Would I were sleep and peace, so sweet to rest!

That unsubstantial Death is amorous
And that the lean abhorred monster keeps
Thee here in dark to be his paramour?
For fear of that I still will stay with thee,
And never from this palace of dim night
Depart again: here, here will I remain
With worms that are thy chambermaids, O! here
Will I set up my everlasting rest
And shake the yoke of unauspicious stars
From this world wearied flesh: Eyes look your last!
Arms take your last embrace! and, lips, O you
The doors of breath, seal with a righteous kiss
A dateless bargain to engrossing death!

- 4 Say that she rail; why then I'll tell her plain
She sings as sweetly as a nightingale:
Say that she frown; I'll say she looks as clear
As morning roses newly wash'd with dew:
Say she be mute and will not speak a word;
Then I'll commend her volubility,
And say she uttereth piercing eloquence. Ib. 171

And then take hands:
Curtsied when you have, and kiss'd,—
The wild waves whist,—
Foot it featly here and there;
And, sweet sprites, the burden bear.
Hark, hark!
Bow, wow,
The watch-dogs bark:
Bow, wow,
Hark, hark! I hear
The strain of strutting Chanticleer
Cock-a-diddle-dow. Ib. 375
- 29 This music crept by me upon the waters,
Allaying both their fury, and my passion,
With its sweet air. Ib. 389
- 30 Full fathom five thy father lies;
Of his bones are coral made:
Those are pearls that were his eyes:
Nothing of him that doth fade,
But doth suffer a sea-change
Into something rich and strange.
Sea-nymphs hourly ring his knell:
Ding-dong.
Hark! now I hear them,—ding-dong, bell. Ib. 394

Upon her patient breast.
Troilus and Cressida, I. iii. 34
- 2 The heavens themselves, the planets, and this centre
Observe degree, priority, and place,
Insisture, course, proportion, season, form,
Office, and custom, in all line of order. Ib. 85
- 3 O! when degree is shak'd,
Which is the ladder to all high designs,
The enterprise is sick. Ib. 101
- 4 Take but degree away, untune that string,
And, hark! what discord follows; each thing meets
In mere oppugnancy. Ib. 109
- 5 The general's disdain'd
By him one step below, he by the next,
That next by him beneath; so every step,
Exempl'd by the first pace that is sick
Of his superior, grows to an envious fever
Of pale and bloodless emulation. Ib. 129

- 17 Time hath, my lord, a wallet at his back,
Wherein he puts alms for oblivion,
A great-siz'd monster of ingratitude:
Those scraps are good deeds past; which are devour'd
As fast as they are made, forgot as soon
As done. Ib. III. 145
- 18 Perseverance, dear my lord,
Keeps honour bright: to have done, is to hang Quite out of fashion, like a rusty mail
In monumental mockery.
Troilus and Cressida, III. iii. 150
- 19 For honour travels in a strait so narrow
Where one but goes abreast. Ib. 154
- 20 Time is like a fashionable host
That slightly shakes his parting guest by the hand,
And with his arms outstretch'd, as he would fly,
Grasps in the comer: welcome ever smiles,
And farewell goes out sighing. Ib. 165
- 21 Beauty, wit,
High birth, vigour of bone, desert in service,
Love, friendship, charity, are subjects all
To envious and calumniating time.
One touch of nature makes the whole world kin,
That all with one consent praise new-born gawds. Ib. 171

- 30 If music be the food of love, play on;
Give me excess of it, that, surfeiting,
The appetite may sicken, and so die.
That strain again! it had a dying fall:
O! it came o'er my ear like the sweet sound
That breathes upon a bank of violets,
Stealing and giving odour! Enough! no more:
'Tis not so sweet now as it was before.
O spirit of love! how quick and fresh art thou,
That notwithstanding thy capacity
Receiveth as the sea, nought enters there,
Of what validity and pitch soe'er,
But falls into abatement and low price,
Even in a minute: so full of shapes is fancy,
That it alone is high fantastical. Twelfth Night, I. i. 1
- 31 O! when mine eyes did see Olivia first,
Methought she purg'd the air of pestilence.
That instant was I turn'd into a hart,
And my desires, like fell and cruel hounds,
E'er since pursue me. Ib. 19
- 32 The element itself, till seven years' heat,
Shall not behold her face at ample view;
But, like a cloistress, she will veiled walk,
And water once a day her chamber round
With eye-offending brine. Ib. 26

- 1 Away before me to sweet beds of flowers;
Love-thoughts lie rich when canopied with bowers
Twelfth Night, 1. 1. 40
- 2 And what should I do in Illyria?
My brother he is in Elysium. Ib. 11. 2
- 3 O my poor brother! Ib. 6
- 4 He's as tall a man as any's in Illyria. Ib. 111. [21]
- 5 Speaks three or four languages word for word without book. Ib. [28]
- 6 Methinks sometimes I have no more wit than a Christian or an ordinary man has, but I am a great eater of beef, and I believe that does harm to my wit. Ib. [90]
- 7 SIR ANDREW:
I would I had bestowed that time in the tongues that I have in fencing, dancing, and bear-baiting. O! had I but followed the arts!
- SIR TONY:
Then hadst thou had an excellent head of hair. Ib. [99]
- 8 Wherefore are these things hid? wherefore have these gifts a curtain before 'em? are they like to take dust, like Mistress Mall's picture? why dost thou not go to church in a galliard, and come home in a coranto? My very walk should be a jig. Ib. [135]
- 9 Is it a world to hide virtues in? Ib. [142]
- 10 Diana's lip
Is not more smooth and rubious; thy small pipe
Is as the maiden's organ, shrill and sound;
And all is semblative a woman's part Ib. 11. 31
- 11 Many a good hanging prevents a bad marriage. Ib. v. [20]
- 12 What says Quinapalus? 'Better a witty fool than a foolish wit.' Ib. [37]
- 13 Virtue that transgresses is but patched with sin, and sin that amends is but patched with virtue. Ib. [52]
- 14 Good my mouse of virtue, answer me. Ib. [68]
- 15 O! you are sick of self-love, Malvolio. Ib. [96]
- 16 A plague o' these pickle herring! Ib. [127]
- 17 Not yet old enough for a man, nor young enough for a boy, as a squash is before 'tis a peascod, or a codling when 'tis almost an apple: 'tis with him in standing water, between boy and man. He is very well-favoured, and he speaks very shrewishly: one would think his mother's milk were scarce out of him Ib. [166]
- 18 I would be loath to cast away my speech, for besides that it is excellently well penned, I have taken great pains to con it. Ib. [184]
- 19 I can say little more than I have studied, and that question's out of my part. Ib. [191]
- 20 OLIVIA
'Tis in grain, sir; 'twill endure wind and weather.
VIOLA
'Tis beauty truly blent, whose red and white
Nature's own sweet and cunning hand laid on:
Lady, you are the cruell'st she alive
If you will lead these graces to the grave
And leave the world no copy. Ib. [257]
- 21 Item, Two lips, indifferent red; Item, Two grey eye with lids to them; Item, One neck, one chin, and so forth. Twelfth Night, 1. v. [26]
- 22 Make me a willow cabin at your gate,
And call upon my soul within the house;
Write loyal cantons of contemned love,
And sing them loud even in the dead of night;
Hailoo your name to the reverberate hills,
And make the babbling gossip of the air
Cry out, 'Olivia'. Ib. [289]
- 23 Farewell, fair cruelty. Ib. [309]
- 24 'What is your parentage?'
'Above my fortune, yet my state is well:
I am a gentleman.' Ib. [310]
- 25 She is drowned already, sir, with salt water, though I seem to drown her remembrance again with more. Ib. 11. 1 [31]
- 26 I am yet so near the manners of my mother, that upon the least occasion more mine eyes will tell tales of me. Ib. [42]
- 27 Not to be a-bed after midnight is to be up betimes. . . To be up after midnight and to go to bed then, is early, so that to go to bed after midnight is to go to bed betimes Ib. 111. [1 and 7]
- 28 O mistress mine! where are you roaming?
O! stay and hear, your true love's coming.
'That can sing both high and low.
Trip no further, pretty sweeting;
Journeys end in lovers meeting,
Every wise man's son doth know.
What is love? 'tis not hereafter,
Present mirth hath present laughter;
What's to come is still unsure:
In delay there lies no plenty,
Then come kiss me, sweet and twenty,
Youth's a stuff will not endure. Ib. [42]
- 29 Am not I consanguineous? am I not of her blood? Tillyvally, lady! Ib. [85]
- 30 He does it with a better grace, but I do it more natural. Ib. [91]
- 31 Is there no respect of place, persons, nor time, in you? Ib. [100]
- 32 SIR TONY:
Dost thou think, because thou art virtuous, there shall be no more cakes and ale?
CLOWN
Yes, by Saint Anne, and ginger shall be hot i' the mouth too. Ib. [124]
- 33 MARIA:
Marry, sir, sometimes he is a kind of puritan.
SIR ANDREW:
O, if I thought that, I'd beat him like a dog! Ib. [153]
- 34 I will drop in his way some obscure epistles of love, wherein by the colour of his beard, the shape of his leg, the manner of his gait, the expreasure of his eye, forehead, and complexion, he shall find himself most feelingly personated. Ib. [171]
- 35 My purpose is, indeed, a horse of that colour. Ib. [184]

1 Now, good Cesario, but that piece of song,
That old and antique song we heard last night;
Methought it did relieve my passion much,
More than light airs and recollected terms
Of these most brisk and giddy-paced times:
Come, but one verse. Twelfth Night, II. iv. 2

2 DUKE:

If ever thou shalt love,
In the sweet pangs of it remember me;
For such as I am all true lovers are:
Unstaid and skittish in all motions else,
Save in the constant image of the creature
That is belov'd. How dost thou like this tune?

VIOLA:

It gives a very echo to the seat
Where love is enthron'd.

Ib. 15

3 Let still the woman take
An elder than herself, so wears she to him,
So sways she level in her husband's heart:
For, boy, however we do praise ourselves,
Our fancies are more giddy and unfirm,
More longing, wavering, sooner lost and worn,
Than women's are.

Ib. 29

4 Then let thy love be younger than thyself,
Or thy affection cannot hold the bent.

Ib. 36

5 Mark it, Cesario; it is old and plain.
The spinsters and the knitters in the sun
And the free maids that weave their thread with bones
Do use to chant it: it is silly sooth,
And dallies with the innocence of love,
Like the old age.

Ib. 43

6 Come away, come away, death,
And in sad cypress let me be laid;
Fly away, fly away, breath:
I am slain by a fair cruel maid.
My shroud of white, stuck all with yew,
O! prepare it.
My part of death no one so true
Did share it.
Not a flower, not a flower sweet,
On my black coffin let there be strown;
Not a friend, not a friend greet
My poor corse, where my bones shall be thrown.
A thousand thousand sighs to save,
Lay me, O! where
Sad true lover never find my grave,
To weep there.

Ib. 51

7 Now, the melancholy god protect thee, and the tailor make thy doublet of changeable taffeta, for thy mind is a very opal.

Ib. [74]

8 Get thee to yond same sovereign cruelty:
Tell her, my love, more noble than the world,
Prizes not quantity of dirty lands.

Ib. [82]

9 There is no woman's sides
Can bide the beating of so strong a passion
As love doth give my heart; no woman's heart
So big, to hold so much; they lack retention.
Alas! their love may be call'd appetite,
No motion of the liver, but the palate,
That suffer surfeit, cloyment, and revolt;
But mine is all as hungry as the sea,
And can digest so much.

Ib. [95]

10 DUKE:

And what's her history?

VIOLA:

A blank, my lord. She never told her love,
But let concealment, like a worm i' the bud,
Feed on her damask cheek: she pin'd in thought;
And with a green and yellow melancholy,
She sat like patience on a monument,
Smiling at grief. Was not this love indeed?
We men may say more, swear more; but, indeed,
Our shows are more than will; for still we prove
Much in our vows, but little in our love.

Twelfth Night, II. iv. [111]

11 I am all the daughters of my father's house,
And all the brothers too.

Ib. [122]

12 How now, my metal of India!

Ib. v. [17]

13 Here comes the trout that must be caught with tickling.

Ib. [25]

14 Contemplation makes a rare turkey-cock of him:
how he jets under his advanced plumes!

Ib. [35]

15 In my branched velvet gown.

Ib. [54]

16 Now is the woodcock near the gin.

Ib. [93]

17 I may command where I adore.

Ib. [116]

18 But be not afraid of greatness: some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them.

Ib. [158]

19 Let thy tongue tang arguments of state; put thyself into the trick of singularity. She thus advises thee that sighs for thee. Remember who commended thy yellow stockings, and wished to see thee ever cross-gartered.

Ib. [165]

20 Jove and my stars be praised! Here is yet a postscript.

Ib. [189]

21 He will come to her in yellow stockings, and 'tis a colour she abhors; and cross-gartered, a fashion she detests.

Ib. [220]

22 Now Jove, in his next commodity of hair, send thee a beard.

Ib. III. i. [51]

23 This fellow's wise enough to play the fool,
And to do that well craves a kind of wit.

Ib. [68]

24 Taste your legs, sir; put them to motion.

Ib. [88]

25 Most excellent accomplished lady, the heavens rain
odours on you!

Ib. [96]

26 'Twas never merry world
Since lowly feigning was called compliment.

Ib. [110]

27 O world! how apt the poor are to be proud.

Ib. [141]

28 O! what a deal of scorn looks beautiful
In the contempt and anger of his lip.

Ib. [159]

29 Love sought is good, but giv'n unsought is better.

Ib. [170]

30 They have been grand-jurymen since before Noah was a sailor.

Ib. ii. [18]

31 You should then have accosted her, and with some excellent jests, fire-new from the mint, you should have banged the youth into dumbness.

Ib. [23]

32 Where you will hang like an icicle on a Dutchman's beard.

Ib. [30]

33 I had as lief be a Brownist as a politician.

Ib. [35]

34 Although the sheet were big enough for the bed of Ware in England.

Ib. [52]

- 1 Let there be gall enough in thy ink, though thou write with a goose-pen, no matter.
Twelfth Night, III. ii. [54]
- 2 If he were opened, and you find so much blood in his liver as will clog the foot of a flea, I'll eat the rest of the anatomy. Ib. [68]
- 3 Look, where the youngest wren of nine comes.
Ib. [73]
- 4 More lines than are in the new map with the augmentation of the Indies. Ib. [87]
- 5 In the south suburbs, at the Elephant. Ib. III. 39
- 6 I think we do know the sweet Roman hand.
Ib. IV. [31]
- 7 Why, this is very midsummer madness. Ib. [62]
- 8 What, man! defy the devil: consider, he's an enemy to mankind. Ib. [109]
- 9 Go, hang yourselves all! you are idle shallow things:
I am not of your element. Ib. [138]
- 10 If this were played upon a stage now, I could condemn it as an improbable fiction. Ib. [142]
- 11 More matter for a May morning. Ib. [158]
- 12 Still you keep o' the windy side of the law. Ib. [183]
- 13 Fare thee well; and God have mercy upon one of our souls! He may have mercy upon mine, but my hope is better; and so look to thyself. Ib. [185]
- 14 Nay, let me alone for swearing. Ib. [204]
- 15 He is knight dubbed with unhatched rapier, and on carpet consideration. Ib. [260]
- 16 I am one that had rather go with sir priest than sir knight; I care not who knows so much of my mettle. Ib. [300]
- 17 Out of my lean and low ability
I'll lend you something. Ib. [380]
- 18 I hate ingratitude more in a man
Than lying, vainness, babbling drunkenness,
Or any taint of vice whose strong corruption
Inhabits our frail blood. Ib. [390]
- 19 In nature there's no blemish but the mind;
None can be call'd deform'd but the unkind.
Ib. [403]
- 20 Out, hyperbolical fiend! Ib. IV. II. [29]
- 21 For I am one of those gentle ones that will use the devil himself with courtesy. Ib. [37]
- 22 CLOWN:
What is the opinion of Pythagoras concerning wild fowl?
MALVOLIO:
That the soul of our grandam might haply inhabit a bird.
CLOWN:
What thinkest thou of his opinion?
MALVOLIO:
I think nobly of the soul, and no way approve his opinion. Ib. [55]
- 23 Leave thy vain bibble-babble. Ib. [106]
- 24 We took him for a coward, but he's the very devil
incardinate. Ib. V. i. [185]
- 25 And made the most notorious geck and gull
That e'er invention play'd. Ib. [355]
- 26 And thus the whirligig of time brings in his revenges
Twelfth Night, V. i. [385]
- 27 When that I was and a little tiny boy,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
A foolish thing was but a toy,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came to man's estate,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
'Gainst knaves and thieves men shut their gates,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came, alas! to wive,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
By swaggering could I never thrive,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came unto my beds,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
With toss-pots still had drunken heads,
For the rain it raineth every day.
A great while ago the world begun,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
But that's all one, our play is done,
And we'll strive to please you every day. Ib. [401]
- 28 Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits.
The Two Gentlemen of Verona, I. i. 2
- 29 For he was more than over shoes in love. Ib. 24
- 30 I have no other but a woman's reason:
I think him so, because I think him so. Ib. II. 23
- 31 Fie, fie! how wayward is this foolish love
That, like a testy babe, will scratch the nurse
And presently all humbled kiss the rod! Ib. 55
- 32 Poor wounded name! my bosom, as a bed
Shall lodge thee till thy wound be thoroughly heal'd.
Ib. 111
- 33 O! how this spring of love resembleth
The uncertain glory of an April day. Ib. III. 64
- 34 Or as one nail by strength drives out another,
So the remembrance of my former love
Is by a newer object quite forgotten. Ib. II. IV. 194
- 35 He makes sweet music with th' enamell'd stones,
Giving a gentle kiss to every sedge
He overtaketh in his pilgrimage;
And so by many winding nooks he strays
With willing sport, to the wild ocean. Ib. VII. 28
- 36 Except I be by Silvia in the night,
There is no music in the nightgale;
Unless I look on Silvia in the day,
There is no day for me to look upon. Ib. III. I. 178
- 37 Ay,
Much is the force of heaven-bred poesy. Ib. II. 71
- 38 A man I am cross'd with adversity. Ib. IV. i. 12
- 39 You know that love
Will creep in service where it cannot go. Ib. II. 19
- 40 Who is Sylvia? what is she,
That all our swains commend her?
Holy, fair, and wise is she;
The heaven such grace did lend her,
That she might admire be.
Is she kind as she is fair?
For beauty lives with kindness:
Love doth to her eyes repair,
To help him of his blindness;
And, being help'd, inhabits there.

- Then to Silvia let us sing,
That Silvia is excelling;
She excels each mortal thing
Upon the dull earth dwelling;
To her let us garlands bring.
Two Gentlemen of Verona, iv. ii. 40
- 1 How use doth breed a habit in a man! Ib. v. iv. 1
- 2 O heaven! were man
But constant, he were perfect. Ib. 110
- 3 Two lads that thought there was no more behind
But such a day to-morrow as to-day,
And to be boy eternal. The Winter's Tale, i. ii. 63
- 4 We were as twinn'd lambs that did frisk i' the sun,
And bleat the one at the other: what we chang'd
Was innocence for innocence; we knew not
The doctrine of ill-doing, no, nor dream'd
That any did. Ib. 67
- 5 Three crabbed months had sour'd themselves to death,
Ere I could make thee open thy white hand
And clap thyself my love. Ib. 102
- 6 Paddling palms and pinching fingers. Ib. 116
- 7 Still virginalling
Upon his palm. Ib. 126
- 8 Affection! thy intention stabs the centre:
Thou dost make possible things not so held,
Communicat'st with dreams. Ib. 139
- 9 How like, methought, I then was to this kernel,
This squash, this gentleman. Ib. 160
- 10 A sad tale's best for winter.
I have one of sprites and goblins. Ib. ii. i. 24
- 11 It is a heretic that makes the fire,
Not she which burns in 't. Ib. iii. 114

- 16 When daffodils begin to peer,
With heigh! the doxy, over the dale,
Why, then comes in the sweet o' the year;
For the red blood reigns in the winter's pale.
The white sheet bleaching on the hedge,
With heigh! the sweet birds, O, how they sing!
Doth set my pugging tooth on edge;
For a quart of ale is a dish for a king.
The lark, that tirra-lirra chants,
With, heigh! with, heigh! the thrush and the jay,
Are summer songs for me and my aunts,
While we lie tumbling in the hay. Ib. iv. ii. 1
- 17 But shall I go mourn for that, my dear? Ib. [15]
- 18 A snapper-up of unconsidered trifles. Ib. [26]
- 19 For the life to come, I sleep out the thought of it. Ib. [30]
- 20 Prig, for my life, prig; he haunts wakes, fairs, and bear-baitings. Ib. [109]
- 21 Jog on, jog on the foot-path way,
And merrily hent the stile-a:
A merry heart goes all the day,
Your sad tires in a mile-a. Ib. [133]
- 22 For you there's rosemary and rue; these keep Seeming and savour all the winter long.
The Winter's Tale, iv. iii. 74
- 23 The fairest flowers o' the season
Are our carnations and streak'd gillyvors,
Which some call nature's bastards. Ib. 81
- 24 Yet nature is made better by no mean
But nature makes that mean. Ib. 89
- 25 Here's flowers for you;
Hot lavender, mints, savory, marjoram;
The marigold, that goes to bed wi' the sun,
And with him rises weeping. Ib. 103
- 26 O Proserpina!
For the flowers now that frighted thou let'st fall
From Dis's waggon! daffodils,
That come before the swallow dares, and take
The winds of March with beauty; violets dim,
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes
Or Cytherea's breath; pale prime-roses,
That die unmarried, ere they can behold
Bright Phoebus in his strength,—a malady
Most incident to maids; bold oxlips and
The crown imperial; lilies of all kinds,
The flower-de-luce being one. Ib. 116
- 27 PERDITA: Sure this robe of mine
Doth change my disposition.
FLORIZEL: What you do
Still betters what is done. When you speak, sweet,
I'd have you do it ever: when you sing,
I'd have you buy and sell so; so give alms;
Pray so; and, for the ordering your affairs,
To sing them too: when you do dance, I wish you
A wave o' the sea, that you might ever do
Nothing but that; move still, still so,
And own no other function: each your doing,
So singular in each particular,
Crowns what you are doing in the present deed,
That all your acts are queens. Ib. 134
- 28 Good sooth, she is
The queen of curds and cream. Ib. 160

- 30 I love a ballad in print, a-life, for then we are sure they are true. Ib. [262]
- 31 The self-same sun that shines upon his court
Hides not his visage from our cottage, but Looks on alike. Ib. [457]
- 32 Being now awake, I'll queen it no inch further,
But milk my ewes and weep. Ib. [462]
- 33 Prosperity's the very bond of love,
Whose fresh complexion and whose heart together
Affliction alters. Ib. [586]
- 34 Ha, ha! what a fool Honesty is! and Trust his sworn brother, a very simple gentleman! Ib. [608]
- 35 Though I am not naturally honest, I am so sometimes by chance. Ib. [734]
- 36 That rare Italian master, Julio Romano. Ib. v. ii. [108]
- 37 Thou art a tall fellow of thy hands. Ib. [185]
- 38 'Tis time; descend; be stone no more; approach. Ib. iii. 99

- 1 Like stones of worth they thinly placed are,
Or captain jewels in the carconet. Sonnets, 52
- 2 What is your substance, whereof are you made,
That millions of strange shadows on you tend? Ib. 53
- 3 You in Grecian tires are painted new. Ib.
- 4 The spring and foison of the year. Ib.
- 5 O! how much more doth beauty beauteous seem
By that sweet ornament which truth doth give! Ib. 54
- 6 Not marble, nor the gilded monuments
Of princes, shall outlive this powerful rhyme. Ib. 55
- 7 Being your slave, what should I do but tend Upon the hours and times of your desire?
I have no precious time at all to spend,
Nor services to do, till you require.
Nor dare I chide the world-without-end hour
Whilst I, my sovereign, watch the clock for you,
Nor think the bitterness of absence sour
When you have bid your servant once adieu;
Nor dare I question with my jealous thought
Where you may be, or your affairs suppose,
But like a sad slave, stay and think of nought
Save, where you are, how happy you make those.
So true a fool is love that in your will,
Though you do anything, he thinks no ill. Ib. 57
- 8 Like as the waves make towards the pebbled shore,
So do our minutes hasten to their end. Ib. 60
- 9 Time doth transfix the flourish set on youth
And delves the parallels in beauty's brow. Ib.
- 10 Sin of self-love possesseth all mine eye. Ib. 62
- 11 When I have seen by Time's fell hand defac'd
The rich-proud cost of outworn buried age. Ib. 64
- 12 When I have seen the hungry ocean gain Advantage on the kingdom of the shore. Ib.
- 13 Since brass, nor stone, nor earth, nor boundless sea,
But sad mortality o'ersways their power,
How with this rage shall beauty hold a plea,
Whose action is no stronger than a flower? Ib. 65
- 14 Tir'd with all these, for restful death I cry,
As to behold desert a beggar born,
And needy nothing trimm'd in jollity,
And purest faith unhappily forsworn,
And gilded honour shamefully misplac'd,
And maiden virtue rudely strumpeted,
And right perfection wrongfully disgrac'd,
And strength by limping sway disabled,
And art made tongue-tied by authority,
And folly—doctor-like—controlling skill,
And simple truth miscall'd simplicity,
And captive good attending captain ill:
Tir'd with all these, from these I would be gone,
Save that, to die, I leave my love alone. Ib. 66
- 15 No longer mourn for me when I am dead
Than you shall hear the surly sullen bell
Give warning to the world that I am fled
From this vile world, with vilest worms to dwell. Ib. 71
- 16 That time of year thou mayst in me behold
When yellow leaves, or none, or few, do hang Upon those boughs which shake against the cold,
Bare ruin'd choirs, where late the sweet birds sang.
- In me thou see'st the twilight of such day
As after sunset fadeth in the west;
Which by and by black night doth take away,
Death's second self, that seals up all in rest. Sonnets, 73
- 17 This thou perceiv'st, which makes thy love more
strong,
To love that well which thou must leave ere long. Ib.
- 18 So all my best is dressing old words new. Ib. 76
- 19 Like unletter'd clerk, still cry 'Amen'. Ib. 85
- 20 Was it the proud full sail of his great verse,
Bound for the prize of all too precious you,
That did my ripe thoughts in my brain inhearse,
Making their tomb the womb wherein they grew? Ib. 86
- 21 That affable familiar ghost
Which nightly gulls him with intelligence. Ib.
- 22 Farewell! thou art too dear for my possessing,
And like enough thou know'st thy estimate:
The charter of thy worth gives thee releasing;
My bonds in thee are all determinate.
For how do I hold thee but by thy granting?
And for that riches where is my deserving?
The cause of this fair gift in me is wanting,
And so my patent back again is swerving.
Thyself thou gav'st, thy own worth then not knowing,
Or me, to whom thou gav'st it, else mistaking;
So thy great gift, upon misprision growing,
Comes home again, on better judgment making.
Thus have I had thee, as a dream doth flatter,
In sleep a king, but, waking, no such matter. Ib. 87
- 23 Ah, do not, when my heart hath 'scap'd this sorrow,
Come in the rearward of a conquer'd woe;
Give not a windy night a rainy morrow,
To linger out a purpos'd overthrow. Ib. 90
- 24 They that have power to hurt and will do none,
That do not do the thing they most do show,
Who, moving others, are themselves as stone,
Unmoved, cold, and to temptation slow. Ib. 94
- 25 They are the lords and owners of their faces,
Others but stewards of their excellence.
The summer's flower is to the summer sweet,
Though to itself it only live and die. Ib.
- 26 Lilies that fester smell far worse than weeds. Ib.
- 27 How like a winter hath my absence been
From thee, the pleasure of the fleeting year!
What freezings have I felt, what dark days seen!
What old December's bareness every where! Ib. 97
- 28 From you have I been absent in the spring,
When proud-pied April, dress'd in all his trim,
Hath put a spirit of youth in every thing. Ib. 98
- 29 To me, fair friend, you never can be old,
For as you were when first your eye I ey'd,
Such seems your beauty still. Three winters cold
Have from the forests shook three summers' pride,
Three beauteous springs to yellow autumn turn'd
In process of the seasons have I seen,
Three April perfumes in three hot Junes burn'd,
Since first I saw you fresh, which yet are green.
Ah! yet doth beauty, like a dial-hand,
Steal from his figure, and no pace perceiv'd;
So your sweet hue, which methinks still doth stand,

Hath motion and mine eye may be deceiv'd
For fear of which, hear this, thou age unbred
Ere you were born was beauty's summer dead

Sonnets, 101

1 And beauty, making beautiful old rhyme Ib 106

2 Not mine own fears, nor the prophetic soul
Of the wide world dreaming on things to come,
Can yet the lease of my true love control,
Suppos'd as forfeit to a confin'd doom
The mortal moon hath her eclipse endur'd,
And the sad augurs mock their own presage Ib 107

3 And thou in this shalt find thy monument,
When tyrants' crests and tombs of brass are spent Ib

4 O! never say that I was false of heart,
Though absence seem'd my flame to qualify Ib 109

5 Alas! 'tis true I have gone here and there,
And made myself a motley to the view,
Gord mine own thoughts sold cheap what is most
dear,
Made old offences of affections new,
Most true it is that I have look'd on truth
Askance and strangely, but, by all above,
These blenches gave my heart another youth
And worse essays prov'd thee my best of love Ib 110

6 My nature is subdu'd
To what it works in like the dyer's hand,
Pity me, then, and wish I were renew'd Ib 111

7 Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove
O no! it is an ever fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken,
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken

Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come,
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom
If this be error, and upon me prov'd,
I never writ nor no man ever lov'd Ib 116

8 What potions have I drunk of Siren tears,
Distill'd from limbeck's fowl as hell within Ib 119

9 O benefit of ill! now I find true
That better is by evil still made better Ib

10 'Tis better to be vile than vile esteem'd,
When not to be receives reproach of being Ib 121

11 The expense of spirit in a waste of shame
Is lust in action; and till action, lust
Is perjur'd, murderous, bloody, full of blame,
Savage, extreme, rude, cruel, not to trust Ib 129

12 Mad in pursuit and in possession so,
Had having and in quest to have, extreme,
A bliss in proof—and prov'd a very woe,
Before a joy propos'd behind, a dream
All this the world well knows, yet none knows well
To shun the heaven that leads men to this hell Ib

13 My mistress' eyes are nothing like the sun,
Coral is far more red than her lips' red
If snow be white, why then her breasts are dun,
If hairs be wires, black wires grow on her head Ib 130

14 And yet, by heaven, I think my love as rare
As any she belied with false compare Sonnets, 130

15 Whoever hath her wish, thou hast thy Will,
And Will to boot, and Will in over-plus Ib 133

16 When my love swears that she is made of tru h
I do believe her, though I know she lies Ib 138

17 Lo, as a careful housewife runs to catch
One of her feather'd creatures broke away Ib 143

18 Two loves I have of comfort and despair,
Which like two spirits do suggest me still
The better angel is a man right fair,
The worse spirit a woman colour'd ill Ib 144

19 Yet this shall I ne'er know, but live in doubt,
Till my bad angel fire my good one out. Ib

20 Poor soul, the centre of my sinful earth,
[I ool d by] these rebel por ers that thee array,
Why dost thou pine within and suffer dearth,
Painting thy outward walls so costly gay?
Why so large cost, having so short a lease,
Dost thou upon thy fading mansion spend? Ib 146

21 So shalt thou feed on Death, that feeds on men
And Death once dead, there's no more dying then. Ib

22 For I have sworn thee fair, and thought thee bright
Who art as black as hell, as dark as night Ib 147

23 Love is too young to know what conscience is,
Yet who knows not conscience is born of love? Ib 151

24 The first heir of my invention
Venus and Adams, Preface

25 Hunting he lov'd, but love he laugh'd to scorn Ib 1 4

26 Bid me discourse, I will enchant thine ear,
Or like a fairy trip upon the green,
Or, like a nymph with long dishevell'd hair,
Dance on the sands, and yet no footing seen
Love is a spirit all compact of fire,
Not gross to sink, but light, and will aspire Ib 1 145

27 Round-hoof'd, short jointed, fetlocks shag and long
Broad breast, full eye, small head and nostril wide,
High crest, short ears, strught legs and passing
strong,

Thin mane thick tail, broad buttock, tender hide
Look, what a horse should have he did not lack Save a proud rider on so proud a back Ib 1 295

28 By this, poor Wat, far off upon a hill
Stands on his hinder legs with listening ear,
To hearken if his foes pursue him still Ib 1 697

29 Good friend for Jesu's sake forbear
To dig the dust enclosed here
Blest be the man that spares these stones,
And curst be he that moves my bones
Shakespeare's Epitaph (chosen by himself for his tomb at Stratford-on-Avon)

30 Item I give unto my wife my second best bed with the furniture Will, 1616

- 1 O Britannia, the pride of the ocean,
The home of the brave and the free,
The shrine of the sailor's devotion,
No land can compare unto thee!

The Doctor's Dilemma (1906), Act I
- 20 All professions are conspiracies against the laity. Ib.

- 21 I believe in Michael Angelo, Velasquez, and Rembrandt; in the might of design, the mystery of color,
the redemption of all things by Beauty everlasting,
and the message of Art that has made these hands
blessed. The Doctor's Dilemma (1906), Act IV
- 22 With the single exception of Homer, there is no eminent writer, not even Sir Walter Scott, whom I can despise so entirely as I despise Shakespeare when I measure my mind against his. . . . It would positively be a relief to me to dig him up and throw stones at him.

Fanny's First Play (1911), Induction
- 25 You don't expect me to know what to say about a play when I don't know who the author is, do you?
. . . If it's by a good author, it's a good play, naturally.
That stands to reason. Ib. Epilogue
- 26 What God hath joined together no man shall ever put asunder: God will take care of that.
Getting Married (1911), p. 216
- 27 When you loved me I gave you the whole sun and stars to play with. I gave you eternity in a single moment, strength of the mountains in one clasp of your arms, and the volume of all the seas in one impulse of your soul. Ib. p. 278
- 28 We possessed all the universe together; and you ask me to give you my scanty wages as well. I have given you the greatest of all things; and you ask me to give you little things. I gave you your own it not enough? Was it not enough? Ib.

- 29 I cannot bear men and women.
Heartbreak House (1919), Act II
- 30 Go anywhere in England, where there are natural, wholesome, contented, and really nice English people; and what do you always find? That the stables are the real centre of the household.
Ib. Act III
- 31 The captain is in his bunk, drinking bottled ditch-water; and the crew is gambling in the fore-castle.
She will strike and sink and split. Do you think the laws of God will be suspended in favour of England because you were born in it? Ib.
- 32 Money is indeed the most important thing in the world; and all sound and successful personal and national morality should have this fact for its basis.
The Irrational Knot (1905), Preface, p. xiv

ception. Ib. ch. 18

- 1 The Pilgrim of Eternity, whose fame
Over his living head like Heaven is bent,
An early but enduring monument,
Came, veiling all the lightnings of his song
In sorrow. Adonais, xxx
- 2 A pard-like Spirit, beautiful and swift—
A Love in desolation masked,—a Power
Girt round with weakness,—it can scarce uplift
The weight of the superincumbent hour,
It is a dying lamp, a falling shower,
A breaking billow,—even whilst we speak.
Is it not broken? Ib xxxiii
- 3 A herd—abandoned deer struck by the hunter's dart

- 4 Our Adonais has drunk poison—oh!
What deaf and viperous murderer could crown
Life's early cup with such a draught of woe?
Ib xxxv
- 5 He wakes or sleeps with the enduring dead,
Thou canst not soar where he is sitting now—
Dust to the dust! but the pure spirit shall flow
Back to the burning fountain whence it came,
A portion of the Eternal Ib xxxviii
- 6 He hath awakened from the dream of life—
'Tis we, who lost in stormy visions, keep
With phantoms an unprofitable strife,
And in mad trance, strike with our spirit a knife
Invulnerable nothings Ib xxxiv
- 7 He has out-soared the shadow of our night,
Envy and calumny and hate and pain
And that unrest which men miscall delight,
Can touch him not and torture not again,
From the contagion of the world a slow stain
He is secure, and now can never mourn
A heart grown cold, a head grown grey in vain Ib xl
- 8 He lives, he wakes,—'tis Death is dead, not he Ib xli
- 9 He is made one with Nature: there is heard
His voice in all her music, from the moan
Of thunder, to the song of night's sweet bird Ib xlii

- 14 What Adonais is, why fear we to become? Ib li
- 15 The One remains, the many change and pass,
Heaven's light forever shines, Earth's shadows fly,
Life, like a dome of many coloured glass,
Stains the white radiance of Eternity. Ib lii
- 16 The soul of Adonais, like a star,
Beacons from the abode where the Eternal are Ib lv
- 17 The lone Chorasman shore Alastor, l 272
- 18 But thou art fled

Nature's vast frame, the web of human things,
Birth and the grave, that are not as they were Alastor, l 718
- 20 Arethusa arose
From her couch of snows
In the Acroceraunian mountains,—
From cloud and from crag,
With many a jag,
Shepherding her bright fountains. Arethusa
- 21 Like friends once parted
Grown single-hearted Ib
- 22 'Do you not hear the Aziola cry?
'Methinks she must be nigh,'
Said Mary as we sat
In dusk, ere stars were lit, or candles brought,
And I, who thought
This Aziola was some tedious woman,
Asked, 'Who is Aziola?' The Aziola
- 23 Give yourself no unnecessary pain,
My dear Lord Cardinal Here, Mother, tie
My girdle for me, and bind up this hair
In any simple knot, as, that does well
And yours I see is coming down How often
Have we done this for one another, now
We shall not do it any more My Lord,
We are quite ready Well, 'tis very well
The Cecilia, v. iv 153
- 24 A widow bird sate mourning for her love
Upon a wintry bough,
The frozen wind crept on above,
The freezing stream below
There was no leaf upon the forest bare,
No flower upon the ground,
And little motion in the air
Except the mill wheel's sound
Charles the First, sc v, l 10
- 25 I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams,
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams The Cloud
- 26 I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under,
And then again I dissolve it in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder Ib
- 27 I sift the snow on the mountains below,
And their great pines grown aglaze,
And all the night 'tis my pillow white,
While I sleep in the arms of the blast
Sublime on the towers of my sky bowers,
Lightning my pilot sits,
In a cavern under is fettered the thunder,
It struggles and howls at fits Ib
- 28 And I all the while bask in Heaven's blue smile,
Whilst he is dissolving in rains Ib
- 29 That orb'd maiden, with white fire laden,
Whom mortals call the Moon,
Glides glimmering o'er my fleece-lil'e floor,
By the midnight breezes strewn;
And wherever the beat of her unseen feet,
Which only the angels hear,
May have broken the roof of my tent's thin roof,
The stars peep behind her and peer,
And I laugh to see them whirl and flee
Like a swarm of golden bees,

- When I widen the rent in my wind-built tent,
Till the calm rivers, lakes, and seas,
Like strips of the sky fallen through me on high,
Are each paved with the moon and these.
The Cloud
- 1 I am the daughter of Earth and Water,
And the nursling of the Sky;
I pass through the pores of the ocean and shores;
I change, but I cannot die.
For after the rain when with never a stain
The pavilion of Heaven is bare,
And the winds and sunbeams with their convex gleams
Build up the blue dome of air,
I silently laugh at my own cenotaph,
And out of the caverns of rain,
Like a child from the womb, like a ghost from the tomb,
I arise and unbuild it again. Ib.
- 2 How wonderful is Death,
Death and his brother Sleep!
One pale as yonder wan and horned moon,
With lips of lurid blue,
The other glowing like the vital morn,
When throned on ocean's wave
It breathes over the world:
Yet both so passing strange and wonderful!
The Daemon of the World, Part 1, l. 1
- 3 My Song, I fear that thou wilt find but few
Who fitly shall conceive thy reasoning,
Of such hard matter dost thou entertain.
Epipsychidion. Advertisement
- 4 My last delight! tell them that they are dull,
And bid them own that thou art beautiful. Ib.
- 5 Sweet as stops
Of planetary music heard in trance. Ib. l. 85
- 6 The spirit of the worm beneath the sod
In love and worship, blends itself with God. Ib. l. 128
- 7 The fields of Immortality. Ib. l. 133
- 8 Are we not formed, as notes of music are,
For one another, though dissimilar. Ib. l. 142
- 9 I never was attached to that great sect,
Whose doctrine is, that each one should select
Out of the crowd a mistress or a friend,
And all the rest, though fair and wise, commend
To cold oblivion. Ib. l. 149
- 10 Who travel to their home among the dead
By the broad highway of the world, and so
With one chained friend, perhaps a jealous foe,
The dreariest and the longest journey go. Ib. l. 156
- 11 True Love in this differs from gold and clay,
That to divide is not to take away. Ib. l. 160
- 12 A ship is floating in the harbour now,
A wind is hovering o'er the mountain's brow;
There is a path on the sea's azure floor,
No keel has ever ploughed that path before. Ib. l. 408
- 13 An isle under Ionian skies,
Beautiful as a wreck of Paradise. Ib. l. 422
- 14 Day and night, aloof, from the high towers
And terraces, the Earth and Ocean seem
To sleep in one another's arms, and dream
Of waves, flowers, clouds, woods, rocks, and all that we Read in their smiles, and call reality. Ib. l. 508
- 15 I pant, I sink, I tremble, I expire!
Epipsychidion, l. 591
- 16 Chameleons feed on light and air:
Poets' food is love and fame. An Exhortation
- 17 And bloody Faith the foulest birth of time.
Feelings of a Republican

Fragment: My head is wild
- 20 My spirit like a charmed bark doth swim
Upon the liquid waves of thy sweet singing.
Fragment: To One Singing
- 21 Good-night? ah! no; the hour is ill
Which severs those it should unite;
Let us remain together still,
Then it will be good night. Good Night
- 22 To hearts which near each other move
From evening close to morning light,
The night is good; because, my love,
They never say good-night. Ib.
- 23 Life may change, but it may fly not;
Hope may vanish, but can die not;
Truth be veiled, but still it burneth;
Love repulsed,—but it returneth! Hellas, l. 34
- 24 Let there be light! said Liberty,
And like sunrise from the sea,
Athens arose! Ib. l. 682
- 25 The world's great age begins anew,
The golden years return,
The earth doth like a snake renew
Her winter weeds outworn;
Heaven smiles, and faiths and empires gleam,
Like wrecks of a dissolving dream.
A brighter Hellas rears its mountains
From waves serener far;
A new Peneus rolls his fountains
Against the morning star.
Where fairer Tempes bloom, there sleep
Young Cyclads on a sunnier deep.
A loftier Argo cleaves the main,
Fraught with a later prize;
Another Orpheus sings again,
And loves, and weeps, and dies.
A new Ulysses leaves once more Calypso for his native shore. Ib. l. 1060
- 26 Riddles of death Thebes never knew. Ib. l. 1083
- 27 Another Athens shall arise,
And to remoter time
Bequeath, like sunset to the skies,
The splendour of its prime;
And leave, if nought so bright may live,
All earth can take or Heaven can give.
Saturn and Love their long repose
Shall burst, more bright and good
Than all who fell, than One who rose,
Than many unsubdued:
Not gold, not blood, their altar dowers,
But votive tears and symbol flowers.

- 1 Within the surface of Time's fleeting river
Its wrinkled image lies, as then it lay
Immovably unquiet, and for ever
It trembles, but it cannot pass away!
Ode to Liberty, l 76
- 2 I stood within the City disinterred,
And heard the autumnal leaves like light footfalls
Of spirits passing through the streets, and heard
The Mountain's slumbrous voice at intervals
Thrill through those roofless halls
Ode to Naples l 1

Ib l 58
- 4 O wild West Wind, thou breath of Autumn's being,
Thou, from whose unseen presence the leaves dead
Are driven, like ghosts from an enchanter fleeing,
Yellow, and black, and pale and hectic red,
Pestilence-stricken multitudes O thou,
Who chariotest to their dark wintry bed
The winged seeds, where they lie cold and low,
Each like a corpse within its grave, until Thine azure sister of the spring shall blow
Her clanion o'er the dreaming earth, and fill (Driving sweet buds like flocks to feed in air)
With living hues and odours plain and hill
Wild Spirit, which art moving everywhere,
Destroyer and preserver, hear, oh, hear!
Ode to the West Wind, l 1
- 5 Shook from the tangled boughs of Heaven and Ocean,
Angels of rain and lightning Ib l 17
- 6 Like the bright hair uplifted from the head
Of some fierce Maenad Ib l 20
- 7 Thou dirge
Of the dying year, to which this closing night
Will be the dome of a vast sepulchre. Ib l 23
- 8 Thou who didst waken from his summer dreams
The blue Mediterranean, where he lay,
Lulled by the coil of his crystalline streams
Beside a pumice isle in Baiae's bay,
And saw in sleep old palaces and towers
Quivering within the wave's intenser day,
All overgrown with azure moss and flowers
So sweet, the sense faints picturing them Ib l 29
- 9 Far below
The sea blooms and the oozy woods which wear
The sapless foliage of the ocean, know
Thy voice and suddenly grow gray with fear,
And tremble and despoil themselves Ib l 38
- 10 If I were a dead leaf thou mightest bear,
If I were a swift cloud to fly with thee,
A wave to pant beneath thy power, and share
The impulse of thy strength, only less free
Than thou, O uncontrollable! If even
I were as in my boyhood, and could be
The comrade of thy wanderings over Heaven,
As then, when to outstrip thy skiey speed
Scarce seemed a vision, I would ne'er have striven
As thus with thee in prayer in my sore need,
Oh, lift me as a wave, a leaf, a cloud!
I fall upon the thorns of life! I bleed! Ib l 43
- 11 Make me thy lyre, even as the forest is
What if my leaves are falling like its own?
The tumult of thy mighty harmonies
Will take from both a deep, autumnal tone,
Sweet though in sadness Be thou, Spirit fierce,
My spirit! Be thou me, impetuous one!
Drive my dead thoughts over the universe
Like withered leaves to quicken a new birth!
And, by the incantation of this verse,
Scatter, as from an unextinguished hearth
Ashes and sparks, my words among mankind!
Be through my lips to unawakened earth
The trumpet of a prophecy! O Wind,
If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?
Ode to the West Wind, 37
- 12 Or anything, as the learned Boar observed
Oedipus Tyrannus, II 1 105
- 13 I met a traveller from an antique land

A populous and smoky city
Peter Bell the Third, pt 3 Hell, 1
- 17 But from the first 'twas Peter a drift
To be a kind of moral eunuch,
He touched the hem of Nature's shift,
Felt faint—and never dared uplift
The closest, all-concealing tunic. Ib pt 4 Sin, xi

The Magus Zoroaster, my dead child,
Met his own image walking in the garden,
That apparition, sole of men, he saw.

- 24 The good want power, but to weep barren tears
The powerful goodness want worse need for them
The wise want love, and those who love want wisdom Ib 625
- 25 Thy words are like a cloud of winged snakes,
And yet I pity those they torture not Ib 632
- 26 Peace is in the grave
The grave hides all things beautiful and good
I am a God and cannot find it there Ib 638

- 1 The dust of creeds outworn.
Prometheus Unbound, I. 697
- 2 On a poet's lips I slept
Dreaming like a love-adept
In the sound his breathing kept;
Nor seeks nor finds he mortal blisses,
But feeds on the ærial kisses
Of shapes that haunt thought's wildernesses.
He will watch from dawn to gloom
The lake-reflected sun illumine
The yellow bees in the ivy-bloom,
Nor heed, nor see, what things they be;
But from these create he can
Forms more real than living man,
Nurslings of immortality! Ib. 737
- 3 That sense, which when the winds of Spring
In rarest visitation, or the voice
Of one beloved heard in youth alone,
Fills the faint eyes with falling tears which dim
The radiant looks of unbewailing flowers,
And leaves this peopled earth a solitude
When it returns no more. Ib. II. iv. 12
- 4 To be
Omnipotent but friendless is to reign. Ib. 47
- 5 He gave man speech, and speech created thought,
Which is the measure of the universe. Ib. 73
- 6 All spirits are enslaved which serve things evil. Ib. 110
- 7 Fate, Time, Occasion, Chance, and Change? To these
All things are subject but eternal Love. Ib. 119
- 8 My coursers are fed with the lightning,
They drink of the whirlwind's stream,
And when the red morning is bright'ning
They bathe in the fresh sunbeam. Ib. 163
- 9 Life of Life! thy lips enkindle
With their love the breath between them;
And thy smiles before they dwindle
Make the cold air fire; then screen them
In those looks, where whoso gazes
Faints, entangled in their mazes.
Child of Light! thy limbs are burning
Through the vest which seems to hide them;
As the radiant lines of morning
Through the clouds ere they divide them;
And this atmosphere divinest
Shrouds thee wheresoe'er thou shinest. Ib. v. 48
- 10 My soul is an enchanted boat,
Which, like a sleeping swan, doth float
Upon the silver waves of thy sweet singing. Ib. 72
- 11 Death is the veil which those who live call life:
They sleep, and it is lifted. Ib. III. iii. 113
- 12 The loathsome mask has fallen, the man remains
Sceptreless, free, uncircumscribed, but man
Equal, unclassed, tribeless, and nationless,
Exempt from awe, worship, degree, the king
Over himself; just, gentle, wise: but man
Passionless?—no, yet free from guilt or pain,
Which were, for his will made or suffered them,
Nor yet exempt, though ruling them like slaves,
From chance, and death, and mutability,
The clogs of that which else might oversoar
The loftiest star of unascended heaven,
Pinnacled dim in the intense inane. Ib. 193
- 13 Familiar acts are beautiful through love. Ib. IV. 403
- 14 Language is a perpetual Orphic song,
Which rules with Daedal harmony a throng
Of thoughts and forms, which else senseless and shapeless were. Prometheus Unbound, IV. 415

Beyond Heaven's constellated wilderness. Ib. 531
- 16 A traveller from the cradle to the grave
Through the dim night of this immortal day. Ib. 551
- 17 To suffer woes which Hope thinks infinite;
To forgive wrongs darker than death or night;
To defy Power, which seems omnipotent;
To love, and bear; to hope till Hope creates
From its own wreck the thing it contemplates;
Neither to change, nor falter, nor repent;
This, like thy glory, Titan, is to be Good, great and joyous, beautiful and free;
This is alone Life, Joy, Empire and Victory. Ib. 570
- 18 How wonderful is Death,
Death and his brother Sleep! Queen Mab, c. 1, l. 1
- 19 That sweet bondage which is freedom's self. Ib. c. 9, l. 76
- 20 I dreamed that, as I wandered by the way,
Bare Winter suddenly was changed to Spring,
And gentle odours led my steps astray,
Mixed with a sound of water's murmuring
Along a shelving bank of turf, which lay
Under a copse, and hardly dared to fling
Its green arms round the bosom of the stream,
But kissed it and then fled, as thou mightst in dream. The Question
- 21 There grew pied wind-flowers and violets,
Daisies, those pearly Arcturi of the earth,
The constellated flower that never sets. Ib.
- 22 And in the warm hedge grew lush eglantine,
Green cowbind and the moonlight-coloured may,
And cherry-blossoms, and white cups, whose wine
Was the bright dew, yet drained not by the day;
And wild roses, and ivy serpentine,
With its dark buds and leaves, wandering astray;
And flowers azure, black, and streaked with gold,
Fairer than any wakened eyes behold. Ib.
- 23 And nearer to the river's trembling edge
There grew broad flag-flowers, purple, pranked with white,
And starry river buds among the sedge,
And floating water-lilies, broad and bright. Ib.

- 25 A Sensitive Plant in a garden grew.
The Sensitive Plant, pt. 1, l. 1
- 26 And the rose like a nymph to the bath addressed,
Which unveiled the depth of her glowing breast,
Till, fold after fold, to the fainting air
The soul of her beauty and love lay bare. Ib. l. 29
- 27 And the jessamine faint, and the sweet tuberose,
The sweetest flower for scent that blows. Ib. l. 37
- 28 It is a modest creed, and yet
Pleasant if one considers it,
To own that death itself must be Like all the rest, a mockery. Ib. Conclusion

- 1 Hail to thee, blithe Spirit!
Bird thou never wert,
That from Heaven, or near it,
Pourest thy full heart
In profuse strains of unpremeditated art. To a Skylark
- 2 And singing still dost soar, and soaring ever singest Ib
- 3 Like an unbodied joy whose race is just begun Ib
- 4 Thou art unseen, but yet I hear thy shrill delight Ib
- 5 Keen as are the arrows
Of that silver sphere,
Whose intense lamp narrows
In the white dawn clear
Until we hardly see,—we feel that it is there Ib
- 6 Like a Poet hidden
In the light of thought,
Singing hymns unbidden,
Till the world is wrought
To sympathy with hopes and fears it heeded not Like a high-born maiden
In a palace tower,
Soothing her love-laden
Soul in secret hour
With music sweet as love, which overflows her bower Ib
- 7 Chorus Hymeneal,
Or triumphal chant,
Matched with thine would be all
But an empty vaunt,
A thing wherein we feel there is some hidden want. Ib
- 8 What objects are the fountains
Of thy happy strain?
What fields, or waves, or mountains?
What shapes of sky or plain?
What love of thine own kind? what ignorance of pain? Ib
- 9 With thy clear keen joyance
Languor cannot be
Shadow of annoyance
Never came near thee
Thou lovest—but ne'er knew love's sad satiety
Waking or asleep,
Thou of death must deem Things more true and deep
Than we mortals dream,
Or how could thy notes flow in such a crystal stream?
We look before and after,
We pine for what is not,
Our sincerest laughter
With some pain is fraught,
Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought Ib
- 10 Better than all measures
Of delightful sound,
Better than all treasures
That in books are found,
Thy skill to poet were, thou scorner of the ground!
Teach me half the gladness
That thy brain must know,
Such harmonious madness
From my lips would flow
The world should listen then—as I am listening now Ib
- 11 Rarely, rarely, comest thou,
Spirit of Delight! Song Rarely, Rarely, Comest Thou
- 12 I love all that thou lovest,
Spirit of Delight
The fresh Earth in new leaves dressed,
And the starry night,
Autumn evening, and the morn
When the golden mists are born Ib
- 13 I love snow, and all the forms
Of the radiant frost Ib
- 14 Everything almost
Which is Nature's, and may be Untainted by man's misery. Ib
- 15 I love tranquil solitude,
And such society
As is quiet, wise, and good,
Between thee and me
What difference? but thou dost possess
The things I seek, not love them less Ib
- 16 I love Love—though he has wings,
And like light can flee,
But above all other things,
Spirit, I love thee—
Thou art love and life! Oh, come,
Make once more my heart thy home. Ib

- 20 He sought,
For his lost heart was tender, things to love,
But found them not, alas! nor was there aught
The world contrains, the which he could approve
Through the unheeding many he did move,
A splendour among shadows, a bright blot
Upon this gloomy scene a Spirit that strove
For truth, and like the Preacher found it not Ib
- 21 The City's voice itself is soft like Solitude's
Stanzas Written in Dejection near Naples
- 22 I see the waves upon the shore,
Like light dissolved in star-showers, thrown Ib
- 23 How sweet! did any heart now share in my emotion Ib
- 24 Alas! I have nor hope nor health,
Nor peace within nor calm around,
Nor that content surpassing wealth
The sage in meditation found,
And walked with inward glory crowned Ib
- 25 I could lie down like a tired child,
And weep away the life of care
Which I have borne and yet must bear,
Till death like sleep might steal on me Ib
- 26 Away! the moor is dark beneath the moon,
Rapid clouds have drank the last pale beam of even Away! the gathering winds will call the darkness soon,
And profoundest midnight shroud the serene lights of heaven
Stanzas—April 1814 Away! the Moor is Dark

1 Music, when soft voices die,
Vibrates in the memory—
Odours, when sweet violets sicken,
Live within the sense they quicken.
Rose leaves, when the rose is dead,
Are heaped for the beloved's bed;
And so thy thoughts, when thou art gone,
Love itself shall slumber on.

To——. Music, When Soft Voices

2 I fear thy kisses, gentle maiden,
Thou needest not fear mine;
My spirit is too deeply laden
Ever to burthen thine.
I fear thy mien, thy tones, thy motion,
Thou needest not fear mine;
Innocent is the heart's devotion
With which I worship thine.

To——. I Fear thy Kisses

3 One word is too often profaned
For me to profane it,
One feeling too falsely disdained
For thee to disdain it.

To——. One Word is too often Profaned

4 The desire of the moth for the star,
Of the night for the morrow,
The devotion to something afar
From the sphere of our sorrow. Ib.

6 A lovely lady, garmented in light
From her own beauty. The Witch of Atlas, v

7 For she was beautiful—her beauty made
The bright world dim, and everything beside Seemed like the fleeting image of a shade. Ib. xii

8 The rapid, blind
And fleeting generations of mankind. Ib. lxxi

9 In honoured poverty thy voice did weave
Songs consecrate to truth and liberty,—
Deserting these, thou leavest me to grieve,
Thus having been, that thou shouldst cease to be.

- 33 So passeth, in the passing of a day,
Of mortal life the leaf, the bud, the flower,
No more doth flourish after first decay,
That erst was sought to deck both bed and bower,
Of many a Lady, and many a Paramour:
Gather therefore the Rose, whilst yet is prime,
For soon comes age, that will her pride deflower:
Gather the Rose of love, whilst yet is time,

 Come softly swimming down along the Lee,
 Two fairer Birds I yet did never see

 Did never whiter show,
 Nor Jove himself when he a Swan would be
 For love of Leda whiter did appear
 Yet Leda was they say as white as he,
 Yet not so white as these, nor nothing near,
 So purely white they were,
 That even the gentle stream, the which them bare
 Seem'd foul to them, and bade his billows spare
 To wet their silken feathers, lest they might Soil their fair plumes with water not so fair
 And mar their beauties bright,

Letter, 23 August 1893
- 14 In winter I get up at night
And dress by yellow candle-light.
In summer, quite the other way,—
I have to go to bed by day.
I have to go to bed and see
The birds still hopping on the tree,
Or hear the grown-up people's feet
Still going past me in the street.
And does it not seem hard to you,
When all the sky is clear and blue,
And I should like so much to play,
To have to go to bed by day?
A Child's Garden of Verses. 1. Bed in Summer
- 15 It is very nice to think
The world is full of meat and drink,
With little children saying grace
In every Christian kind of place. Ib. II. A Thought
- 16 A child should always say what's true,
And speak when he is spoken to,
And behave mannerly at table:
At least as far as he is able.
Ib. v. Whole Duty of Children
- 17 Fairy land,
Where all the children dine at five,
And all the playthings come alive.
Ib. VIII. Foreign Lands
- 18 When I am grown to man's estate
I shall be very proud and great,
And tell the other girls and boys
Not to meddle with my toys.
A Child's Garden of Verses, XII. Looking Forward
- 19 The pleasant land of counterpane.
Ib. XVI. The Land of Counterpane
- 20 The child that is not clean and neat,
With lots of toys and things to eat,
He is a naughty child, I'm sure—
Or else his dear papa is poor. Ib. XIX. System
- 21 The friendly cow, all red and white,
I love with all my heart:
She gives me cream with all her might,
To eat with apple-tart. Ib. XXIII. The Cow
- 22 The world is so full of a number of things,
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings.
Ib. XXIV. Happy Thought
- 23 Children, you are very little,
And your bones are very brittle;
If you would grow great and stately,
You must try to walk sedately.
Ib. XXVII. Good and Bad Children
- 24 But the unkind and the unruly,
And the sort who eat unduly,
They must never hope for glory—
Theirs is quite a different story!
Cruel children, crying babies,
All grow up as geese and gabies,
Hated, as their age increases,
By their nephews and their nieces. Ib.
- 25 A birdie with a yellow bill
Hopped upon the window-sill, Cocked his shining eye and said:
'Ain't you 'shamed, you sleepy-head?'
Ib. XXXIV. Time to Rise
- 26 Must we to bed indeed? Well then,
Let us arise and go like men,
And face with an undaunted tread
The long black passage up to bed.
Ib. XLI. North-West Passage. 1. Good-Night
- 27 Give to me the life I love,
Let the lave go by me,
Give the jolly heaven above
And the byway nigh me.
Bed in the bush with stars to see.
Bread I dip in the river—
There's the life for a man like me.
There's the life for ever.
Songs of Travel. 1. The Vagabond
- 28 Let the blow fall soon or late,
Let what will be o'er me;
Give the face of earth around
And the road before me.
Wealth I seek not, hope nor love,
Nor a friend to know me;
All I seek, the heaven above
And the road below me. Ib.
- 29 The untented Kosmos my abode,
I pass, a wilful stranger;
My mistress still the open road
And the bright eyes of danger.
Ib. II. Youth and Love

- 1 Here, lady, lo! that servant stands
You picked from passing men,
And should you need nor heart nor hands
He bows and goes again.

Songs of Travel VII

- 2 I will make you brooches and toys for your delight
Of bird-song at morning and star-shine at night.
I will make a palace fit for you and me
Of green days in forests and blue days at sea.
I will make my kitchen, and you shall keep your room,
Where white flows the river and bright blows the broom,
And you shall wash your linen and keep your body
white
In rainfall at morning and dewfall at night. Ib. XI

- 3 Bright is the ring of words
When the right man rings them,
Fair the fall of songs
When the singer sings them.
Still they are carolled and said—
On wings they are carried—
After the singer is dead
And the maker buried. Ib. XIV

- 4 Low as the singer lies
In the field of heather,
Songs of his fashion bring
The swains together.
And when the west is red
With the sunset embers,
The lover lingers and sings
And the maid remembers. Ib

- 5 In the highlands, in the country places,
Where the old plain men have rosy faces,
And the young fair maidens
Quiet eyes. Ib. XV

- 6 Trusty, dusky, vivid, true,
With eyes of gold and bramble-dew,
Steel-true and blade-straight,
The great artificer
Made my mate. Ib. XXV. My Wife

- 7 Sing me a song of a lad that is gone,
Say, could that lad be I?
Merry of soul he sailed on a day
Over the sea to Skye. Ib. XLII

- 8 Mull was a-sterm, Rum on the port,
Ligg on the starboard bow;
Glory of youth glowed in his soul,
Where is that glory now? Ib.

- 9 Blows the wind to-day, and the sun and the rain are flying,
Blows the wind on the moors to-day and now,
Where about the graves of the martyrs the whaups
are crying,
My heart remembers how!
Ib. XLV. To S. R. Crockett

- 10 Be it granted to me to behold you again in dying,
Hills of homel and to hear again the call;
Hear about the graves of the martyrs the peewees
crying,
And hear no more at all. Ib.

- 11 Of all my verse, like not a single line;
But like my title, for it is not mine.
That title from a better man I stole;
Ah, how much better, had I stol'n the whole!
Underwoods Foreword

- 12 Go, little book, and wish to all
Flowers in the garden, meat in the hall,
A bin of wine, a spice of wit,
A house with lawns enclosing it,
A living river by the door,
A nightingale in the sycamore!

Underwoods, bk. I. 1 Envoy

- 13 The gauger walked with willing foot,
And aye the gauger played the flute,
And what should Master Gauger play
But 'Over the hills and far away'?

Ib. II A Song of the Road

- 14 There's nothing under Heav'n so blue
That's fairly worth the travelling to. Ib. IV

- 15 Under the wide and starry sky
Dig the grave and let me lie.
Glad did I live and gladly die,
And I laid me down with a will
This be the verse you grave for me:
'Here he lies where he longed to be;
Home is the sailor, home from sea,
And the hunter home from the hill'

Ib. XXI Requiem

- 16 If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness,
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face;
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not, if morning skies,
Books, and my food, and summer rain
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain —
Lord, thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake;
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I,
Choose thou, before that spirit die,
A piercing pain, a killing sin,
And to my dead heart run them in!

Ib. XXXI. The Celestial Surgeon

- 17 Unfrowning caryatides.
Ib. XXXIII Our Lady of the Snows

- 18 I am a kind of farthing dip,
Unfriendly to the nose and eyes;
A blue-behinded ape, I skip Upon the trees of Paradise. Ib. XXX. A Portrait

- 19 In the afternoon of time
A strenuous family dusted from its hands
The sand of granite, and beholding far
Along the sounding coast its pyramids
And tall memorials catch the dying sun,
Smiled well content, and to this childish task
Around the fire addressed its evening hours.
Ib. XXXVII. Say not of me that weakly I declined

- 20 A mile an' a bittock, a mile or twa,
Abune the burn, ayont the law,
Davie an' Donal' an' Cherie an' a',
An' the mune was shinin' clearly!

WILLIAM STEVENSON

1530?–1575

- 21 I can not eat but little meat,
My stomach is not good:
But sure I think, that I can drink
With him that wears a hood.
Though I go bare, take ye no care,
I am nothing acold:

I stuff my skin, so full within,
Of jolly good ale and old,
Back and side go bare, go bare,
Both foot and hand go cold:
But belly God send thee good ale enough,
Whether it be new or old.

- 5 'Who was your mother?' 'Never had none!' said the child, with another grin. 'Never had any mother?
What do you mean? Where were you born?'
'Never was born!' persisted Topsy.
Uncle Tom's Cabin, ch. 20
- 6 'Do you know who made you?' 'Nobody, as I knows on,' said the child, with a short laugh. . . . 'I 'spect
I grow'd.' Ib.
- 7 'Cause I's wicked—I is. I's mighty wicked, any
how. I can't help it. Ib.

BISHOP WILLIAM STUBBS

1825-1901

- 8 Froude informs the Scottish youth
That parsons do not care for truth.
The Reverend Canon Kingsley cries
History is a pack of lies.
What cause for judgments so malign?
A brief reflection solves the mystery—
Froude believes Kingsley a divine,
And Kingsley goes to Froude for history.

SIR JOHN SUCKLING

1609-1642

- 10 Why so pale and wan, fond lover?
Prithee, why so pale?
Will, when looking well can't move her,
Looking ill prevail?
Prithee, why so pale? Aglaure, iv. i. Song
- 11 Quit, quit, for shame, this will not move:
This cannot take her.
If of herself she will not love,
Nothing can make her:
The devil take her! Ib.
- 12 Her feet beneath her petticoat,
Like little mice, stole in and out,
As if they fear'd the light.
Ballad. Upon a Wedding, viii
- 13 For streaks of red were mingled there,
Such as are on a Catherine pear
(The side that's next the sun). Ib.
- 14 Her lips were red, and one was thin,
Compar'd to that was next her chin
(Some bee had stung it newly). Ib. xi
- 15 The Prince of Darkness is a gentleman.
The Goblins. Act III, A Catch. (See 453:25)
- 16 I prithee send me back my heart,
Since I cannot have thine:
For if from yours you will not part,
Why then shouldst thou have mine?
Song. I Prithee Send me Back
- 17 But love is such a mystery,
I cannot find it out:
For when I think I'm best resolv'd,
I then am in most doubt. Ib.
- 18 Out upon it, I have loved
Three whole days together;
And am like to love three more,
If it prove fair weather.
Time shall moult away his wings,
Ere he shall discover
In the whole wide world again
Such a constant lover. A Poem with the Answer
- 19 Had it any been but she,
And that very face,
There had been at least ere this
A dozen dozen in her place. Ib.

HENRY HOWARD, EARL OF SURREY

1517?-1547

- 1 My friend, the things that do attain
The happy life be these, I find
The riches left, not got with pain,
The fruitful ground, the quiet mind,
The equal friend, no grudge, no strife,
No charge of rule, nor governance,
Without disease the healthy life,
The household of continuance Martial's Quiet Life, st 1, 11

- 28 Superflux of pain. Anactoria, l. 27
- 29 Maiden, and mistress of the months and stars
Now folded in the flowerless fields of heaven.
Atalanta in Calydon. Collected Poetical Works (1924), vol. ii, p. 247, l. 1
- 30 When the hounds of spring are on winter's traces,
The mother of months in meadow or plain
Fills the shadows and windy places
With lisp of leaves and ripple of rain;
And the brown bright nightingale amorous
Is half assuaged for Itylus,
For the Thracian ships and the foreign faces,
The tongueless vigil and all the pain.
Come with bows bent and with emptying of quivers,
Maiden most perfect, lady of light,
With a noise of winds and many rivers,
With a clamour of waters, and with might;
Bind on thy sandals, O thou most fleet,
Over the splendour and speed of thy feet;
For the faint east quickens, the wan west shivers,
Round the feet of the day and the feet of the night.

- Where shall we find her, how shall we sing to her,
Fold our hands round her knees, and cling?
O that man's heart were as fire and could spring to her,
Fire, or the strength of the streams that spring!
For the stars and the winds are unto her
As raiment, as songs of the harp player,
For the risen stars and the fallen cling to her,
And the southwest wind and west-wind sing
- For winter's rains and runs are over,
And all the season of snows and suns,
The days dividing lover and lover,
The light that loses, the night that wins,
And time remembered is grief forgotten,
And frosts are slain and flowers begotten,
And in green underwood and cover
Blossom by blossom the spring begins
Atalanta in Calydon, Chorus, p 249
- 1 And the hoofed heel of a satyr crushes
The chestnut-husk at the chestnut root Ib p 250
- 2 And Pan by noon and Bacchus by night,
Fleetest of foot than the fleet foot kid,
Follows with dancing and fills with delight
The Maenad and the Bassarid,
And soft as lips that laugh and hide
The laughing leaves of the tree divide,
And screen from seeing and leave in sight
The god pursuing, the maiden hid Ib
- 3 The ivy falls with the Bacchanal's hair
Over her eyebrows hiding her eyes,
The wild vine slipping down leaves bare
Her bright breast shortening into sighs Ib
- 4 The wolf that follows, the fawn that flies Ib
- 5 Before the beginning of years
There came to the making of man
Time with a gift of tears,
Grief with a glass that ran
Pleasure with pain for leaven,
Summer with flowers that fell,
Remembrance fallen from heaven,
And Madness risen from hell,
Strength without hands to smite,
Love that endures for a breath,
Night, the shadow of light,
And Life, the shadow of death Ib p 258
- 6 For a day and a night and a morrow,
That his strength might endure for a span
With travail and heavy sorrow,
The holy spirit of man Ib p 259
- 7 Eyesight and speech they wrought
For the veil of the soul therein,
A time for labour and thought,
A time to serve and to sin,
They gave him light in his ways,
And love, and a space for delight,
And beauty and length of days,
And night, and sleep in the night
His speech is a burning fire,
With his lips he travaileth,
In his heart is a blind desire,
In his eyes foreknowledge of death,
He weaves and is clothed with dersion,
Sows and he shall not reap,
His life is a watch or a vision
Between a sleep and a sleep Ib
- 8 We have seen thee, O love, thou art fair, thou art
goodly, O Love
Atalanta in Calydon, Chorus, p 273

But silence is most noble till the end Ib p 299
- 10 Where the narrowing Symplegades whitened the straits of Propontis with spray Ib p 327
- 11 Shall I strew on thee rose or rue or laurel,
Brother, on that that was the veil of thee?
Or quiet sea flower moulded by the sea,
Or simplest growth of meadow-sweet or sorrel?
Ave atque Vale, 1
- 12 Now all strange hours and all strange loves are over,
Dreams and desires and sombre songs and sweet,
Hast thou found place at the great knees and feet
Of some pale Titan woman like a lover,
Such as thy vision here solicited,
Under the shadow of her fair vast head,
The deep division of prodigious breasts,
The solemn slope of mighty limbs asleep? Ib vi
- 13 Sleep, and if life was bitter to thee, pardon,
If sweet, give thanks, thou hast no more to live,
And to give thanks is good, and to forgive Ib xvii
- 14 For thee O now a silent soul, my brother,
Take at my hands this garland and farewell
Thin is the leaf, and chill the wintry smell,
And chill the solemn earth a fatal mother,
With sadder than the Niobeon womb
And in the hollow of her breasts a tomb Ib xviii
- 15 There lies not any troublous thing before,
Nor sight nor sound to war against thee more,
For whom all winds are quiet as the sun,
All waters as the shore Ib

- 26 But sweet as the rind was the core is,
We are fain of thee still, we are fain,
O sanguine and subtle Dolores,
Our Lady of Pain Ib xiii
- 27 The delight that consumes the desire,
The desire that outruns the delight Ib xiv

- 1 For the crown of our life as it closes
Is darkness, the fruit thereof dust;
No thorns go as deep as a rose's,
And love is more cruel than lust.
Time turns the old days to derision,
Our loves into corpses or wives;
And marriage and death and division
Make barren our lives. Dolores, xx
- 2 Ringed round with a flame of fair faces,
And splendid with swords. Ib. xxx
- 3 What ailed us, O gods, to desert you
For creeds that refuse and restrain?
Come down and redeem us from virtue,
Our Lady of Pain. Ib. xxxv
- 4 On thy bosom though many a kiss be,
There are none such as knew it of old.
Was it Alciphron once or Arisbe,
Male ringlets or feminine gold,
That thy lips met with under the statue,
Whence a look shot out sharp after thieves
From the eyes of the garden-god at you
Across the fig-leaves? Ib. xxxviii
- 5 Old poets outsing and outlove us,
And Catullus makes mouths at our speech. Ib. xliii
- 6 Where are they, Cotytto or Venus,
Astarte or Ashtaroth, where?
Do their hands as we touch come between us?
Is the breath of them hot in thy hair?
From their lips have thy lips taken fever,
With the blood of their bodies grown red?
Hast thou left upon earth a believer
If these men are dead? Ib. lii
- 7 O daughter of Death and Priapus,
Our Lady of Pain. Ib. liii
- 8 I shall remember while the light lives yet
And in the night time I shall not forget. Erotion
- 9 There was a poor poet named Clough,
Whom his friends all united to puff,
But the public, though dull,
Had not such a skull
As belonged to believers in Clough.

Caressed Faustine? Faustine
- 12 Those eyes the greenest of things blue,
The bluest of things grey. Félice
- 13 In a coign of the cliff between lowland and highland,
At the sea-down's edge between windward and lee,
Walled round with rocks as an inland island,
The ghost of a garden fronts the sea.
A Forsaken Garden
- 14 The fields fall southward, abrupt and broken,
To the low last edge of the long lone land.
If a step should sound or a word be spoken,
Would a ghost not rise at the strange guest's hand?
So long have the grey bare walls lain guestless,
Through branches and briars if a man make way,
He shall find no life but the sea-wind's, restless Night and day. Ib.
- 15 Heart handfast in heart as they stood, 'Look thither,' Did he whisper? 'look forth from the flowers to the sea;
For the foam-flowers endure when the rose-blossoms
wither
And men that love lightly may die—but we?'
And the same wind sang and the same waves
whitened,
And or ever the garden's last petals were shed,
In the lips that had whispered, the eyes that had lightened,
Love was dead. A Forsaken Garden
- 16 Stretched out on the spoils that his own hand spread.
As a god self-slain on his own strange altar,
Death lies dead. Ib.
- 17 Here, where the world is quiet;
Here, where all trouble seems
Dead winds' and spent waves' riot
In doubtful dreams of dreams.
The Garden of Proserpine
- 18 I am tired of tears and laughter,
And men that laugh and weep;
Of what may come hereafter
For men that sow and reap:
I am weary of days and hours,
Blown buds of barren flowers,
Desires and dreams and powers
And everything but sleep. Ib.
- 19 Here life has death for neighbour,
And far from eye or ear
Wan waves and wet winds labour,
Weak ships and spirits steer. Ib.
- 20 Pale, beyond porch and portal,
Crowned with calm leaves, she stands
Who gathers all things mortal
With cold immortal hands. Ib.

- 23 From too much love of living,
From hope and fear set free,
We thank with brief thanksgiving
Whatever gods may be
That no man lives forever,
That dead men rise up never;
That even the weariest river
Winds somewhere safe to sea. Ib.
- 24 Then star nor sun shall waken,
Nor any change of light:
Nor sound of waters shaken,
Nor any sound or sight:
Nor wintry leaves nor vernal,
Nor days nor things diurnal;
Only the sleep eternal
In an eternal night. Ib.

Looking Godward, to cry
'I am I, thou art thou,
I am low, thou art high?'
I am thou, whom thou seekest to find him, find thou but thyself, thou art I Ib
- 3 A creed is a rod,
And a crown is of night,
But this thing is God
To be man with thy might,
To grow straight in the strength of thy spirit, and live out thy life as the light Ib

- 13 Sister, my sister, O fleet sweet swallow,
Thy way is long to the sun and the south,
But I, fulfilled of my heart's desire,
Shedding my song upon height upon hollow,
From tawny body and sweet small mouth
I feed the heart of the night with fire
I the nightingale all spring through,
O swallow, sister, O changing swallow,
All spring through till the spring be done
Clothed with the light of the night on the dew,
Sing while the hours and the wild birds follow,
Take flight and follow and find the sun Ib

And known that once if I loved you well,
And I would have given my soul for this
To burn for ever in burning hell Les Noyades
- 33 Ask nothing more of me, sweet,
All I can give you I give Heart of my heart, were it more,
More would be laid at your feet
Love that should help you to live,
Song that should spur you to soar The Oblation

- 1 I turn to thee as some green afternoon
Turns toward sunset, and is loth to die;
Ah God, ah God, that day should be so soon!
In the Orchard
- 2 For a day and a night Love sang to us, played with us,
Folded us round from the dark and the light;
And our hearts were fulfilled with the music he made
with us,
Made with our hands and our lips while he stayed
with us,
Stayed in mid passage his pinions from flight
For a day and a night. At Parting
- 3 The world has no such flowers in any land,
And no such pearl in any gulf the sea,
As any babe on any mother's knee. Pelagius
- 4 I have lived long enough, having seen one thing, that love hath an end;
Goddess and maiden and queen, be near me now and befriend. Hymn to Proserpine
- 5 Yea, is not even Apollo, with hair and harpstring of gold,
A bitter God to follow, a beautiful God to behold?
I am sick of singing: the bays burn deep and chafe:
I am fain
To rest a little from praise and grievous pleasure and pain. Ib.
- 6 Wilt thou yet take all, Galilean? but these thou shalt not take,
The laurel, the palms and the paeon, the breasts of
the nymphs in the brake;
Breasts more soft than a dove's, that tremble with tenderer breath;
And all the wings of the Loves, and all the joy before death. Ib.
- 7 For no man under the sky lives twice, outliving his day. Ib.
- 8 Thou hast conquered, O pale Galilean; the world has grown grey from Thy breath;
We have drunken of things Lethean, and fed on the fullness of death.
Laurel is green for a season, and love is sweet for a day;
But love grows bitter with treason, and laurel outlives not May. Ib.

Ye are Gods, and behold, ye shall die, and the waves be upon you at last. Ib.
- 13 Though the feet of thine high priests tread where thy lords and our forefathers trod,
Though these that were Gods are dead, and thou being dead art a God,
Though before thee the throned Cytherean be fallen,
and hidden her head,
Yet thy kingdom shall pass, Galilean, thy dead shall go down to thee dead. Ib.

Have nothing else to fear. Ib.

- 4 While shepherds watch'd their flocks by night,
All seated on the ground,
The Angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.

'Fear not,' said he, for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind;
'Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.'

SIR HENRY TAYLOR

1800-1886

- 12 Quoth tongue of neither maid nor wife
To heart of neither wife nor maid—
Lead we not here a jolly life
Betwixt the shine and shade?

Quoth heart of neither maid nor wife
To tongue of neither wife nor maid—
Thou wagg'st, but I am worn with strife,
And feel like flowers that fade.

is only equalled by their mendacity.
Remark at a meeting of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners quoted by Sir George Leveson Gower: Years of Endeavour, 1942

SIR WILLIAM TEMPLE

1628-1699

- 18 When all is done, human life is, at the greatest and the best, but like a froward child, that must be play'd with and humoured a little to keep it quiet till it falls asleep, and then the care is over.
Essay on Poetry, ad fin.

ARCHBISHOP WILLIAM TEMPLE

1881-1944

- 19 'Are you not,' a Rugby master had asked him in discussing one of his [schoolboy] essays, 'a little out of your depth here?' 'Perhaps, Sir,' was the confident reply, 'but I can swim.'

- 1 Her arms across her breast she laid,
She was more fair than words can say
Bare footed came the beggar maid
Before the king Cophetua
In robe and crown the king stepped down,
To meet and greet her on her way,
'It is no wonder,' said the lords,
'She is more beautiful than day'
The Beggar Maid
- 2 As shines the moon in clouded skies,
She in her poor attire was seen
One praised her ankles, one her eyes,
One her dark hair and lovesome mien
So sweet a face, such angel grace,
In all that land had never been:
Cophetua sware a royal oath
'This beggar maid shall be my queen!

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!
And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill,
But O for the touch of a vanish'd hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!
Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me Break, Break, Break

But in His ways with men I find Him not.
Ib. The Passing of Arthur, l. 9
- 27 Why is all around us here
As if some lesser god had made the world,
But had not force to shape it as he would? Ib. l.
- 28 This way and that dividing the swift mind.
The Idylls of the King. The Passing of Arthur, l. 60
- 29 So all day long the noise of battle roll'd
Among the mountains by the winter sea. Ib. l. 170
- 30 On one side lay the Ocean, and on one Lay a great water, and the moon was full. Ib. l. 179
- 31 Authority forgets a dying king. Ib. l. 289
- 32 Clothed with his breath, and looking, as he walk'd,
Larger than human on the frozen hills.
He heard the deep behind him, and a cry
Before. Ib. l. 350
- 33 When every morning brought a noble chance,
And every chance brought out a noble knight.
Ib. l. 398
- 34 Among new men, strange faces, other minds.
Ib. l. 406
- 35 And slowly answer'd Arthur from the barge:
'The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfils himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.'
Ib. l. 407
- 36 If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friend?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.
Ib. l. 414
- 37 I am going a long way
With these thou seest—if indeed I go
(For all my mind is clouded with a doubt)—
To the island-valley of Avilion;
Where falls not hail, or rain, or any snow,
Nor ever wind blows loudly; but it lies
Deep-meadow'd, happy, fair with orchard lawns
And bowery hollows crown'd with summer sea,
Where I will heal me of my grievous wound.
Ib. l. 424
- 38 Like some full-breasted swan
That, fluting a wild carol ere her death,
Ruffles her pure cold plume, and takes the flood
With swarthy webs. Ib. l. 434
- 39 Believing where we cannot prove.
In Memoriam, prologue. (The numbering of the Cantos follows that of the latest edition, and includes the additional Canto No. xxxix, first published in 1869)
- 40 Thou madest man, he knows not why,
He thinks he was not made to die;
And thou hast made him: thou art just. Ib.
- 41 Our little systems have their day;
They have their day and cease to be:
They are but broken lights of thee,
And thou, O Lord, art more than they. Ib.
- 42 Let knowledge grow from more to more,
But more of reverence in us dwell;
That mind and soul, according well,
May make one music as before. Ib.

- 1 Only reapers, reaping early
In among the bearded barley,
Hear a song that echoes cheerly
From the river winding clearly Down to tower'd Camelot.
The Lady of Shalott, pt. 1
- 2 She hath no loyal knight and true,
The Lady of Shalott. Ib. pt. II
- 3 Or when the moon was overhead,
Came two young lovers lately wed.
'I am half sick of shadows,' said
The Lady of Shalott. Ib.
- 4 A bow-shot from her bower-eaves,
He rode between the barley-sheaves,
The sun came dazzling thro' the leaves
And flamed upon the brazen greaves
Of bold Sir Lancelot.
A red-cross knight for ever kneel'd
To a lady in his shield,
That sparkled on the yellow field,
Beside remote Shalott. Ib. pt. III
- 5 All in the blue unclouded weather. Ib.
- 6 'Tirra lirra,' by the river Sang Sir Lancelot. Ib.
- 7 She left the web, she left the loom,
She made three paces thro' the room
She saw the water-lily bloom,
She saw the helmet and the plume,
She look'd down to Camelot
Out flew the web and floated wide,
The mirror crack'd from side to side,
'The curse is come upon me,' cried
The Lady of Shalott. Ib.
- 8 Like some bold seer in a trance,
Seeing all his own mischance—
With a glassy countenance
Did she look to Camelot. Ib. pt. IV
- 9 Heard a carol, mournful, holy,
Chanted loudly, chanted lowly,
Till her blood was frozen slowly,
And her eyes were darken'd wholly,
Turn'd to tower'd Camelot. Ib.
- 10 Who is this? and what is here?
And in the lighted palace near
Died the sound of royal cheer,
And they cross'd themselves for fear,
All the knights at Camelot
But Lancelot mused a little space,
He said, 'She has a lovely face;
God in his mercy lend her grace,
'The Lady of Shalott.' Ib.
- 11 Slander, meanest spawn of Hell.
The Letters
- 12 Airy, fairy Lilian. Lilian
- 13 Comrades, leave me here a little, while as yet 'tis early morn—
Leave me here, and when you want me, sound upon the bugle-horn. Locksley Hall, l. 1
- 14 The fairy tales of science, and the long result of Time.
Ib. l. 12
- 15 In the Spring a livelier iris changes on the burnish'd dove;
In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. Ib. l. 19
- 16 Love took up the glass of Time, and turn'd it in his glowing hands;
Every moment, lightly shaken, ran itself in golden sands.
Love took up the harp of Life, and smote on all the chords with might;
Smote the chord of Self, that, trembling, pass'd in music out of sight. Locksley Hall, l. 31
- 17 And our spirits rush'd together at the touching of the lips. Ib. l. 38
- 18 As the husband is, the wife is. Ib. l. 47
- 19 He will hold thee, when his passion shall have spent its novel force.
Something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse. Ib. l. 49

rookery home. Ib. l. 68
- 21 This is truth the poet sings,
That a sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things. Ib. l. 75
- 22 Like a dog, he hunts in dreams. Ib. l. 79
- 23 With a little hoard of maxims preaching down a daughter's heart. Ib. l. 94

Honour feels Ib. l. 105
- 25 Men, my brothers, men the workers, ever reaping something new
That which they have done but earnest of the things that they shall do
For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see, Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be. Ib. l. 117
- 26 Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rain'd
a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue. Ib. l. 123
- 27 In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world Ib. l. 128
- 28 Science moves, but slowly slowly, creeping on from point to point Ib. l. 134
- 29 Yet I doubt not thro' the ages one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widen'd with the process of the suns Ib. l. 137
- 30 Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers Ib. l. 143
- 31 I am shamed thro' all my nature to have loved so slight a thing. Ib. l. 148
- 32 Woman is the lesser man, and all thy passions,
match'd with mine,
Are as moonlight unto sunlight, and as water unto wine. Ib. l. 151
- 33 I will take some savage woman, she shall rear my dusky race Ib. l. 168
- 34 Not with blinded eyesight poring over miserable books. Ib. l. 172
- 35 I the heir of all the ages, in the foremost files of time.
Ib. l. 178

Let the great world spin for ever down the ringing grooves of change. Ib. l. 181

- 1 Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay.
Locksley Hall, l. 184
- 2 He is but a landscape-painter,
And a village maiden she.
The Lord of Burleigh, l. 7
- 3 Let us see these handsome houses
Where the wealthy nobles dwell. Ib. l. 23
- 4 Many a gallant gay domestic Bows before him at the door. Ib. l. 47
- 5 But he clasp'd her like a lover,
And he cheer'd her soul with love.
So she strove against her weakness,
Tho' at times her spirit sank. Ib. l. 67
- 6 And the people loved her much. Ib. l. 76
- 7 But a trouble weigh'd upon her,
And perplex'd her, night and morn,
With the burthen of an honour
Unto which she was not born. Ib. l. 77
- 8 'Oh, that he
Were once more that landscape-painter,
Which did win my heart from me!' Ib. l. 82
- 9 Three fair children first she bore him,
Then before her time she died. Ib. l. 87
- 10 Weeping, weeping late and early,
Walking up and pacing down,
Deeply mourn'd the Lord of Burleigh,
Burleigh-house by Stamford-town. Ib. l. 89
- 11 'Bring the dress and put it on her,
That she wore when she was wed.' Ib. l. 95
- 12 'Courage!' he said, and pointed toward the land.
The Lotos-Eaters
- 13 A land
In which it seemed always afternoon. Ib.
- 14 Music that gentlier on the spirit lies,
Than tir'd eyelids upon tir'd eyes. Ib. Choric Song, i
- 15 There is no joy but calm! Ib. ii
- 16 Ah, why
Should life all labour be? Ib. iv
- 17 Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast,
And in a little while our lips are dumb.
Let us alone. What is it that will last?
All things are taken from us, and become Portions and parcels of the dreadful Past. Ib.
- 18 The Lotos blooms below the barren peak:
The Lotos blows by every winding creek:
All day the wind breathes low with mellow tone:
Thro' every hollow cave and alley lone,
Round and round the spicy downs the yellow Lotosdust is blown. Ib. viii
- 19 Live and lie reclined
On the hills like Gods together, careless of mankind.
For they lie beside their nectar, and the bolts are hurl'd
Far below them in the valleys, and the clouds are lightly curl'd
Round their golden houses, girdled with the gleaming world. Ib.
- 20 Surely, surely, slumber is more sweet than toil, the shore
Than labour in the deep mid-ocean, wind and wave
and oar;
Oh rest ye, brother mariners, we will not wander more. Ib.
- 21 Of love that never found his earthly close,
What sequel? Streaming eyes and breaking hearts?
Or all the same as if he had not been?
Love and Duty, l. 1
- 22 The long mechanic paces to and fro,
The set gray life, and apathetic end. Ib. l. 17

Love thou thy Land, xxiv
- 24 Ruining along the illimitable inane. Lucretius, l. 40
- 25 Nor at all can tell
Whether I mean this day to end myself,
Or lend an ear to Plato where he says,
That men like soldiers may not quit the post
Allotted by the Gods. Ib. l. 145
- 26 That stays the rolling Ixionian wheel,
And numbs the Fury's ringlet-snake, and plucks
The mortal soul from out immortal hell. Ib. l. 260
- 27 Passionless bride, divine Tranquillity. Ib. l. 265
- 28 Without one pleasure and without one pain. Ib. l. 268
- 29 The lonely moated grange. Mariana
- 30 She only said, 'My life is dreary,
He cometh not,' she said;
She said, 'I am aweary, aweary.
I would that I were dead!' Ib.
- 31 Her tears fell with the dews at even;
Her tears fell ere the dews were dried. Ib.
- 32 She wept, 'I am aweary, aweary,
O God, that I were dead!' Ib.
- 33 I hate the dreadful hollow behind the little wood.
Maud, Pt. I. l. i
- 34 The smooth-faced snubnosed rogue. Ib. xiii
- 35 Faultily faultless, icily regular, splendidly null. Ib. ii
- 36 A monstrous eft was of old the Lord and Master of Earth. Ib. iv. vi
- 37 The passionate heart of the poet is whirl'd into folly and vice. Ib. vii
- 38 And most of all would I flee from the cruel madness
of love—
The honey of poison-flowers and all the measureless
ill. Ib. x
- 39 Maud with her exquisite face,
And wild voice pealing up to the sunny sky,
And feet like sunny gems on an English green. Ib. v. ii
- 40 That jewell'd mass of millinery,
That oil'd and curl'd Assyrian Bull. Ib. vi. vi
- 41 She came to the village church,
And sat by a pillar alone;
An angel watching an urn
Wept over her, carved in stone. Ib. viii
- 42 The snowy-banded, dilettante,
Delicate-handed priest intone. Ib.
- 43 Ah God, for a man with heart, head, hand,
Like some of the simple great ones gone
For ever and ever by,
One still strong man in a blatant land,
Whatever they call him, what care I,
Aristocrat, democrat, autocrat—one
Who can rule and dare not lie.

- And ah for a man to arise in me,
That the man I am may cease to be!
Maud, Pt. I. x. v-vi
- 1 O let the solid ground
Not fail beneath my feet
Before my life has found
What some have found so sweet. Ib. xi. i
- 2 Birds in the high Hall-garden
When twilight was falling,
Maud, Maud, Maud, Maud,
They were crying and calling. Ib. xii. i
- 3 I kiss'd her slender hand,
She took the kiss sedately;
Maud is not seventeen,
But she is tall and stately. Ib. iv
- 4 I know the way she went Home with her maiden posy,
For her feet have touch'd the meadows
And left the daisies rosy. Ib. vi
- 5 Gorgonised me from head to foot
With a stony British stare. Ib. xiii. ii
- 6 Go not, happy day,
From the shining fields,
Go not, happy day,
Till the maiden yields.
Rosy is the West,
Rosy is the South,
Roses are her cheeks,
And a rose her mouth. Ib. xvii
- 7 Blush from West to East,
Blush from East to West,
Till the West is East,
Blush it thro' the West. Ib
- 8 A livelier emerald twinkles in the grass,
A purer sapphire melts into the sea. Ib. xviii. vi
- 9 Come into the garden, Maud,
For the black bat, night, has flown;
Come into the garden, Maud,
I am here at the gate alone;
And the woodbine spices are wafted abroad,
And the musk of the rose is blown
- 10 For a breeze of morning moves,
And the planet of Love is on high,
Beginning to faint in the light that she loves
On a bed of daffodil sky. Ib. xxii. i-ii
- 11 All night have the roses heard
The flute, violin, bassoon.
All night has the casement jessamine stirr'd
To the dancers dancing in tune,
Till a silence fell with the waking bird,
And a hush with the setting moon. Ib. iii
- 12 Whenever a March-wind sighs
He sets the jewel-print of your feet
In violets blue as your eyes. Ib. vii
- 13 The slender acacia would not shake
One long milk-bloom on the tree;
The white ake-blossom fell into the lake
As the pimpernel dozed on the lea;
But the rose was awake all night for your sake,
Knowing your promise to me;
The lilies and roses were all awake,
They sigh'd for the dawn and thee. Ib. viii
- 14 Queen rose of the rosebud garden of girls. Ib. ix
- 15 There has fallen a splendid tear
From the passion-flower at the gate.
She is coming, my dove, my dear;
She is coming, my life, my fate;
The red rose cries, 'She is near, she is near;
And the white rose weeps, 'She is late;'
The larkspur listens, 'I hear, I hear;
And the lily whispers, 'I wait.'
She is coming, my own, my sweet;
Were it ever so airy a tread,
My heart would hear her and beat,
Were it earth in an earthy bed,
My dust would hear her and beat,
Had I lain for a century dead,
Would start and tremble under her feet,
And blossom in purple and red.
Maud, Pt. I. xxii. x-xi
- 16 The Christless code,
That must have life for a blow. Ib. Pt. II. i. i
- 17 O that 'twere possible
After long grief and pain
To find the arms of my true love
Round me once again! Ib. iv. i
- 18 Ah Christ, that it were possible
For one short hour to see
The souls we loved, that they might tell us
What and where they be Ib. iii
- 19 But the churchmen fain would kill their church,
As the churches have kill'd their Christ. Ib. v. ii
- 20 O me, why have they not buried me deep enough?
Is it kind to have made me a grave so rough,
Me, that was never a quiet sleeper? Ib. xi
- 21 Bury me, bury me
Deeper, ever so little deeper. Ib.
- 22 My life has crept so long on a broken wing
Thro' cells of madness, haunts of horror and fear,
That I come to be grateful at last for a little thing
Ib. Pt. III. vi. i
- 23 When the face of night is fair on the dewy downs,
And the shining daffodil dies. Ib.
- 24 The blood-red blossom of war with a heart of fire. Ib. iv
- 25 It is better to fight for the good, than to rail at the ill;
I have felt with my native land, I am one with my kind,
I embrace the purpose of God, and the doom assign'd.
Ib. v
- 26 You must wake and call me early, call me early,
mother dear;
To-morrow 'ill be the happiest time of all the glad
New-year;
Of all the glad New-year, mother, the maddest
merriest day,
For I'm to be Queen o' the May, mother, I'm to be Queen o' the May. The May Queen
- 27 It seem'd so hard at first, mother, to leave the blessed sun,
And now it seems as hard to stay, and yet I'll will be done!
But still I think it can't be long before I find release;
And that good man, the clergyman, has told me words of peace. Ib. Conclusion

- 1 All in the wild March-morning I heard the angels
call;
It was when the moon was setting, and the dark was over all;
The trees began to whisper, and the wind began to roll,
And in the wild March-morning I heard them call my soul. The May Queen. Conclusion

The earliest pipe of half-awaken'd birds
To dying ears, when unto dying eyes
The casement slowly grows a glimmering square;
So sad, so strange, the days that are no more
Dear as remembered kisses after death,
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feign'd
On lips that are for others deep as love,
Deep as first love, and wild with all regret,
O Death in Life, the days that are no more Ib l 31
- 20 O Swallow, Swallow, flying, flying South,
Fly to her, and fall upon her gilded eaves,
And tell her, tell her, what I tell to thee
O tell her, Swallow, thou that knowest each,
That bright and fierce and fickle is the South,
And dark and true and tender is the North Ib l 75
- 21 O tell her, Swallow, that thy brood is flown
Say to her, I do but wanton in the South,
But in the North long since my nest is made
O tell her brief is life but love is long
And brief the sun of summer in the North,
And brief the moon of beauty in the South
O Swallow, flying from the golden woods,
Fly to her, and pipe and woo her, and make her mine,
And tell her, tell her, that I follow thee Ib l 90
- 22 Thy voice is heard thro' rolling drums,
That beat to battle where he stands,
Thy face across his fancy comes,
And gives the battle to his hands
A moment, while the trumpets blow,
He sees his brood about thy knee,
The next, like fire he meets the foe
And strikes him dead for thine and thee Ib l 552

- 1 Ask me no more: the moon may draw the sea;
The cloud may stoop from heaven and take the shape
With fold to fold, of mountain or of cape;
But O too fond, when have I answer'd thee?
Ask me no more.
Ask me no more: what answer should I give?
I love not hollow cheek or faded eye:
Yet, O my friend, I will not have thee die!
Ask me no more, lest I should bid thee live;
Ask me no more.
Ask me no more: thy fate and mine are seal'd:
I strove against the stream and all in vain:
Let the great river take me to the main:
No more, dear love, for at a touch I yield;
Ask me no more.
The Princess, vii. Introd. Song
- 2 Now sleeps the crimson petal, now the white;
Nor waves the cypress in the palace walk;
Nor winks the gold fin in the porphyry font:
The fire-fly wakens: waken thou with me.
Now droops the milk-white peacock like a ghost,
And like a ghost she glimmers on to me.
Now lies the Earth all Danaë to the stars,
And all thy heart lies open unto me.
Now slides the silent meteor on, and leaves
A shining furrow, as thy thoughts in me.
Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake:
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me. Ib. l. 161
- 3 Come down, O maid, from yonder mountain height:
What pleasure lives in height? Ib. l. 177
- 4 For Love is of the valley, come thou down
And find him; by the happy threshold, he,
Or hand in hand with Plenty in the maize,
Or red with spirted purple of the vats,
Or foxlike in the vine; nor cares to walk
With Death and Morning on the silver horns. Ib. l. 184
- 5 Sweet is every sound,

- 16 At Flores in the Azores Sir Richard Grenville lay,
And a pinnacle, like a fluttered bird, came flying from far away:
'Spanish ships of war at sea! we have sighted fifty-three!' The Revenge, i
- 17 Then sware Lord Thomas Howard: "Fore God I am
no coward;
But I cannot meet them here, for my ships are out of gear,
And the half my men are sick. I must fly, but follow quick.
We are six ships of the line; can we fight with fifty-three?" Ib.
- 18 Then spake Sir Richard Grenville: 'I know you are
no coward;
You fly them for a moment to fight with them again.
But I've ninety men and more that are lying sick ashore.
I should count myself the coward if I left them, my Lord Howard,
To these Inquisition dogs and the devildoms of Spain.' Ib. ii
- 19 So Lord Howard past away with five ships of war
that day,
Till he melted like a cloud in the silent summer
heaven;
But Sir Richard bore in hand all his sick men from the land
Very carefully and slow,
Men of Bideford in Devon,
And we laid them on the ballast down below;
For we brought them all aboard,
And they blest him in their pain, that they were not left to Spain,
To the thumbscrew and the stake, for the glory of the Lord. Ib. iii
- 20 'Shall we fight or shall we fly?
Good Sir Richard, tell us now,
For to fight is but to die!
There'll be little of us left by the time this sun be set.'
And Sir Richard said again: 'We be all good English men.
Let us bang these dogs of Seville, the children of the devil,
For I never turn'd my back upon Don or devil yet.'
Ib. iv
- 21 And the sun went down, and the stars came out far over the summer sea,
But never a moment ceased the fight of the one and the fifty-three.
Ship after ship, the whole night long, their high-built galleons came,
Ship after ship, the whole night long, with her battle-
thunder and flame;

Such as words could never utter;
Would you know how first he met her?
She was cutting bread and butter.
Charlotte was a married lady,
And a moral man was Werther,
And for all the wealth of Indies,
Would do nothing for to hurt her.

So he sighed and pined and ogled,
And his passion boiled and bubbled,
Till he blew his silly brains out
And no more was by it troubled.

Charlotte, having seen his body
Borne before her on a shutter,
Like a well-conducted person,
Went on cutting bread and butter.

Epilogue to 'A Judgment in Heaven'

- 1 O world invisible, we view thee,
O world intangible, we touch thee,
O world unknowable, we know thee,
Inapprehensible, we clutch thee!
Does the fish soar to find the ocean,
The eagle plunge to find the air—
That we ask of the stars in motion
If they have rumour of thee there?
Not where the wheeling systems darken,
And our benumbed conceiving soars!—
The drift of pinions, would we hearken,
Beats at our own clay-shuttered doors.
The angels keep their ancient places;—
Turn but a stone, and start a wing!
'Tis ye, 'tis your estrangèd faces,
That miss the many-splendoured thing.
But (when so sad thou canst not sadder)
Cry;—and upon thy so sore loss
Shall shine the traffic of Jacob's ladder
Pitched betwixt Heaven and Charing Cross.
Yea, in the night, my Soul, my daughter,
Cry,—clinging Heaven by the hems;
And lo, Christ walking on the water
Not of Gennesareth, but Thames!

- 20 The King, observing with judicious eyes
The state of both his universities
To Oxford sent a troop of horse, and why?
That learned body wanted loyalty,
To Cambridge books as very well discerning
How much that loyal body wanted learning
On George I's Donation of the Bishop of Ely's Library to Cambridge University Nichols's Literary Anecdotes, vol III, p 330 For the reply see 87 26

- 1 Our royal master saw, with heedful eyes,
The wants of his two universities:
Troops he to Oxford sent, as knowing why
That learned body wanted loyalty:
But books to Cambridge gave, as well discerning
That that right loyal body wanted learning.

Thy God, thy life, thy cure
Ib

3 Happy those early days, when I
Shin'd in my angel infancy
Before I understood this place
Appointed for my second race,
Or taught my soul to fancy aught
But a white, celestial thought,
When yet I had not walked above
A mile or two from my first love,
And looking back—at that short space—
Could see a glimpse of His bright face
Ib The Retreat, l 1

4 And in those weaker glories spy
Some shadows of eternity
Ib l 13

5 But felt through all this fleshly dress
Bright shoots of everlastingness
Ib l 19

6 O how I long to travel back,
And tread again that ancient track!
That I might once more reach that plain,
Where first I left my glorious train
From whence th' enlighten'd spirit sees
The shady City of palm trees
Ib l 21

7 Some men a forward motion love,
But I by backward steps would move,
And when this dust falls to the urn,
In that state I came, return
Ib l 29

8 They are all gone into the world of light,
And I alone sit lingering here,
Their very memory is fair and bright,
And my sad thoughts doth clear
Ib They Are All Gone

9 I see them walking in an air of glory
Whose light doth trample on my days
My days, which are at best but dull and hoary,
Mere glimmering and decays
Ib

10 Dear, beauteous death! the jewel of the just,
Shining nowhere but in the dark
What mysteries do lie beyond thy dust,
Could man outlook that mark!
Ib

11 He that hath found some fledg'd bird's nest, may know
At first sight, if the bird be flown,
But what fair well or grove he sings in now,
That is to him unknown
Ib

12 And yet, as angels in some brighter dreams
Call to the soul when man doth sleep,
So some strange thoughts transcend our wonted themes,
And into glory peep
Ib

13 I saw Eternity the other night,
Like a great ring of pure and endless light,
All calm, as it was bright,
And round beneath it, Time in hours, days, years,
Driv'n by the spheres
Like a vast shadow mov'd, in which the world
And all her train were hurl'd

- 1 J'aime la majesté des souffrances humaines.
I love the majesty of human suffering.
La Maison du Berger
- 2 Seul le silence est grand; tout le reste est faiblesse...
Fais énergiquement ta longue et lourde tâche...
Puis, après, comme moi, souffre et meurs sans parler.
Silence alone is great; all else is feebleness...
Perform with all your heart your long and heavy task...
Then as do I, say naught, but suffer and die.
La Mort du Loup

VIRGIL

70-19 B.C.

- 5 Arma virumque cano, Troiae qui primus ab oris
Italiam fato profugus Lavinaque venit
Litora—multum ille et terris iactatus et alto
Vi superum, saevae memorem Iunonis ob iram.
Arms I sing, and the man, who first from the shores of Troy came, Fate-exiled, to Italy and her Lavinian strand—much buffeted he on flood and field by constraint of Heaven and fell Juno's unslumbering ire. Aeneid, i. 1. Trans. by Jackson
- 6 Quo numine laeso.
Wherein was her godhead affronted. Ib. 8
- 7 Tantaene animis caelestibus irae?
Can heavenly spirits cherish resentment so dire?
Ib. 11
- 8 Necdum etiam causae irarum saevique dolores
Exciderant animo; manet alta mente repostum
Iudicium Paridis spretaeque iniuria formae.
Nor yet had the causes of her wrath, nor her hot resentment, faded from her soul. Deep-written in her heart the judgement of Paris remained, and the outrage to her slighted beauty. Ib. 25
- 9 Tantaemolis erat Romanam condere gentem.
So vast was the struggle to found the Roman state.
Ib. 33
- 10 Apparent rari nantes in gurgite vasto.
Here and there in the wastes of ocean a swimmer was seen. Ib. 118
- 11 Furor arma ministrat.
Fury ministers arms. Ib. 150
- 12 Fidus quae tela gerebat Achates.
Loyal Achates bore the weapons. Aeneid, i. 188
- 13 O passi graviora, dabit deus his quoque finem.
Friends, that have endured yet heavier blows, God will grant an ending even to this. Ib. 199
- 14 Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit.
The day may dawn when this plight shall be sweet to remember. Ib. 203
- 15 Durate, et vosmet rebus servate secundis.
Then endure for a while, and live for a happier day! Ib. 207
- 16 Dux femina facti.
A woman the head of their emprise. Ib. 364
- 17 Vera incessu patuit dea.
The goddess indubitable was revealed in her step. Ib. 405
- 18 'En Priamus. Sunt hic etiam sua praemia laudi;
Sunt lacrimae rerum et mentem mortalia tangunt.
Solve metus; feret haec aliquam tibi fama salutem.'
Sic ait atque animum pictura pascit inani.
'Lo, here is Priam! Even here, virtue hath her rewards, and mortality her tears: even here, the woes of man touch the heart of man! Dispel thy fears; this fame of ours is herald to some salvation.' He said, and sated his soul with the barren portraiture. Ib. 461
- 19 Impar congressus Achilli.
Fronted Achilles with unequal arm. Ib. 475
- 20 Mens sibi conscia recti.
A mind conscious of the right. Ib. 604
- 21 In freta dum fluvii current, dum montibus umbrae
Lustrabunt convexa, polus dum sidera pascet,
Semper honos nomenque tuum laudesque manebunt.
While the rivers shall run to ocean, while the shadows shall move in the mountain valleys, while the sky shall feed the stars, always shall thy honour, and thy name, and thy glory abide. Ib. 607
- 22 Non ignara mali miseris succurrere disco.
Not unschooled in woe do I learn to succour unhappiness! Ib. 630
- 23 Conticuere omnes intentique ora tenebant.
Every tongue was still, every face turned rapt upon him. Ib. ii. 1
- 24 Infandum, regina, iubes renovare dolorem.
Too deep for words, O queen, lies the sorrow thou bidst me renew. Ib. 3
- 25 Quaeque ipse miserrima vidi
Et quorum pars magna fui.
All the deeds of woe mine eyes have beheld, and those whereof I was no small part. Ib. 5
- 26 Et iam nox umida caelo
Praecipitat suadentque cadentia sidera somnos.
And now dewy Night falls precipitate from heaven, and the setting stars counsel sleep! Ib. 8
- 27 Equo ne credite, Teucri.
Quidquid id est, timeo Danaos et dona ferentis.
Men of Troy, trust not the horse! Be it what it may, I fear the Danaans, though their hands proffer gifts. Ib. 48

- 1 In utrumque paratus,

Through the friendly silence of the mute moon
Ib 255
- 5 Tempus erat quo prima quies mortalibus aegris
Incipit et dono divum gratissima serpit
It was the hour when the first sleep of suffering mortality begins, and, by the grace of Heaven steals on its sweetest errand of mercy Ib 268
- 6 Quantum mutatus ab illo
Hectore qui redit exuvias indutus Achilli
How was he changed from that Hector, who wended homeward, clad in the spoils of Achilles
Ib 274
- 7 Iam proximus ardet
Ucalegon
Already neighbour Ucalegon burns Ib 311
- 8 Fumus Troes, fuit Ilium et ingens
Gloria Teucrorum
Trojans we are no more, Ilium is no more, and the great glory of the Teucrians is departed!
Ib 325
- 9 Una salus victis nullam sperare salutem
There is but one safety to the vanquished—to hope not safety! Ib 354
- 10 Dis alter visum
Heaven's thought was otherwise Ib 428
- 11 Non tali auxilio nec defensoribus istis
Tempus eget
The hour calls not for such succour, nor such defenders Ib 521
- 12 Sequiturque patrem non passibus aequis
Follows his father with unmatched step Ib 724
- 13 Quid non mortalia pectora cogis
Auri sacra fames!
O cursed lust of gold to what canst thou not compel the heart of man! Ib III 56
- 14 Monstrum horrendum, informe, ingens, cui lumen
ademptum
A monster fearful and hideous, vast and eyeless
Ib 658
- 15 Agnosco veteris vestigia flammae
I feel again a spark of that ancient flame
Ib IV 23
- 16 Virisque adquint eundo
At every step she [Fame] gathers strength Ib 175
- 17 Sese interca .
Temptaturum aditus et quae mollissima fandi
Tempora
Himself meanwhile . . . would assay to find access and watch what hour might be the smoothest for his tale. Ib 291
- 18 Quis fallere possit amantem?
Who shall deceive a lover's thought?
Aeneid, IV. 296
- 19 Nec me meminisse pigebit Elissae
Dum memor ipse mei, dum spiritus hos regit artus Nor ever shall the thought of Elissa be bitter to me while yet I have remembrance of myself and the breath governs these limbs Ib 335
- 20 Varium et mutabile semper
Femina
A fickle thing and changeful is woman always!
Ib 569
- 21 Exoriare aliquis nostris ex ossibus ultor
Arise thou avenger to come, out of my ashes
Ib 625
- 22 Hos successus alit possunt, quia posse videntur
To those success was good, and the semblance of power gave power indeed Ib V 231
- 23 Facilis descensus Averni
Noctes atque dies patet atri ianua Ditis,
Sed revocare gradum superasque evadere ad auras,
Hoc opus, hic labor est
Light is the descent to Avernus! Night and day the portals of gloomy Dis stand wide but to recall thy step and issue to the upper air—there is the toil and there the task! Ib VI 126
- 24 Primo avulso non deficit alter
Aureus, et simili frondescit virga metallo
When the first is rent away a second, golden no less, succeeds, and the bough blossoms with ore
as precious Ib 143
- 25 Procul, o procul este, profani
Hence, O hence, ye that are uninitiated Ib 258
- 26 Nunc animis opus, Aeneas, nunc pectore firmo
Now is the hour, Aeneas, for the dauntless spirit
—now for the stout heart Ib 261
- 27 Vestibulum ante ipsum primis in faucibus Orci
Luctus et ultrices posuere cubilia Curae,
Pallentesque habitant Morbi tristisque Senectus,
Et Metus et malesuada Fames ac turpis Egestas Hard before the portal, in the opening jaws of Hell, Grief and avenging Cares have made their couch, and with them dwell woe, Disease and sorrowful Age, and Fear, and Hunger, temptress to Sin, and loathly Want Ib 273
- 28 Tendebantque manus ripae ulterioris amore
Their hands outstretched in yearning for the farther shore Ib 314
- 29 Inventas aut qui vitam excoluere per artis,
Quique sui memores alios fecere merendo
Or who ennobled life by arts discovered, with all whose service to their kind won them remembrance among men Ib 663
- 30 Spiritus intus alit, totamque infusa per artus
Mens agitat molem et magno se corpore miscet
An indwelling spirit sustains, and a mind fused throughout the limbs sways the whole mass and mingles with the giant frame Ib 726
- 31 Igneus est ollis vigor et caelestis origo
Semminibus
To these seeds a flame like vigour pertains and an origin celestial Ib 730

- 1 Tu regere imperio populos, Romane, memento
(Hae tibi erunt artes), pacisque imponere morem,
Parcere subiectis et debellare superbos.
Roman, be this thy care—these thine arts—to bear dominion over the nations and to impose the law of peace, to spare the humbled and to war down
the proud! Aeneid, vi. 851
- 2 Sunt geminae Somni portae, quarum altera fertur
Cornea, qua veris facilis datur exitus umbris,
Altera candenti perfecta nitens elephanto,
Sed falsa ad caelum mittunt insomnia manes.
There are two gates of Sleep:—of horn, fame tells,
the one, through which the spirits of truth find an easy passage; the other, wrought smooth-gleaming with sheen of ivory, but false the visions that the nether powers speed therefrom to the heaven above. Ib. 893
- 3 Geniumque loci . . .
precatur.
Implored the Genius of the place. Ib. vii. 136
- 4 Flectere si nequeo superos, Acheronta movebo.
And if Heaven be inflexible, Hell shall be unleashed! Ib. 312
- 5 O mihi praeteritos referat si Iuppiter annos.
O, would Jupiter restore me the years that are fled!
Ib. viii. 560
- 6 Quadripedante putrem sonitu quatit ungula campum.
The sound of galloping hooves shook the crumbling plain. Ib. 596
- 7 Me, me, adsum qui feci, in me convertite ferrum.
On me,—here I stand who did the deed,—on me turn your steel. Ib. ix. 427
- 8 Dum domus Aeneae Capitoli immobile saxum
Accolet imperiumque pater Romanus habebit.
So long as the house of Aeneas shall dwell by the Capitol's unmoved rock and the Father of Rome bear sceptre! Ib. 448
- 9 Macte nova virtute, puer, sic itur ad astra.
Good speed to thy youthful valour, child! So shalt thou scale the stars! Ib. 641
- 10 Audentis Fortuna iuvat.
Fortune is ally to the brave. Ib. x. 284
- 11 Experto credite.
Credit one who has proved. Ib. xi. 283
- 12 Audiit et voti Phoebus succedere partem
Mente dedit, partem volucris dispersit in auras.
Phoebus heard, and in thought vouchsafed that half his vow should prosper: half he scattered to the fleet winds. Ib. 794
- 13 Di me terrent et Iuppiter hostis.
The gods dismay me, and Jove my foe! Ib. xii. 895
- 14 Tityre, tu patulae recubans sub tegmine fagi
Silvestrem tenui musam meditaris avena.
Tityrus, thou liest canopied beneath thy spreading beech and wooing the silvan Muse on thy slender
oat. Eclogue, i. 1. Trans. by Jackson
- 15 Formosam resonare doces Amaryllida silvas.
Thou teachest the responsive woods to call Amaryllis fair! Ib. 5
- 16 O Meliboe, deus nobis haec otia fecit.
O Meliboeus, it was a god gave us this peace.
Eclogue, i. 6
- 17 Non equidem invideo, miror magis.
As for me I grudge thee not—rather I marvel!
Ib. 11
- 18 Sic parvis componere magna solebam
Verum haec tantum alias inter caput extulit urbes
Quantum lenta solent inter viburna cupressi.
I only measured great by small but, above all other cities, this so far exalts her head as the cypress above the lissom osiers! Ib. 23
- 19 Et penitus toto divisos orbe Britannos.
Or where the Briton dwells utterly estranged from all the world! Ib. 66
- 20 Formosum pastor Corydon ardebat Alexim.
Shepherd Corydon was all aflame for fair Alexis.
Ib. ii. 1
- 21 O formose puer, nimium ne crede colori!
Sweet boy, trust not over much to thy hue!
Ib. 17
- 22 Quem fugis, a, demens? Habitarunt di quoque silvas.
Ah, madman, whom dost thou flee? Even gods have dwelt in woods. Ib. 60
- 23 Trahit sua quemque voluptas.
Each draws to his best-loved. Ib. 65
- 24 Nunc frondent silvae, nunc formosissimus annus.
Now the woods are green, and the year is loveliest. Ib. iii. 57
- 25 Ab Iove principium musae: Iovis omnia plena.
From Jove my lay begins: Jove filleth all. Ib. 60
- 26 Malo me Galatea petit, lasciva puella,
Et fugit ad salices et se cupit ante videri.
Galatea, wayward girl, pelts me with apples, then runs behind the willows—and hopes I saw her first! Ib. 64
- 27 Latet anguis in herba.
A snake lurks in the grass! Ib. 93
- 28 Non nostrum inter vos tantas componere lites.
Not ours to decide such high dispute! Ib. 108
- 29 Claudite iam rivos, pueri; sat prata biberunt.
Swains, close now the springs. The meadows have drunk enough! Ib. 111
- 30 Sicelides Musae, paulo maiora canamus!
Non omnis arbusta iuvant humilisque myrica.
Si canimus silvas, silvae sint consule dignae.
Ultima Cumaei venit iam carminis aetas;
Magnus ab integro saeculorum nascitur ordo.
Iam redit et virgo, redeunt Saturnia regna
Iam nova progenies caelo demittitur alto.
Sicilian Muses, let us raise a somewhat loftier strain. Not all do orchards and the lowly tamarisk delight. If the woodland be our theme, let our woods be worthy of a consul's ear! The last age, heralded in Cumean song, is come, and the great march of the centuries, begins anew. Now the Virgin returns: now Saturn is king again, and a new and better race descends from on high.
Ib. iv. 1

- 1 Incipe, parve puer, risu cognoscere matrem
Begin, baby boy, to know thy mother with a smile
Eclogue, iv 60
- 2 Incipe, parve puer qui non risere parenti,
Nec deus hunc mensa, dea nec dignata cubili est Begin, baby boy! Him who had never a smile for a parent, no god honours with his board, no goddess with her bed! Ib 62
- 3 Arcades ambo,
Et cantare pares et respondere parati
Both Arcadians, both ready to sing in even contest, both ready to make reply! Ib vii 4
- 4 Saepebus in nostris parvam te roscida mala
(Dux ego vester eram) vidi cum matre legentem
Alter ab undecimo tum me iam acceperat annus,
I am fragilis poteram a terra contingere ramos
Ut vidi, ut peri, ut me malus abstulit error!
Within our orchard's walls I saw thee—for I was there to point the way—a little maid gathering dewy apples with my mother! Eleven years I had numbered and the twelfth already claimed me, from the ground already I could reach the frail boughs Ah, how I saw! How I fell! How that fatal blindness swept me away! Ib viii 37
- 5 Nunc scio quid sit Amor
Now do I know what Love is! Ib 43
- 6 Non omni possumus omnes
All power is not to all Ib 63
- 7 Et me fecere poetam
Pierides, sunt et mihi carmina me quoque dicunt
Vatem pastores, sed non ego credulus illis
Nam neque adhuc Vario videor nec dicere Cinna
Digna sed argutos inter strepere anser olores
Me, too, the Pierian sisters have made a singer, I too, have songs ay, and the shepherds dub me poet, but I trust them not! For as yet, methinks, my strains besit not a Varus nor a Cinna, but,
gooselike, I cackle amid quiring swans!
Ib ix 32
- 8 Omnia vincit Amor et nos cedamus Amori
Love is lord of all yield we, too, to Love!
Ib x 69
- 9 Ite domum saturae, venit Hesperus, ite capellae Get ye home, my full fed goats, get ye home—the l' evening star draws on! Ib 77
- 10 Ultima Thule
Farthest Thule Georgics, i 30 Trans by Jackson
- 11 Labor omnia vincit
Improbis et duns urgens in rebus egestas Never flinching labour proved lord of all, and the stress of need in a life of struggles! Ib 145
- 12 Imponere Pelio Ossam
Scilicet, atque Ossae frondosum involvere Olympum
In south . . . to pile Ossa on Pelion and roll leaf-crowned Olympus on Ossa Ib 281
- 13 Miscueruntque herbas et non innoxia verba
Mingled herbs and charms of bale Ib ii 129
- 14 Salve, magna parens frugum, Saturnia tellus,
Magna vatum.
Hail, Saturn's land, great mother of the harvest, great mother of men! Ib 173
- 15 O fortunatos nimium, sua si bona norint,
Agricolae! Quibus ipsi procul discordibus armis
Fundit humo facilem victum iustissimae tellus
Ah blest beyond all bliss the husbandmen, did they but know their happiness! On whom far from the clash of arms, the most just Earth showers from her bosom a toilsome sustenance
Georgics, ii 438
- 16 Felix qui potuit rerum cognoscere causas
Happy he, who has availed to read the causes of things Ib 490
- 17 Streptitumque Acherontis avari
The roaring of the hungry stream of Death Ib 492
- 18 Fortunatus et ille deos qui novit agrestis
And happy he, who has knowledge of the wood land gods Ib 493
- 19 Temptanda via est, qua me quoque possim
Tollere humo victorque virum volitare per ora
I must assay a path, whereby I may raise me from earth and flit conqueror through the mouths of men! Ib iii 8
- 20 Optima quaeque dies miseris mortalibus aevi
Prima fugit subeunt morbi tristisque senectus
Et labor, et durae rapit inclementia mortis
It is ever the brightest day of life that is first to bid adieu to our hapless mortality disease and gloomy old steal upon us, and anon suffering, and the ruthless tyranny of Death, sweep us away. Ib 66
- 21 Sed fugit interea, fugit inreparabile tempus
Meanwhile, Time is flying—flying, never to return
Ib 284
- 22 Hi motus animorum atque haec certamina tanta
Pulvis exigui iactu compressa quiescent
Yet all this tumult of soul and all this savagery of conflict may be quelled and laid to rest by the scattering of a little dust Ib iv 86
- 23 Agrum facto
Ignavum fucos pecus a praesepebus arcent
They form in array and cast out the drones and their idle bands from the homestead Ib 167
- 24 Si parva licet componere magnis.
If it be meet to measure small by great Ib 176
- 25 At genus immortale manet, multosque per annos
Stat fortuna domus, et avi numerantur avorum
Yet the race abides immortal, lay s to the willing nations, and assaying on earth the path to Heaven! Ib 561
- 26 Victoribus volentis
Per populos dat iura viamque adfectat Olympo Assigning in victorious march, lay s to the willing nations, and assaying on earth the path to Heaven! Ib 561
- 27 Sic vos non vobis mellificatis apes
Sic vos non vobis nudificatis aves
Sic vos non vobis vellera fertis oves
So you bees make your honey, not for yourselves
So you birds make nests, not for yourselves
So you sheep bear fleeces, not for yourselves

- 1 That which her slender waist confin'd
Shall now my joyful temples bind,
No monarch but would give his crown
His arms might do what this has done
It was my heaven's extremest sphere,
The pale which held that lovely deer
My joy, my grief, my hope, my love,
Did all within this circle move
A narrow compass! and yet there
Dwelt all that's good, and all that's fair
Give me but what this rind bound,
Take all the rest the sun goes round On a Girdle

- 10 As no man is born an artist, so no man is born an angler. Ib.
- 11 I shall stay him no longer than to wish him a rainy evening to read this following discourse; and that if he be an honest angler, the east wind may never blow when he goes a-fishing. Ib.
- 12 I am, Sir, a Brother of the Angle. Ib. pt. i, ch. 1
- 13 It [angling] deserves commendations; . . . it is an art, and an art worthy the knowledge and practice of a wise man. Ib.
- 14 Angling is somewhat like poetry, men are to be born so. Ib.
- 15 Sir Henry Wotton . . . was also a most dear lover, and a frequent practiser of the art of angling; of which he would say, 'it was an employment for his idle time, which was then not idly spent . . . a rest to his mind, a cheerer of his spirits, a diverter of sadness, a calmer of unquiet thoughts, a moderator of passions, a procurer of contentedness; and that it begat habits of peace and patience in those that professed and practised it.' Ib.

- 16 I remember that a wise friend of mine did usually say, 'that which is everybody's business is nobody's business.' Compleat Angler, pt. i, ch. 2

- 22 No man can lose what he never had. Ib.
- 23 Thus use your frog. . . . Put your hook, I mean the arming-wire, through his mouth, and out at his gills; and then with a fine needle and silk sew the upper part of his leg, with only one stitch, to the arming-wire of your hook; or tie the frog's leg, above the upper joint, to the armed-wire; and, in so doing, use him as though you loved him. Ib. ch. 8
- 24 This dish of meat is too good for any but anglers, or very honest men. Ib.
- 25 I love any discourse of rivers, and fish and fishing. Ib. ch. 18
- 26 Look to your health; and if you have it, praise God, and value it next to a good conscience; for health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of; a blessing that money cannot buy. Ib. ch. 21
- 27 Let the blessing of St. Peter's Master be . . . upon all that are lovers of virtue; and dare trust in His providence; and be quiet; and go a-Angling. Ib.
- 28 But God, who is able to prevail, wrestled with him, as the Angel did with Jacob, and marked him; marked him for his own. Life of Donne

- 4 'Christ, the Lord, is risen to-day,'
 Sons of men and angels say,
 Raise your joys and triumphs high,
 Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply.
Hymns and Sacred Poems (1739). Christ, the Lord, is Risen To-day
- 5 Jesu, Lover of my soul,
 Let me to Thy Bosom fly,
 While the nearer waters roll,
 While the tempest still is high;
 Hide me, O my Saviour, hide,
 Till the storm of life is past;
 Safe into the haven guide,
 O receive my soul at last.

- 10 Soldiers of Christ, arise,
 And put your armour on.
Ib. (1749), Soldiers of Christ, Arise
- 11 Lift up your heart, lift up your voice;
 Rejoice, again I say, rejoice.
Hymns for Our Lord's Resurrection (1746):
Rejoice, the Lord is King
- 12 Hark! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King:
 Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
 God and sinners reconciled.
Ib. Christmas Hymn: Hark! the Herald Angels Sing. First two lines altered by George Whitefield in 1753 from Wesley's original
 Hark, how all the welkin rings,
 'Glory to the King of kings'.

25 Joy, shipmate, joy!
(Pleas'd to my soul at death I cry,)
Our life is closed, our life begins,
The long, long anchorage we leave,
The ship is clear at last, she leaps!
She swiftly courses from the shore,
Joy, shipmate, joy Joy, Shipmate, Joy
26 Me imperturb, standing at ease in Nature

27 O Captain! my Captain! our fearful trip is done,
The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won,
The port is near, the bells I hear, the people all exulting O Captain! My Captain!
28 The ship is anchor'd safe and sound, its voyage closed and done
I from fearful trip the victor ship comes in with object won,

- Exult O shores, and ring O bells! But I with mournful tread
Walk the deck my Captain lies, Fallen cold and dead.

God?
O farther, farther, farther sail! Ib. 9
- 4 Come my tan-faced children,
Follow well in order, get your weapons ready,
Have you your pistols? have you your sharp-edged axes?
Pioneers! O pioneers! Pioneers! O Pioneers!
- 5 Beautiful that war and all its deeds of carnage must in time be utterly lost,
That the hands of the sisters Death and Night incessantly softly wash again, and ever again, this soil'd world;
For my enemy is dead, a man as divine as myself is dead,
I look where he lies white-faced and still in the coffin
—I draw near,
Bend down and touch lightly with my lips the white face in the coffin. Reconciliation

streets the same as the men,
Where they enter the public assembly and take places
the same as the men;
Where the city of the faithfulest friends stands,
Where the city of the cleanliness of the sexes stands,
Where the city of the healthiest fathers stands,
Where the city of the best-bodied mothers stands,
There the great city stands. Ib. l. 20

- 19 I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journey-
work of the stars,
And the pismire is equally perfect, and a grain of sand, and the egg of the wren,
And the tree toad is a chef-d'oeuvre for the highest,
And the running blackberry would adorn the parlors of heaven. Ib. 31
- 20 I think I could turn and live with animals, they are so placid and self-contain'd,
I stand and look at them long and long.
They do not sweat and whine about their condition,
They do not lie awake in the dark and weep for their sins,
They do not make me sick discussing their duty to God,
Not one is dissatisfied, not one is demented with the
mania of owning things,
Not one kneels to another, nor to his kind that lived
thousands of years ago,
Not one is respectable or unhappy over the whole earth. Ib. 32
- 21 Behold, I do not give lectures or a little charity,
When I give I give myself. Ib. 39
- 22 My rendezvous is appointed, it is certain,
The Lord will be there and wait till I come on perfect
terms,
The great Camerado, the lover true for whom I pine will be there. Ib. 44
- 23 I have said that the soul is not more than the body,
And I have said that the body is not more than the soul,
And nothing, not God, is greater to one than one's self is. Ib. 47
- 24 In the faces of men and women I see God, and in my own face in the glass,
I find letters from God dropt in the street, and every one is sign'd by God's name,
And I leave them where they are, for I know that wheresoe'er I go,
Others will punctually come for ever and ever. Ib.

The coward does it with a kiss,
The brave man with a sword! Ib. vii
- 5 It is sweet to dance to violins
When Love and Life are fair:
To dance to flutes, to dance to lutes
Is delicate and rare:
But it is not sweet with nimble feet
To dance upon the air! Ib. II. ix
- 6 Like two doomed ships that pass in storm
We had crossed each other's way:
But we made no sign, we said no word,
We had no word to say. Ib. xii
- 7 The Governor was strong upon
The Regulations Act:
The Doctor said that Death was but
A scientific fact:
And twice a day the Chaplain called,
And left a little tract. Ib. III. iii
- 8 And once, or twice, to throw the dice
Is a gentlemanly game,
But he does not win who plays with Sin
In the secret House of Shame. Ib. xxiii
- 9 Something was dead in each of us,
And what was dead was Hope. Ib. xxxi
- 10 And the wild regrets, and the bloody sweats,
None knew so well as I:
For he who lives more lives than one
More deaths than one must die. Ib. xxxvii
- 11 I know not whether Laws be right,
Or whether Laws be wrong;
All that we know who lie in gaol
Is that the wall is strong;
And that each day is like a year,
A year whose days are long. Ib. v. i
- 12 How else but through a broken heart
May Lord Christ enter in? Ib. xiv
- 13 Surely there was a time I might have trod
The sunlit heights, and from life's dissonance
Struck one clear chord to reach the ears of God.
Hélas! (Lines prefixed to his Poems, Paris edition, 1903)
- 14 And yet, and yet,
These Christs that die upon the barricades,
God knows it I am with them, in some ways.
Sonnet to Liberty: Not that I Love Thy Children

I had no human fears:
She seemed a thing that could not feel
The touch of earthly years.
No motion has she now, no force;
She neither hears nor sees;
Rolled round in earth's diurnal course,
With rocks, and stones, and trees.
A Slumber did My Spirit Seal
- 7 Action is transitory,—a step, a blow,
The motion of a muscle, this way or that—
'Tis done, and in the after-vacancy
We wonder at ourselves like men betrayed:
Suffering is permanent, obscure and dark,
And shares the nature of infinity.

For, backward, Duddon! as I cast my eyes,
I see what was, and is, and will abide;
Still glides the Stream, and shall for ever glide;
The Form remains, the Function never dies.
The River Duddon, xxxiv. After-Thought
- 27 Enough, if something from our hands have power
To live, and act, and serve the future hour;
And if, as toward the silent tomb we go,
Through love, through hope, and faith's transcendent dower,
We feel that we are greater than we know. Ib.

He sang of love, with quiet blending,
Slow to begin, and never ending,
Of serious faith, and inward glee,
'That was the song — the song for me!

Hang like an interdict upon her hopes. Ib. l. 259
- 3 Unprofitably travelling towards the grave. Ib. l. 267
- 4 Made one long bathing of a summer's day. Ib. l. 290
- 5 Fair seed-time had my soul, and I grew up Fostered alike by beauty and by fear. Ib. l. 301
- 6 When the deed was done
I heard among the solitary hills
Low breathings coming after me, and sounds
Of undistinguishable motion, steps
Almost as silent as the turf they trod. Ib. l. 321
- 7 Though mean
Our object and inglorious, yet the end
Was not ignoble. Ib. l. 328
- 8 With what strange utterance did the loud dry wind
Blow through my ear! the sky seemed not a sky
Of earth—and with what motion moved the clouds!
Ib. l. 337
- 9 Dust as we are, the immortal spirit grows
Like harmony in music; there is a dark
Inscrutable workmanship that reconciles
Discordant elements, makes them cling together
In one society. Ib. l. 340

Embodied in the mystery of words. Ib. l. 595
- 26 Present themselves as objects recognized,
In flashes, and with glory not their own. Ib. l. 604
- 27 Whether we be young or old,
Our destiny, our being's heart and home,
Is with infinitude, and only there;
With hope it is, hope that can never die,
Effort, and expectation, and desire,
And something evermore about to be.

- 38 Prophets of Nature, we to them will speak
A lasting inspiration, sanctified
By reason, blest by faith: what we have loved,
Others will love, and we will teach them how;
Instruct them how the mind of man becomes
A thousand times more beautiful than the earth
On which he dwells, above this frame of things (Which, 'mid all revolution in the hopes
And fears of men, doth still remain unchanged)
In beauty exalted, as it is itself
Of quality and fabric more divine. Ib. l. 444

- 1 A voice so thrilling ne'er was heard
In spring-time from the Cuckoo-bird,
Breaking the silence of the seas
Among the farthest Hebrides. The Solitary Reaper
- 2 Will no one tell me what she sings?—
Perhaps the plaintive numbers flow
For old, unhappy, far-off things,
And battles long ago. Ib.
- 3 Some natural sorrow, loss, or pain
That has been, and may be again. Ib.

What man has made of man? Ib.
- 11 Strange fits of passion I have known.
Strange Fits of Passion
- 12 What fond and wayward thoughts will slide
Into a Lover's head!
'O mercy!' to myself I cried,
'If Lucy should be dead!' Ib.
- 13 Two Voices are there; one is of the sea,
One of the mountains; each a mighty Voice,
In both from age to age thou didst rejoice,
They were thy chosen music, Liberty!
National Independence and Liberty, xii. Thought of a Briton on the Subjugation of Switzerland: Two Voices are There
- 14 Up! up! my friend, and quit your books;
Or surely you'll grow double:
Up! up! my friend, and clear your looks;
Why all this toil and trouble? The Tables Turned
- 15 Books! 'tis a dull and endless strife:
Come, hear the woodland linnet,
How sweet his music! on my life,
There's more of wisdom in it.
And hark! how blithe the throstle sings!
He, too, is no mean preacher:
Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your teacher. Ib.
- 16 Spontaneous wisdom breathed by health,
Truth breathed by cheerfulness.
One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can.
Sweet is the lore which Nature brings;
Our meddling intellect
Misshapes the beauteous forms of things:—
We murder to dissect.
- Enough of science and of art;
Close up these barren leaves;
Come forth, and bring with you a heart
That watches and receives. The Tables Turned

- 21 Then nature said, 'A lovelier flower
On earth was never sown;
This child I to myself will take;
She shall be mine, and I will make A lady of my own.' Three Years She Grew
- 22 The stars of midnight shall be dear
To her; and she shall lean her ear
In many a secret place
Where rivulets dance their wayward round,
And beauty born of murmuring sound
Shall pass into her face. Ib.
- 23 Sensations sweet,
Felt in the blood, and felt along the heart.
*Lines composed a few miles above Tintern Abbey,
I. 27*
- 24 That best portion of a good man's life,
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love. Ib. l. 33
- 25 That blessed mood,
In which the burthen of the mystery,
In which the heavy and the weary weight
Of all this unintelligible world,
Is lightened:—that serene and blessed mood,
In which the affections gently lead us on,—
Until, the breath of this corporeal frame
And even the motion of our human blood
Almost suspended, we are laid asleep
In body, and become a living soul:
While with an eye made quiet by the power
Of harmony, and the deep power of joy,
We see into the life of things. Ib. l. 37
- 26 For nature then
(The coarser pleasures of my boyish days,
And their glad animal movements all gone by)
To me was all in all.—I cannot paint
What then I was. The sounding cataract
Haunted me like a passion: the tall rock,
The mountain, and the deep and gloomy wood,
Their colours and their forms, were then to me
An appetite; a feeling and a love,
That had no need of a remoter charm,
By thought supplied, nor any interest
Unborrowed from the eye. Ib. l. 72

- 1 Thou, while thy babes around thee cling,
Shalt show us how divine a thing
A woman may be made. To a Young Lady
- 2 But an old age, serene and bright,
And lovely as a Lapland night,
Shall lead thee to thy grave. Ib.
- 3 Poetry is the breath and finer spirit of all knowledge;
it is the impassioned expression which is in the countenance of all science. Lyrical Ballads, preface
- 4 Poetry is the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings: it takes its origin from emotion recollected in tranquillity. Ib.
- 5 Every great and original writer, in proportion as he is great and original, must himself create the taste
by which he is to be relished. Letter to Lady Beaumont

- 6 Bring the good old bugle, boys, we'll sing another song;
Sing it with a spirit that will start the world along,
Sing it as we used to sing it—fifty thousand strong,
As we were marching through Georgia. Marching Through Georgia

Death of Sir Albertus Moreton's Wife
- 13 You meaner beauties of the night,
That poorly satisfy our eyes,
More by your number, than your light;
You common people of the skies,
What are you when the moon shall rise?
On His Mistress, the Queen of Bohemia
- 14 At my departure toward Rome . . . I had won confidence enough to beg his advice [Alberto Scipioni's] how I might carry myself securely there without offence of others, or of mine own conscience.

And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made:
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.
And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a-glimmer, and noon a purple
glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.
- I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements gray
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

And Usna's children died.
We and the labouring world are passing by:
Amid men's souls, that waver and give place
Like the pale waters in their wintry race,
Under the passing stars, foam of the sky,
Lives on this lonely face.
Bow down, archangels, in your dim abode;
Before you were, or any hearts to beat,
Weary and kind one linger'd by His seat;

Surely thine hour has come, thy great wind blows,
Far-off, most secret, and inviolate Rose? Ib
- 3 It is love that I am seeking for,
But of a beautiful, unheard-of kind
That is not in the world The Shadowy Waters
- 4 Do you not know
How great a wrong it is to let one's thought Wander a moment when one is in love? Ib
- 5 Bend lower, O king, that I may crown you with it.
O flower of the branch, O bird among the leaves,
O silver fish that my two hands have taken
Out of the running stream, O morning star,
Trembling in the blue heavens like a white fawn
Upon the misty border of the wood,
Bend lower, that I may cover you with my hair,
I or we will gaze upon this world no longer. Ib
- 6 And pluck till time and times are done
The silver apples of the moon
The golden apples of the sun
The Song of Wandering Aengus
- 7 The brawling of a sparrow in the eaves,
The brilliant moon and all the milky sky,
And all that famous harmony of leaves,
Had blotted out man's image and his cry
A girl arose that had red mournful lips
And seemed the greatness of the world in tears,
Doomed like Odysseus and the labouring ships
And proud as Priam murdered with his peers,
Arose, and on the instant clamorous eaves,
A climbing moon upon an empty sky,
And all that lamentation of the leaves,
Could but compose man's image and his cry
The Sorrows of Love
- 8 And the loud chaunting of the unquiet leaves
Are shaken with earth's old and weary cry
The Sorrows of Love (1893 version)
- 9 Come away, O human child!
To the waters and the wild
With a faery, hand in hand,
For the world's more full of weeping than you can understand The Stolen Child
- 10 Nor know that what disturbs our blood
Is but its longing for the tomb The Wheel
- 11 I would that we were, my beloved, white birds on the foam of the sea! The White Birds
- 12 But was there ever god that praised his fleas?
To a Poet, & to you'd I love me praise certain bad
Poets, Imitators of his and mine
- 13 I know what wages beauty gives,
How I and a life her servant lives,
Yet praise the winters gone
There is not a fool can call me friend,
And I may dine at journey's end
With Lauder and with Donne To a Young Beauty
- 14 Know, that I would account you
True brother of a company
That sang to sweeten Ireland's wrong,
Balad and story, rain and song,

- Nor be I any less of them,
Because the red-rose-bordered hem
Of her, whose history began
Before God made the angelic clan,
Trails all about the written page
To Ireland in the Coming Times
- 15 For the elemental creatures go
About my table to and fro Ib
- 16 Ah, faeries, dancing under the moon,
A Druid land, a Druid tune! Ib
- 17 Red Rose, Proud Rose, sad Rose of all my days!
To the Rose upon the Rood of Time
- 18 Eternal beauty wandering on her way. Ib
- 19 All changed, changed utterly
A terrible beauty is born Under Saturn
- 20 Dwell in the house of the Fenians, be they in flames or at least The Wanderings of Ossin, bk. iii
- 21 When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;
How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true,
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face
And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur, a little sadly, how Love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars
When you are Old

CORRIGENDA

- 6:13, 125:15, 250:14 A detailed history of this song, which has appeared in many versions, is given in Percy A. Scholes, God Save the Queen! (1954).
- 7:18 A more precise source is given at 254:2.
- 73:14 For an earlier history of this rhyme see The Oxford Dictionary of Nursery Rhymes (1951).
- 210:5 An earlier source for these words is given at 10:20.
- 277:19 This occurs in Boswell's Life, vol. ii, p. 13. 15 February 1766:
So far is it from being true that men are naturally equal, that no two people can be half an hour together, but one shall acquire an evident superiority over the other.
- 420:24 These lines are quoted by Scott. They form the burden of an old song to which Burns wrote additional verses.

INDEX

NOTE

THE index references show the page number followed by the numerical position of the quotation on the page (e.g. 163:15 = the fifteenth quotation on page 163).

The order of the index both in the keywords and in the entries under the keywords is strictly alphabetical.

To save space the keyword is replaced by its initial letter in the individual entries.

Foreign quotations have been included in the general alphabetical scheme and for greater clarity are printed in italic in this index. A separate Greek index follows the general one.

Irregular spellings (such as occur in Dickens, Artemus Ward, &c.), early English words, and dialect words are indexed under their normal modern equivalents except where there is no exact equivalent. Some words are given in both their original and their normal forms.

The definite and indefinite article have been dropped from the beginnings of most entries, and the alphabetical order is therefore decided by more significant words: thus—under 'Face'—'a garden in her face' and 'the garden of your face' follow each other instead of being separated by over a hundred other 'face' entries.

I persecuted the c of God
make a lure in a country c nearer the C. the further from God
no vacation outside the c not been in a c for many years one Catholic and Apostolic C piece of mere C furniture spin as way to parish c soul of the C.
the came to the village c
so to went to c and the c of c
tho' knoweth of the C too close in c and must unrest at which will be dry c
what is a c
where Christs greeteth his c where he a her know'd to c who is a waste who ceteris C who the C sign

Day (cont.)

life is but a d. 258:10
 life's little d. 322:1
 long d. done 241:23
 long d.'s task is done 425:21 long d. wanes 541:3
 look, the gentle d. 409:19 lord of lyght and lamp of d. 187:5
 maddest merriest d. 536:26 make perpetual d. 330:7
 Man! the pilgrim of a d. 122:37
 many a canty d., John 106:20 memories of the d. 338:3
 misty morwe folwen..mery someres d. 138:32 morning star, d.'s harbinger 343:8
 neither..perfect d. nor night 445:44
 news, the manna of a d. 231:28
 next d., there she lay 139:2
 night is as clear as the d. 400:9
 night of time far surpasseth the d. 87:18
 no d. for me to look upon 484:36
 no knowledge when the d. was done 286:23
 no proper time of d. 253:11 not look the same by d. 88:9 not to me returns d. 346:20
 now's the d. 107:32
 now the d. is over 34:35
 O d. and night 432:28
 o'er night's brim d. boils 94:39
 O frabjous d., in a Sieve 129:39(-130)
 on a stormy d., in a Sieve 311:22 once a d. with his embossed froth 480:32
 one d. in thy courts 397:7
 one d., one cold winter's d. 249:18 one d. telleth another 392:32
 one d.'s truce 102:5
 our triumphant holy d. 8:2, 13:13
 pass our long love's d. 333:8 place to stand and love in for a d. 88:20
 poor man's d. 228:14
 posteriors of this d. 455:27
 promise such a beauteous d. 486:30 rare as a d. in June 320:17 runs through the roughest d. 456:26 sailor, d. is at hand 415:6
 sang it all d. long 81:10 seats of everlasting d. 562:10 see in a summer's d. 466:31 simple worship of a d. 287:18
 since thy d. began 308:31
 sing the glorious d.'s renown 122:3 sister, the whole d. long 128:2
 some d. before I'm old 297:24
 some future d. 147:11
 sorrow enough..to fill our d. 300:22 sorrow of each d.'s growing 335:10 spent but one d..well 291:26 splendid for the d. 336:11 springs like d. 496:23
 stocking all the d. 224:11
 succeeds thy little d. 376:20 such a d. tomorrow as today 485:3
 sufficeth that the d. will end 451:38 sufficient unto the d. 58:15 sunbeam in a winter's d. 195:14 sure you shall outlive this d.? 202:1
 sweet d., so cool 245:13
 tender eye of pitiful d. 459:8
 that d. should be so soon 525:1
 there's night and d., brother 78:24
 this and every d. 291:8
 this d. shall gentle his condition 444:28(-445)
 this d. we must part 166:24
 this good d. new-born 248:7
 this long weary d. have end 509:14
 this new D. is born 125:27
 this petty pace from d. to d. 461:4
 this same d. must end the work 451:37
 those who dwell in realms of D. 74:1
 though the d. be never so long 239:6
 thou usherest in the d. 107:4
 Thou wast up by break of d. 244:14 till perfect D. shall shine 402:10 tomorrow's falsen than the for-mer d. 191:34 to rest when d. is done 84:10

Day (cont.)

underneath D.'s azure eyes 495:1
 until the d. break 52:3
 until the hasting d. has run 246:2 unto my dying d., Sir 7:9
 unto the perfect d. 49:43
 upon a d. he gat him more moneye 137:22
 vulgarize the d. of judgment 260:13
 waking with d. 417:33
 warm precincts of the cheerful d. 230:9
 welcome d. 248:5
 we said nothing, all the d. 184:31
 what a d. may bring forth 50:43
 what glance of d. 551:16
 w'en de great d. comes 238:24 while d. stood..in the sky 237:8 while the d. ran by 244:20 whole long d. 410:2
 wished for the d. 65:29 without all hope of d. 350:22 withstand in the evil d. 68:11 with which thoughts the d. rose 292:21
 woe worth the d. 416:14
 young dawn of our eternal d. 166:5
 year's midnight and..the d.'s 186:2
 Daybreak: some white tremendous d. 84:20
 Day-dreams: like the d. of melan-choly men 193:27
 Day-labour: doth God exact d.? 351:21
 Daylight: all the long and lone d. 495:21 between the dark and the d. 316:3 but the d. sick 465:23
 d.'s past 357:16
 kingdom of d.'s dauphin 255:11 must in death your d. finish? 93:25 see a church by d. 468:10
 we burn d. 465:34, 477:6
 when d. comes 147:8
 Dayrolles: give D. a chair 139:37
 Days: all my d. are trances 380:21
 all our d. are gone 397:16
 all the d. of our life 339:29
 Ancient of D. 55:43, 228:20
 as it was in the d. of old 296:29
 as thy d., so..thy strength 46:33 because the d. are evil 68:4
 born to inglorious d. 146:15 broader lands and better d. 144:2
 but five d. elder than ourselves 86:9
 Chequer-board of Nights and D. 206:28, 29 considered the d. of old 396:32
 d. and moments quickly flying 132:3
 d. dividing lover and lover 521:30(-532)
 d. in goodness spent 119:2
 d. may come, the d. may go 157:1
 d. nor things diurnal 523:24
 d. of danger 416:19
 d. of man..as grass 398:7
 d. of our age 397:16
 d. of our youth..d of our glory 118:32
 d. of the years of my life 45:25
 d. that are no more 538:17
 d. that are over 525:23
 d. that have been 322:7
 d. that have gone by 208:4
 d. when earth was young 326:24
 d. when work was scrappy 142:2
 don't the d. seem lank and long 222:1
 dreams of d. forsaken 523:21 even as our d..do grow 470:31(-471)
 even from my boyish d. 470:2
 fain see good d. 394:1
 friend of my better d. 234:15 friends, kindred, d. 199:12 full of d., riches, and honour 48:34 full of sweet d. and roses 245:13 good King Charles's golden d. 7:9
 good King George's glorious d. 219:7
 his d. and nights to..Addison 278:9
 how many d..the year 446:1
 how many ways and d. 411:10
 I am but two d. old 76:12
 in ancient d. by emperor 288:1
 in d. far-off 540:22 in the brave d. of old 323:21, 324:1
 in the d. ere I was born 77:34

Days (cont.)

in the d. of my youth 507:35 lead on our d. to age 451:35 leads melodious d. 532:24
 lengthen our d. 357:1
 light of other d. 99:1, 357:13
 live laborious d. 342:20
 look'd on better d. 427:19 lose good d. 510:16
 lost d. of my life 411:13
 lost d. of our tropic youth 238:29 loved them in other d. 171:9
 man in his hasty d. 81:9
 multitude of d. 279:7
 my d. and dreams out of mind 525:23
 my d. are in the yellow leaf 118:26
 my d. are swifter than.. 48:52 nor hours, d., months 186:20 not..of darker d. 144:7
 of all the d. that's in the week 125:19 on and off, for d. and d. 128:30
 scape stormy d. 185:23
 seemed..but a few d. 45:6
 she has seen dark d. before 200:3
 shortly see better d. 40:8
 shuts up the story of our d. 405:12
 sweet childish d. 573:11
 that thy d. may be long 390:12
 then..come perfect d. 320:17
 these somewhat troublesome d. 210:12 though fall'n on evil d. 348:23 time and drawing d. out 449:33
 trample on my d. 552:9
 weary of d. and hours 523:18
 we have seen better d. 480:27 which the d. never know 200:14 winding up d. with toil 444:23 wish my d. to be bound 577:25 within a few d. dissent myself 86:3 year whose d. are long 569:11
 Day-star: d. arise in your hearts 70:7
 so sinks the d. 343:3
 Day-time: I cry in the d. 393:1

 Dea: d. nec. dignata cubili est vera incessu patuit d. 553:17
 Deacons: Bishops, Priests, and D. 388:52
 Dead: a great deal to be said for being d. 42:25
 all our best men are d. 493:35
 all the rest are d. 316:2
 antique order of the d. 543:16
 as a d. man out of mind 393:29
 barrows of the happier d. 540:23 be thus when thou art d. 473:11 better be with the d. 459:4
 better than a d. lion 51:19 better to be a fool than..d. 514:37 blend the living with the d. 132:3
 blow out..over the rich D. 83:19 books are not absolutely d. things 352:5
 bury the d. 363:7
 but they are d.; those two are d. 582:13
 but two months d. 430:33(-431)
 character d. at every word 500:36
 come not, when I am d. 528:21
 converse with the mighty d. 546:27 could not wait..he is d. 18:24 curse in a d. man's eye 149:22 cut in half: he's d. 228:9
 dahlias are d. 518:27
 d. and..never called me mother 572:19
 d. and turn'd to clay 437:18
 d. bury their d. 58:35
 d., but in the Elysian fields 181:20
 d. but sceptred sovereigns 118:10
 d.?..d. at last, quite, quite for ever d. 155:21

high mountains are a f. 113:47 hour of thinking, f., loving 573:21
 I feel a f. 407:12
 index of a f. mind 165:15
 lost pulse of f. 15:6
 love's f. is more soft 455:22
 Man of F. 326:25
 no f. of his business 437:9
 one f. too falsely disdained 499:3
 petrifies the f. 105:19 sensible to f. as to sight 457:20 than from any want of f. 519:2
 that Kruschen f. 10:3
 wholly devoid of good f. 312:20
 Feelings: f. by which the heroic kings governed 28:27
 f., wrung with compunction 312:16
 [Furies] f. are strong 182:10 in f., not in figures 20:9
 opinion, .determined by the f. 508:29 reasoned out of the f. of humanity 73:4 see some of my f. 559:35
 spontaneous overflow of powerful f. 583:4

 fellow-citizens: G. reigns 213:7
 first G. dawned on Chaos 491:23 forgotten even by G. 94:22

God (cont.)
 for G.! for the Cause! 323:2
 for G.'s sake hold your tongue 184:11
 Freedom is the cause of G.! 79:11 from everlasting Thou art G. 502:9 from G. sent forth 575:1
 from G., who is our home 576:9
 further from G. 4:23
 gifts of G. are strown 240:18
 glory of G. did lighten it 72:5 glory to G. in the highest 61:19
 G. accept him 537:28
 G. all mercy...a G. unjust 587:10
 G. Almighty's gentlemen 190:26
 G. and sinners reconciled 565:12
 G. and soldiers we alike adore 404:9
 G. and the doctor 372:12
 G. answers sharp and sudden 87:29
 G. appears, and G. is Light 74:1
 G. become her lover 166:9
 G. being with thee 577:1
 G. be in my head 6:10
 G. be thanked who has matched us 84:16
 G. be with you, Balliol men 40:32
 G. be with you till we meet 406:1
 G. bless our Lord the king 250:14
 G. bless the Regent 504:4
 G. by G. goes out 524:22
 G. cannot change the past 3:5
 G. changes, and man 524:1
 G. could have made a better berry 112:21
 G. created the heaven 44:1
 G. disposes 291:20
 G., even our own G...blessing 396:3
 G. first planted a garden 26:19
 G. for Harry! 443:27
 G. for his Richard 475:1
 G. for King Charles 90:16
 G. fulfils himself 531:35
 G. gave the increase 66:22
 G. gives skill 197:1
 G. grant you find one face 293:19
 G. ha' mercy on his soul 436:36
 G. has a few of us 89:11
 G. has not said a word 95:6
 G. has written all the books 112:3
 G. hath given you one face 434:12
 G. hath joined them 388:2
 G. hath made them so 561:24
 G. hath made the pile complete 532:32
 G. hath no better praise 81:9
 G. help the wicked 439:36
 G. Himself is moon and sun 537:27
 G. himself scarce seemed 150:14
 G., if a G. there be 524:26
 G., if there be a G. 8:20
 G. in his holy habitation 396:5
 G. in Three Persons 240:19
 G. into the hands of their deliverer 350:36
 G. is always for the big battalions 557:10
 G. is a Spirit 63:13
 G. is faithful 66:38
 G. is forgotten 372:12
 G. is his own interpreter 161:20
 G. is in heaven 51:6
 G. is in the midst of her 394:28
 G. is love 70:12
 G. is Love, I dare say 112:4
 G. is making the American 587:18
 G. is not a man 46:19
 G. is not mocked 67:47
 G. is our hope and strength 394:27
 G. is...stream of tendency 20:13
 G. is the perfect poet 94:16
 G. is, they are 91:1
 G. is Three, and G. is One 364:5
 G. is thy law, thou mine 347:20
 G. is working His purpose out 3:8
 G. knoweth 67:36
 G. knows, an' 'E won't split 304:53
 G. 'll send the bill to you 319:14
 G. loves an idle rainbow 240:12
 G. Lyæus ever young 38:10
 G...made 'em to match the men 196:16
 G. made him...pass for a man 463:10
 G. made Himself an awful rose 541:10

God (cont.)
 G. made the country 162:38
 G. made them, high or lowly 3:15
 G. made the thunder 325:13
 G. made the wicked Grocer 141:32
 G...make a man miserable 136:5
 G...marked him for his own 559:28
 G. may forgive you 198:7
 G. moves in a mysterious way 161:18
 G. must be glad 94:41
 G. must think it exceedingly odd 305:10
 G. never made his work for man to mend 192:15
 G. now accepteth thy works 51:20

God (cont.)
 had I but serv'd my G 447 1 hand folks over to G's mercy 100 14 happen to be—G? 91 23 have G for his Father 99 31 have G to be his guide 22 11
 he for G only 347 17
 he's G 85 84
 he's the Lord our G 397 23
 he liveth unto G 65 45
 here in the sight of G 391 22 here is G, and there is G 147 4
 here is G's plenty 194 13
 here's G down on us 87 27
 her fathers G 420 5
 her last republic cried to G 142 3
 her seat is the bosom of G 253 36
 he sung of G 503 2
 he trusted in G 303 3
 hey for G, Almighty! 100 23
 higher than G's 96 15 himself from G, not free 100 23
 his Father and his G 230 13
 Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord G Almighty! 240 19
 Holy Lamb of G 75 10 honest G 112 9
 hope for the best and trust in G 504 23
 hope of the City of G 314 13 how can he love G, not seen? 70 15
 how odd of G 202 10
 I am a G, and cannot find it 400 20
 ideas G has of you 551 2
 I embrace the purpose of G 536 25
 if G be for us 65 57
 if G choose five three better 88 24
 if G did not exist 557 7
 if G were stand'g there 213 2
 I find letters from G 507 24
 if it be of G 64 32
 if you want to take in G 310 7
 I'll leap up to my G 433 15
 in apprehension how I like a G 140 32
 I shall now to think it ere is a G 49 6 in my flesh shall I see G 567 24 in the faces I see G 458 26 in the great hand of G 346 25
 invisible except to G 507 35
 I remembered my G 356 14 is, and is not, the voice of G 64 40
 it is the voice of a G 330 2
 I who saw the face of G 350 27
 just are the ways of G 573 10
 just is G, a ways to man 203 25 justify the ways of G 244 4
 let's the image of G 352 6
 kingdom of G is within 62 30 him to G, I'll be up nit 25 26 know his G by night 551 18 knowledge makes a G of me 350 10 know it I am G 394 29
 know what G and man is 510 24 laws of G and man and metre 315 14 laws of G's assembled 416 10 laws—G knows where 405 31
 leave the word of G 116 21 led him to confess a G 64 37
 let G arise 24 18
 let G be true 396 4
 let me G, speak with us 45 53 light but the shadow of G 55 16 like G in pain 215 26
 Lord G, a own hand 142 3
 Lord G of His love 307 8
 Lord G of hosts 300 21
 Lord G of the world 355 15
 'lost in G, in G, and found 100 31
 lost my G, by G, I'll G, and have you! 65 8 know me the G of G must 85 12 make the word of G prevail 10 25 man in the body of G's sweet 102 16 man is G's image 244 4 man's word from G 63 61
 man's word to G, in man 510 40 man's 'st in the same city 391 3 man's are a G's self 311 11 man's to be G's any three 45 5 man's that G's word shall 105 13

 O G, of flesh 183 20
 O G, of Mercy when? 108 22
 O G, Ioh Montreuil 112 17
 O G, our help 562 9
 O Lamb of G, I come 108 20
 O—my—G—keep—me 203 1
 one G created us 50 14
 one G, one law 533 31
 one G only 146 34
 one more insult to G 93 6
 one on G, a de 378 10
 one that would circumvent G 437 11 only G and angels lookers on 24 22
 only G can make a tree 202 13
 O that great Sabbath G 510 11
 others call it G 311 30
 our G, our help 304 9 out of me G, and man 514 1
 owe G a death 442 12
 owe G a death 440 20
 paired with I eternal G 537 23 patient for his honours from G 105 16 patted my G on the head 300 20
 peace of G, 65 26, 267 32
 peace G from whom all blessing issues 202 3
 Prae se G' using Therionite 60 3

 this darling of the G. 333:5 to my own G. I go 300:19 to stature of the g. 336:1
 true g. sigh 88:12
 unseen before by G. 286:10
 voice of all the g. 455:22
 weigh your G. and you 303:25
 whatever g. may be 241:18, 523:23
 what men or g. are these? 287:7 when half-gods go the g. arrive 199:14 whom the g. love 116:10
 wise g. seal our eyes 425:2
 with g. doth diet 341:10 with stupidity the g...struggle 415:23 woman is a dish for the g. 426:8 wondrous the g. 74:8
 ye are G. and...shall die 525:12
 ye shall be as g. 44:20
 you might have seen the g. there 413:1
 you see me here, you g. 452:42
 God's-acre: the burial-ground G. 316:26
 Godward: looking G. 524:2
 Goes: he bows and g. again 516:1
 her colour...g. off at night 500:35 mostly they g. up and down 135:1
 onward it gleaming g. 311:16 regard not how it g. 106:25 sea where it g. 15:6
 ship that g. 173:8
 Sunday that g. on and on 208:10
 Time g., you say? 183:15
 wren g. to't 454:8
 Goest: grave, whither thou g. 51:21
 whithersoever thou g. 46:37
 whither thou g. I will go 47:1
 Goeth: g. on still in his wickedness 306:10
 g. to his long home 51:33
 it g. forth from...heaven 392:32 man g. forth to his work 398:10
 wine...that g. down sweetly 52:20
 Goethe: G.'s sage mind 16:23
 G.'s wide and luminous view 17:5
 open thy G. 127:19
 Going: all things g. as they came 411:30 endure their g. hence 454:18
 g. down that long long trail 293:11

Going (cont.)

g. on before 35:1
 g. one knows not where 334:14
 g. out with the tide 174:39
 g. to and fro in the earth 48:38
 g. to run all night 210:13
 he shall direct his g. 397:10
 not worth g. to see 274:15
 Oh where are you g.? 409:16 perceive how the world is really g. 19:27 preserve thy g. out 399:29
 safe shall be my g. 84:19
 softly she was g. up 149:23 their g. from us...utter destruction 56:23 to keep us g. 335:10 upon the order of your g. 459:23
 wages of g. on 541:17
 worth while g. through so much 178:42
 Goings: ordered my g. 394:12
 Gold: apples of g. 50:34, 524:19
 as its purest g. 382:13
 as misers do in g. 548:13
 barbaric pearl and g. 345:14 better to me than g. 571:9
 beyond all their panaceas, potable g. 109:22
 born of beaten g. 190:12
 brow-bound with...g. 529:9
 builded over with pillars of g. 75:4
 building roofs of g. 443:10
 but litel g. in cofre 137:6
 cheaply...for thrice their weight in g. 203:39
 city was pure g. 71:47 dearer...than thousands of g. 399:17 fetch the age of g. 343:18 flowers...streaked with g. 497:22 flow with tears of g. 77:2
 fly to India for g. 329:23 for a' the g. in Christentie 31:7
 for cloth of g. you cease to care 218:29 from the red g. keep thy finger 419:16
 gild refined g. 115:42, 447:39 gleaming in purple and g. 118:37
 g. air and the silver fade 411:4
 g. and bramble-dew 516:6
 g., and frankincense 57:24
 g.? a transient...trouble 228:18
 g...at the root of wisdom 111:39
 g. is for the mistress 295:14
 g. that I never see 263:13
 g. to airy thinness beat 186:25
 hair and harpstring of g. 525:5 her clothing is of wrought g. 394:25 her feathers like g. 396:7
 her locks were yellow as g. 149:13 her stomacher was g. 298:29
 his fetters, though of g. 27:44
 his g. complexion dimm'd 486:18
 his hands are as g. rings 52:14
 I do not sell for g. 131:24
 I fling them back their g. 365:20 in their g. coats spots 466:34 is she not pure g.? 96:28
 jewel of g. in a swine's snout 49:58 learning a mere hoard of g. 442:21
 lilac, g. and green 80:14
 Love...differs from g. and clay 493:11 love is more than g. 321:12
 made of silver, or of g. 218:29 male ringlets or feminine g. 523:4 man's the g. 105:30
 mast was o' the beaten g. 31:8
 more than g. was in a ring 140:26 more to be desired...than g. 392:33
 my bow of burning g. 75:16
 my heart in a case o' g. 32:19
 my heart of g. 6:18
 narrowing lust of g. 533:20
 never lack'd g. 470:29
 no g., no Holy Ghost 111:39
 nor all that glisters, g. 230:22 not covetous for g. 444:27
 not g., not blood 493:27
 now winks the g. fin 539:2
 O delv'd g. 88:26
 of two g. ingots 330:13
 ornaments of g. 47:30
 our g. was chang'd into lede 583:26
 patines of bright g. 465:18

 g. ye are and bad 530:21 greatest g. that mortals know 1:26 great, just, g. God 96:6
 hand... hath made you g. 462:12 hanging is too g. for him 99:16 happiness makes them g. 309:17 heaviness foreruns the g. event 442:17
 he was very g. to me 173:28
 he who would do g. 75:7
 his chief g. and market 436:15
 his g. and his evil 107:36 hold fast that which is g. 68:38 hold thou the g. 532:30
 holy, divine, g., amiable 349:17
 how g. and joyful a thing 400:3
 how g. he is 319:7
 how g. is man's life 96:21
 how near to g. is what is fair 281:1
 I am a g. man too 217:28
 if g., why do I yield? 456:24
 if one g. deed... I did 480:36 ill wind turns none to g. 549:24 in a g. old age 44:48, 48:34
 it cannot come to g. 431:1
 I will be g. 552:19
 I will seek to do thee g. 399:31
 Jimmy was g. and true 217:28
 John was a very g. man 217:28 kind of g. deed to say well 446:21 kings seek their subjects' g. 246:9 knowing g. and evil 44:20 knowledge of g. and evil 44:13 knowledge of g. and evil as two twins 352:8
 know what were g. to do 463:7
 leave his country as g. 147:19 left our country for our country's g. 36:20 leisure to be g. 230:17
 licence to be g. 148:11 likes that little g. 112:10
 love of g. and ill 285:9
 loves what he is g. at 422:32
 luxury... doing g. 165:12, 213:20, 226:5
 means intensely, and means g. 91:33 means of g. to all 412:14
 meek lover of the g. 199:6
 mild, obedient, g. as He 4:2
 much too g. for earth 280:10
 my religion is to do g. 373:4
 National Debt is a... G. Thing 422:15 neither g. for man nor beast 11:21 never done no g. to me 296:22
 never g. to bring bad news 424:15 never... impulsive to g. 329:8 night is g. 493:22
 noblest motive is the public g. 511:20
 no g. but yours 82:1
 none but... g. men... give g. things 340:34 none... love freedom... but g. men 353:2 none that doeth g. 392:22
 nor g. compensate bad 96:14 not a terror to g. works 66:10

Good (cont.)

not g. that the man should be alone 44:14
 nothing... but means our g. 244:23
 nothing either g. or bad 433:11
 nothing g... in the country 239:25
 nothing is fair or g. alone 199:9
 nothing left... but to be g. 514:31
 nothing so g. for a Pobble's toes 312:6
 not local prejudices... but the general g. 100:14
 obscurely g. 1:21
 of moral evil and of g. 581:16
 O g. old man! 426:38
 only noble to be g. 533:38
 only truly great who are truly g. 135:23 other fell into g. ground 59:23
 our acts... or g. or ill 37:23
 our doubts... make us lose the g. 461:21 out of g... find... evil 344:17 overcome evil with g. 66:7
 Parent of G. 348:4
 partial evil, universal g. 383:21
 pelting each other for the public g. 159:8
 policy of the g. neighbour 408:21
 quiet, wise, and g. 498:15

lies . . . though I. as air 101:10 till the hours of I. return 17:1 to bring the false to I. 81:13 to implore your I. 169:13 trifles I. as air 471:42
 true I. 62:62
 truth will come to I. 463:32
 turn'd thy darkness into I. 161:10
 unbarred the gates of I. 348:19
 unclouded blaze of living I. 115:8
 unveil'd her peerless I. 347:19
 upon them hath the I. shined 53:14 very pretty small-sword I. 500:27 walk while ye have the I. 63:46
 we all know what I. is 273:13
 welcom the lord of I. 187:5
 we see such glimmerings of I. 102:38
 what is that thing called I. 144:21
 what I. through yonder window 477:13
 when I see you in the I. 304:7
 where I. and shade repose 577:10 where the I. is as darkness 48:55 whose I. doth trample 552:0
 windows that exclude the I. 230:18 with a I. behind her 222:20 with golden and silver I. 584:17

in Thy I. look down 512:15
invincible I. of reading 216:18
I shall be past making I. 401:25 is not I. a Hercules? 455:22
I think my I. as rare 488:14
it is the I. of the people 101:13
it strikes where it doth I. 473:11
I will I. Thee 244:25
I would I. infinitely 94:15
joy of I. is too short 328:9
keep a corner in the thing I I. 471:40 kill thee, and I. thee after 473:11 kind souls.. I. you 374:22
King of L. my Shepherd is 29:12
kiss your I. again 296:16

Love (cont.)

1, thou art absolute 166 11
 1, thou bane 239 9
 1, thy country, wish it well 153 22
 1, thy neighbour as thyself 46 9, 39 37
 1, thyself last 449 21
 1 to all men 295 8
 1 to hatred turn'd 235 20
 1 took up the glass of Time 534 16
 1, tunes the shepherd a reed 417 16
 1 virtue, she alone is free 347 5
 1 wakes men 374 23
 1, walks the pleasant mazes 158 1
 1 warps the mund a little 105 16
 1 was dead 523 13
 1 was not a little thing 140 26
 1, watching Madness 114 10
 1 what I hate 95 20
 1 when it ceases to be a secret 40 1
 1 which us doth bind 332 6
 1 which was more than I 236 8
 1, whose month is ever May 455 17
 1 will change 84 2
 1 will creep in service 484 30
 1 will hardly seem worth 534 24
 1, will still be lord of all 417 23
 1, will venture in 107 20
 1 without dissimulation 66 1
 1, without his wings 117 43
 1 without the help of anything 75 1
 1, with unconfined wings 310 4
 1 yet was I 165 21
 1, your neighbour's wife 325 18
 1, your wives 65 33
 1, you ten years before the Flood 333 8 made the vessel in pure L. 207 15

lovely, I Rhine 121 9
I and a fearful thing 115 37
I and pleasant in their lives 47 39
I Thais by his side 200 34
I Thais sits beside thee 101 9
I that are not beloved 375 11
I wee thing 104 27
I woman in a rural spot 266 4
more I and more temperate 456 18 more I ere his race be run 215 8 more I than the monarch of the sky 330 6 mourn for that most I thing 554 15
O I O most charming pug 208 29
once he made me I 402 10
one I hand she stretched 122 27
that extremely I thing 218 11
too I to be grey 15 10 virtue in her shape how I 347 31 whatsoever things are I 68 27
